DEDICATION

TO those members of the University of Toronto — Staff, Graduates and Undergraduates — who now are, or in the future shall be serving in His Majesty's forces of sea, land and air, this the forty-third volume of Torontonensis is dedicated. May the laurel wreath which is embodied in the design of this book symbolize the victory which will be theirs in the struggle for that peace which is the tranquillity of order.

"For such a time as this"

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To the Members of the Graduating Classes:

IN one of the great crises in the world's history, you will receive your university degree. Perhaps before this book is printed, the Fuehrer of the powers of darkness may have launched his most desperate attack upon our Motherland, the outpost of humane and Christian civilization in Europe; or he may have thought it wiser to consolidate his evil gains in a further enslavement of Europe; in any case, you know that you leave your Alma Mater at an hour when your country and the continued freedom of the world are struggling to survive. Our primary war aim is to win the war and rescue the enslaved.

Through these nerve-racking days you have carried on your studies and now receive the outward sign of your own achievement. The University wishes you well, wherever you go. The best contribution she can make to the nation is to send forth a goodly company of men and women, such as you are, whose minds have been disciplined, whose powers of discernment have been sharpened, whose judgment has been trained, whose sympathies and outlook have been widened, whose characters have been enriched, and whose capacity of practical service has been vastly developed. The culture you have gained you hold as a trust for the benefit of the community. I believe you have been wise in finishing your courses. You will be all the better fitted, whatever call may come to you, for service in the Active Forces, in industry, or in the necessary daily occupations of life.

The inevitable background of all your study and your recreation has been the War. The men have cheerfully taken their military training and the women have formed their own organizations to fit them for possible calls in connection with the war effort or in maintaining the ordinary business of the country. Public lectures have set before you the fundamental issues of the War. In Cromwell's phrase, we ought to "know why we are in this business". Many university departments are carrying on special researches on war problems and giving special instruction to fit men for posts which require advanced knowledge and high skill. Hundreds have already enlisted in every branch of the service. There has been abroad a spirit of seriousness and growing determination.

And yet there are some things which we need to realize more keenly.

(1) The "Battle of Britain" is really the Battle of the World. We are not fighting for territory or wealth but for our own continued existence as a free people; we are not fighting for ourselves alone, but for nothing less than the defence of the principles of truth, justice and liberty upon which the noblest way of life is based and which in turn are ultimately dependent upon religious belief and practice. We are striving to maintain the fundamental human decencies.

(2) The material power of the enemy is still appallingly great. We must act on the belief that nothing less than entire unity of material effort and devotion of our resources to the limit will suffice to meet the demands of the situation in the present scenes of action. We expect our Governments to give a lead in economy and in the curtailment of unnecessary or postponable expenditures.

(3) We are fighting for democracy, not as a form of government, but as something based on the supreme value of the individual in the sight of God. The late Lord Lothian said shortly before his death: "The root disease of modern society is its dethronement of religion as the governing motive in society." If worthy character fails, democracy will be in danger. We must purify the democracy for which we fight; and we must prevent the civilization we are defending from rotting within, from being "de-civilized" by materialism, selfishness, injustice and softness. Remember Emerson's warning: "The end of the human race will be that it will eventually die of civilization."

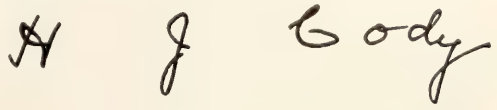
(4) We must maintain our morale, our spirit, our faith, our confidence. At long last wars are won both by the fighting forces and by the resolution of the whole people. We pay tribute with all our hearts to the courage, cheerfulness and endurance of the civilian population of Great Britain. They are suffering vicariously for us and for the world. We read the daily record of their persistence through suffering, with agony, amazement and hope.

Your country needs you, each one, the utmost you can be, or give, or do. For such a time as this you have enjoyed your opportunities and received your training. "To whom much is given, of him shall much be required." Wherever you find yourself, do your utmost in the task immediately before you, whether it seems small or great. Take an active part in the public life of your community. Think, speak, serve, vote. Give leadership to worthy causes. Keep high the standards of conduct, thinking and character.

Always hold in your heart remembrance and affection for your University. You owe her much; she trusts you much; she expects much.

This may be a time of almost breaking strain; but, by the blessing of God, there will come the day of victory, peace, and new opportunity. I leave with you Kipling's words from his "Hymn of Breaking Strain":

"Oh, veiled and secret Power
Whose paths we seek in vain,
Be with us in our hour
Of overthrow and pain;
That we—by which sure token
We know Thy ways are true—
In spite of being broken,
Because of being broken,
May rise and build anew,
Stand up and build anew!"



President.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

THIS, then, was University College. Rambling and massive, grey and almost foreboding, it seemed frightening at first with its dark halls and its many towers reared against the sky. This, vastly different from our expectations, was to be our home for those four precious years, so long awaited. Although the polio epidemic postponed social life for awhile, youth soon asserted itself, and lured by the slogan "Come single, go home double!" we flocked to the first year party. We were so shy at first, but once we had braved the first "tag", the evening sped by in a whirl of new faces and soon-forgotten names. Athletics drew us, too, although not wholly of our own will, when one frosty morning, under compulsion, we plodded the three weary miles of the harrier to bring U.C. a few points. There were many things to do as the year flew along, but we soon learned to spread our varied activities harmoniously over the meagre twenty-four hours daily allotted to us and settled down to the terrifying grind of exams.

HAVING survived the first skirmish with the faculty, we returned as haughty sophomores. Filled with a feeling of warmth and mellowed by greetings from familiar voices, no longer were we terrified as we basked on the sunny steps, exchanging summer reminiscences. We were confident that this was to be a wonderful year, and we took great delight in impressing the frosh with our importance. This was the year we mustered up enough courage to try out for the Follies, and even though we only appeared on the stage once, we felt somehow that we were an important part of the show. The rehearsals grew tiring and the gags became steadily worse, but when the crowd roared with laughter on the big night and we experienced for the first time the glamour of footlights and grease-paint, we felt fully repaid. However, all too soon the realization was forced upon us that second year was a tough academic hurdle. The midnight oil was burned night after night in a last-month spurt, and we were really proud of our results that summer. We'd passed the half-way mark!

JUNIOR year — the best of them all! War was loose in the world but it was still very remote to us, and life went on fairly normally here on the campus. We had found our niche, and things ran smoothly, pleasantly, buoyantly. We began to exert some influence in campus affairs, finally succeeding in winning an election to a year office. Even though we had vowed to waste no time this year, we found that residence has sessions, usually starting with religion or politics and ending on the opposite sex, occupied more and more of our leisure hours as we experienced the true comradeship of college days. This was the year we revolutionized the Arts Ball, holding it before Christmas and restoring it to its former position of prominence in the campus social sphere. This too was the year when, from a myriad of beautiful co-eds, one shone out with special brilliance—and lo, as the freshness of spring turned the campus from white to green, we knew we were in love.

WHEN we came back last fall we were seniors and we could hardly believe it, for we did not feel as old or as wise or as competent as seniors had always seemed to be. We achieved athletic distinction this year when the rugby team defeated S.P.S. for the first time in history, and we finished high in the race for intramural sport supremacy. This was the busiest year of all, and in many ways the saddest. Added to the sadness of leaving and the usual problems of what to do after graduation, were the abnormal worries and responsibilities arising from the increasing gravity of the war. Many hours a week we devoted to military training, and one by one our friends slipped away to join the fighting ranks. To look ahead seemed almost futile, for only confusion lay there. It seemed scarcely possible when we sat down at the Graduation Banquet that our college days were practically over. But no matter what the future may hold in store, nothing will ever erase for us the memory and the meaning of those four years at U.C.

to

by

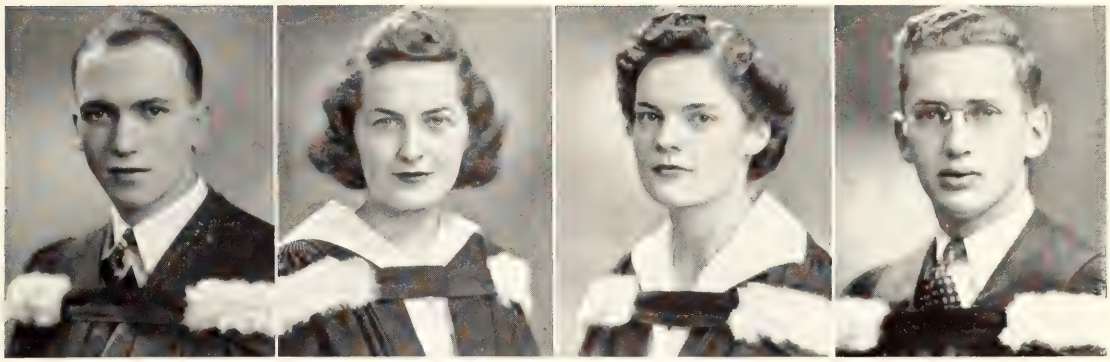
Principal Malcolm W. Wallace,
B.A., Ph.D.

WE ARE living in a time of supreme national danger. During these weeks of crisis, the most acute in our long national history, we are conscious of not knowing what the morrow may bring forth. Our daily diet is of horrors. Our newspapers speak of little but of battle by sea, land and air, of the vast armies of men organized to kill their fellows, of the multitudes of refugees who know not whither to turn, and of those who fill the prisons and internment camps of their enemies. Many highly civilized peoples have been reduced to virtual slavery and writhe beneath the callous cruelty of their oppressors.

It is strange to reflect that in such a world men are not altogether unhappy, and that we are discovering happiness in places where we had not been accustomed to look for it. Our sense of national unity has probably never been so intense, and we are daily made aware that our most fundamental riches are those which we hold in common with our fellows and not individually. Daily we are astonished by the capacity and readiness of humble men and women to contribute to the common well-being by deeds of heroism and self-sacrifice. And there is a peculiar satisfaction in identifying ourselves with this new world where none is for a party and all are for the state.

Englishmen will know one another much better before this war is over. The evacuation of great numbers of city-dwellers, and the sharing of air-raid shelters by rich and poor have been highly educative experiences. Rich and poor have shared a common danger in which they have been intimately acquainted with death. Sharing in common has become the rule of life—sharing in danger, heroism, food and shelter and medical care, and many men are realizing as they had never before realized how vital are the things which unite them, how superficial those that divide them. They have learned to take great pleasure and pride in their fellow-men, and in those co-operative undertakings which seek the well-being of all. Soldiers have always known the satisfaction of this highest kind of patriotic service, and today multitudes of civilians are in the front line of the battle. As one listens to the Radio News-reel—to a weaver, an admiral, a fisherman, a servant-girl, a cabinet minister, the brother of the Queen, one is conscious chiefly of the common characteristics of the great national family.

Only the incurably sceptical can believe that these things will pass away with the coming of peace. This crisis in human history may well mark an epoch in the story of our social and economic progress. We shall not enter the Millennium immediately, but many pre-war injustices and inequalities will seem no longer tolerable. And in the process we may discover new and satisfying kinds of human activity.



UNIVERSITY COLLEGE 4T1 PERMANENT EXECUTIVE

Message from the Class 4T1

AT times we might have thought of starting such a message as this with something like "Now at long last", but this year has made us feel that it should begin "All too soon comes the prospect of graduation." For the thought of admitto te ad gradum comes to us with a distinct shock, and we realize that the comfortable, happy, sheltered environment of the University will soon be a memory.

The tense, nerve-wracking days of May probably will not be missed. But what of the Rotunda, the Follies, Lit elections, walking across the green campus between lectures on an April day? We now remember the warnings by others that college days are the happiest in one's life. Too true, and now we are to leave them behind.

In compensation, it is with some warm feeling of achievement that we look back on our efforts as a class to further the life of the University through the activities of University College. We like to think that we helped in fostering a wholesome college spirit, for many members of the year took an exceptionally intense interest in this. In sports our interfaculty record is on the way back to the first place of which Professor MacAndrew likes to talk. The Arts Ball has been resuscitated to become one of the most popular formals on the campus and to approach the unassailable reputation of the Follies. New U.C. songs, more joint meetings, and a greatly improved Undergraduate.

Of all the years in which to graduate, this perhaps is one of the most crucial. This term more than last has seen military training for the boys and war work for the girls. It is a grim world into which this class enters, but let it serve only as a greater challenge to us as graduates to make the best use of all that university life has given to us.

English Language and Literature.
From England to Toronto at
The age of five she came To register at Branksome Hall
And Varsity her name;
The French Club and the Players' Guild
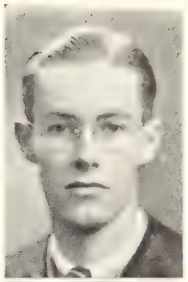
Were hobbies she enjoyed,
And now she's going to teach
—that is,
Unless she's unemployed.

John Spencer Carlisle
Toronto, Ont.
Modern History.



Frederic James Carson
St. Albans, Vt.
Pass Arts. Is astounded and happy to find himself at last in the graduating year though it will be hard in Social Science that lies ahead to find the friends and fun of undergraduate days. But it is great work, and here's to it!

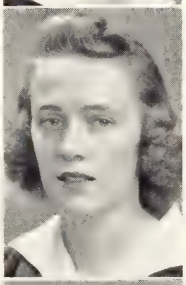
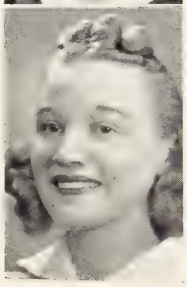
Helen M. Chandler
Port Arthur, Ont.
Pass Arts. Lived in Falconer and Mulock houses. Activities included skating, riding, golf, and relaxing at summer resorts. Was interested in badminton and Red Cross work. Future plans include postgraduate work in textiles in U.S.A., if possible. If not, O.C.E.



Olga Chumak
Toronto, Ont.
Pass Arts. Came to Varsity via Jarvis C.I. Was on the Varsity Staff III; volunteer councillor at University Settlement II, III. Was a member of Ukranian Students' Club I, III. Part of the summer was spent as a volunteer camp councillor, and the remainder in such lucrative employment as typing notes for students or waiting on tables. Still torn between the choice of Osgoode Hall or Social Science, but at present the former has more favourable odds.



Rhoda Kathleen Clark (AXΩ)
Niagara Falls, N.Y.
Pass Arts. Came to Varsity from Etobicoke H.S., Toronto. Lived in Mulock House II, III, as family moved to "States". Figure skating only athletic interest. Was a member of Fine Art Club III. Will venture forth into business world on graduation. Does anyone need a good secretary?

Gerald Hall Clawson (ΦΔΘ)

VICTORIA COLLEGE

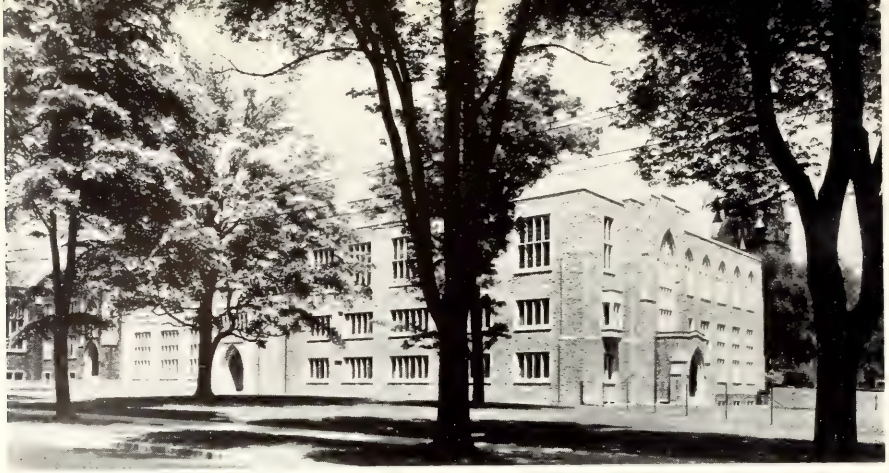
1936 VICTORIA UNIVERSITY 1941

On the Old Ontario Strand

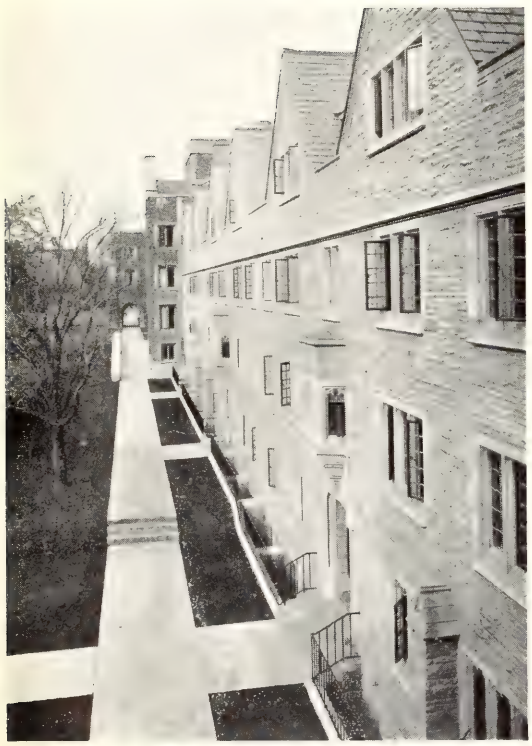
FOR the first fifty-six years of its history Victoria University was located in Cobourg. The Upper Canada Academy was opened in 1836 and on October 12th of the same year the Royal Charter was granted by King William IV. In 1841 the Charter was extended to include degree-conferring powers and the name was changed to Victoria College. The first degree in Arts in Ontario was conferred by Victoria College in 1845 on Oliver Springer. A Faculty of Medicine was added in 1854; a Faculty of Law in 1860, and a Faculty of Theology in 1871. A department of Science was organized, and in 1877 Faraday Hall was opened and had the unique distinction of being the first building in the province erected and devoted exclusively to scientific work. In 1884 the name was changed to Victoria University. Egerton Ryerson was responsible for securing the Royal Charter and he was the first Principal of Victoria College in 1841. In 1850 Samuel S. Nelles took charge of the College. Under his wise and far-sighted guidance the work of Victoria grew and expanded as additional faculties were added.

Federation with the University of Toronto

THE federation of Victoria University with the University of Toronto became an accomplished fact in 1892. Victoria was a pioneer in setting up the system of education by which the provincial university and three independent denominational universities and colleges have in the course of time through their federation agreements established the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto as it exists today. Victoria University retained the right to grant 1892 Victoria's degree - conferring degrees only in Divinity and since powers in Medicine, Law and Science have remained in abeyance. From 1892 to 1928 the organization of Victoria University consisted of two faculties, Arts and Divinity. The task of translating the federation agreement into practice was accomplished by Chancellor Nathanael Burwash, who had succeeded Dr. Nelles in 1887 and held office until 1913. During the difficult war years and during the period of expansion in 1920-30 Chancellor R. P. Bowles guided the destinies of the institution.



The Residences of Victoria University



ALTHOUGH residence accommodation was provided in Cobourg, for the first eleven years of its existence in Toronto, Victoria had no residences for students. With the opening of Annesley Hall Women's Residence in 1903 there was a marked increase in the number of women students. Burwash Hall and the Victoria College Men's Residences consisting of four houses known as North, Middle, Gate and South, the gift of Mr. Chester D. Massey, were completed in 1913. During the Great War the Men's Residences were used almost exclusively for military purposes. In 1926 a splendid addition was made to the buildings of Victoria University with the opening of the Wymilwood Women Students' Union and Residence, the gift of Mrs. E. R. Wood and Lady Flavelle. The new Emmanuel College Men's Residences consisting of five separate houses known as Ryerson, Nelles, Caven, Gandier and Bowles, all constructed on the stair-case plan, were opened in 1931. At the present time Victoria has residence accommodation for 170 women students and for a total of 225 men students in Arts and Divinity. There are dining rooms for women students in Annesley Hall and Wymilwood, and all men living in the Residences of Victoria University take their meals in Burwash Hall.

Victoria College and Emmanuel College

THE consummation of Church Union in 1925 affected both the work and organization of Victoria University. There was a large increase in the number of students enrolled in Victoria College. The amendment of the Charter by the Victoria University Act of 1928 provided for the organization of Victoria University with two colleges, Victoria College in Arts and Emmanuel College in Divinity. In 1930 Dr. E. W. Wallace was installed as Chancellor and President of Victoria University, succeeding Dr. R. P. Bowles. The new academic building and residence of Emmanuel College were opened in 1931. The one hundredth anniversary of the granting of the Royal Charter was celebrated in October, 1936, when the Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir, graciously accepted an honorary degree from Victoria University. During the session 1940-41 there were 844 students enrolled in Victoria College and 113 students in Emmanuel College. In February, 1941, Principal W. T. Brown of Victoria College was appointed Chancellor and President of Victoria University to succeed Dr. Wallace who had resigned because of ill health.

THE GRADUATING CLASS

by

Principal Walter T. Brown,
M.A., Ph.D.

AS THE class of 1941 bids farewell to college halls, the war is already in its second year, and we are becoming increasingly conscious that the battle line runs straight through our universities. Not only is the war calling our students and staff into the Navy, the Army and the Air Force, but it is striking at the very heart of university life. All educational institutions are agencies by which the achievements of the race are handed on from one generation to the next. Through the struggles of our fathers for almost two thousand years there has been built up in the western world a classical-Christian civilization, and one of the tasks of our universities is to hand on that inheritance, enriched by our own contribution, to the generations of students that come to our halls. Moreover, all universities are institutions of peace, agencies of international co-operation, seeking no patents on their ideas but finding their glory in their ability to discover and proclaim truth and to challenge men to its pursuit. The war is a denial of every one of these aims. Our enemies would destroy the Christian civilization; they would break down international co-operation; and, instead of recognizing truth as a reality which should discipline their lives, they would seek to make it a national affair and to rule the world by force.

Of necessity we must give of our best to our country in this momentous struggle. Conscious of the significance of our inheritance we must steel our souls to accept willingly burdens and sacrifices, and never give up the struggle until victory is won. But, even in the midst of the destruction of war, we must never forget that the function of the university is a constructive one, and we should be the first in peace to take up the task of rebuilding our Christian civilization.

The class of 1941 will find in the world today a challenge for their best efforts, a challenge that shall be with them as long as life shall last.

TRINITY COLLEGE

to

THE GRADUATING CLASS

by

The Reverend F. H. Cosgrave,

M.A., B.D., D.C.L., LL.D.

TO THE members of the Graduating Class of Trinity College I send the greetings and good wishes of my colleagues and myself. Some of them are already actively engaged in the Forces of the King and others are preparing to take their place beside them. It is difficult for us to express in any adequate way our gratitude to those who are fighting for liberty and justice against an adversary who threatens to destroy everything that we value. It is our faith and hope that their efforts will be entirely successful and that the conspiracy to deprive us of our freedom so hardly won will be defeated.

We would like to send a message of encouragement to all who go forth from our halls. May the darkness which now prevails quickly pass away and a day dawn in which they may all find satisfaction in the task of building a better and more stable civilization and one in which the oppressions and cruelties of the present will have no place. Educated men and women will have a special responsibility to bring about this result. If they stand aside in the period of reconstruction, we shall be doomed to fresh disappointments and the world will continue to be torn by conflicts in many spheres of human activity. Our future will depend upon the manner in which they will respond to the call of mankind for help in this crisis of its history. We are confident that our graduates will not fail and in that faith we send them forth.

by

The Reverend T. P. McLaughlin,
B.A., J.C.D. (Stras.)

THIS year you are going out into a world in which has been enkindled a conflagration of such gigantic dimensions that it surpasses the greatest upheavals in the history of the world. Let the following suggestions guide you through these tempestuous days.

Raise a united voice in protest against violence and injustice, against the violation of truth and law, especially against disobedience to the law of God and usurpation of the Divine prerogatives. Join to this a real charity toward those who are the victims of injustice.

Show an unwavering respect and obedience to the legitimately constituted authorities of your country, bearing in mind that all such authority is from above. Give proof of this loyalty by promptness in following the directions of your leaders, cheerful acceptance of sacrifices and readiness to face difficulties without flinching.

Have firm confidence in the future, in the ultimate triumph of the cause of right and justice and in the Divine Providence which rules the destinies of men. Work for the re-establishment of an order based on justice and charity and subjected to the noble reign of law and reason. Aim at a restoration of the morally, juridically imprescriptible rights of human liberty and dignity. Recalling finally that human efforts are of no avail without Divine assistance, beseech the Lord with fervent prayers to renew to the world His sublime Easter greeting "pax vobis".

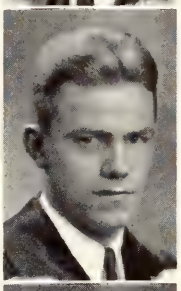
These are the principal points of the program to which you will remain faithful until the resplendent dawn of peace returns to this war-torn world. It is our sincere hope that you have received the necessary religious, moral and intellectual training to equip you for your task of showing humanity the way along which it is to advance in the establishment of a new order which will be solid, true and just.

John Leo Barret
Minetto, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Slipped into Varsity after a "make 'em or break 'em" year at Western. Starred in Rugby and Basketball I, II; assumed managerial duties in Basketball III. Was Master of More House I-III. Detests "quail": Future plans are to find the "Lost Horizon" or to enter Georgetown Medical School.

Barry Patrick Bruder
Toronto, Ont.

Latin (French or Greek). Though resolved not to let studies interfere with his education, Barry has become a profound classical scholar. His pastimes include everything from ping-pong to polo. A connoisseur of the best in music, he will some day rival Oscar Levant.



John Earnest Burgener
Toronto, Ont.

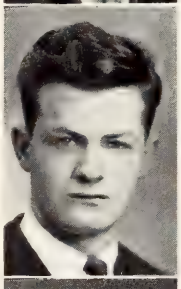
Physics and Chemistry. Came to Varsity from St. Michael's College School. Was a member of the Maths. and Physics Society I-IV. A lover of physics and a skilful "lab" man, he hopes to do research after graduation.

James Francis Cairnes
Dixie, Ont.

Philosophy (English or History). Came to St. Michael's from Port Credit High School solely for the love of knowledge. Four years of writing essays failed to daunt his enthusiasm. Is en route to O.C.E.

James G. Callan
Rochester, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Crossed the lake from Rochester, N.Y. and Aquinas Institute to change his alma mater to the University of Toronto. Held a college scholarship for his three years at Varsity. Was Manager of Freshman Basketball Team; Athletic Director I; President of 4T1 Class II; Tennis Representative I, II, Club President III. Plans to be "le professeur".



William Paul Cassidy
Toronto, Ont.

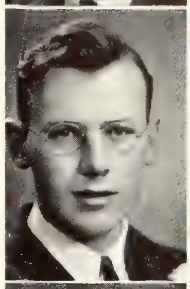
Philosophy (English or History). Emerged from Parkdale C.I. Played snooker at Newman Club for four years and lacrosse for St. Mike's for three. Ambition: to kiss the Blarney Stone or a colleen that has. Motto: "See Erin and die."

Robert Bell Clune
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Matriculating from St. Michael's in '38, he embarked on the Pass Course in Arts, residing at St. Augustine's Seminary. Interested in all branches of sport and frequently in philosophy, he tries to disprove the poet who wrote that "the loud laugh bespeaks the vacant mind".

Basil F. Courtemanche
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. A La Salle graduate who came to Varsity, St. Michael's and St. Augustine's Seminary. Displays marked attention in the lecture hall to last year's problems, forgets his alacrity at handball when playing chess and has his future tucked up his sleeve.

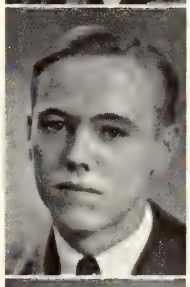


Edward Francis Crawford, Jr.
Oswego, N.Y.

Philosophy. Graduated from O.H.S. Survived I Western and Pass transferring to II Philosophy. Was on Dance Committee III, IV; President of S.A.C. and Debates Commissioner IV. Won the Kernahan Prize III. Intends to apply metaphysical principles to the intricacies of plumbing, heating, and air conditioning.

John Joseph Crowley
Toronto, Ont.

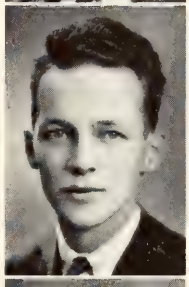
Pass Arts. Jack is an ardent devotee of the great American game. A master of the finesse he wields a mean bridge hand. Has spent his Varsity years in the realms of Chemistry, Mathematics and Philosophy. Intends to spend his future years teaching and coaching football teams.



John Dawson
Hamilton, Ont.

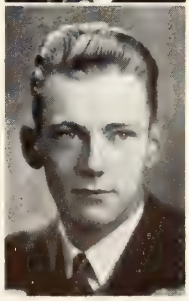
Pass Arts. Entered Varsity from Waterdown H.S. Took part in St. Michael's Science Club I; Dramatics II; Newman Club II, III.

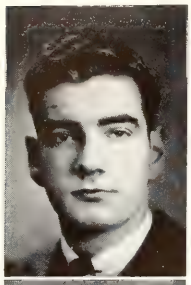
Here leaves our halls for faery lands forlorn
A youth to mad frivolity unknown.
Fair Science frowns at "Jack's" judicious scorn,
Yet Metallurgy marks him for her own.



George Parnell Denison
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Escaped from St. Michael's High School and wandered into Pass Arts. Was a member of The Dance Committee II, III; Newman Club; Oratorical Club; Class President II. Spends summers getting in and out of "bunkers". Future—(?).





Edward F. Donohoe, Jr.
Kitchener, Ont.

Philosophy (English or History). Came from Kitchener C.I. Hindered Volleyball Team II. Was a member of St. Mike's S.A.C. III. Enjoyed the benefits of Newman Club. Chief delight was browsing about and enjoying the panorama of student life. Looking forward to social science or journalism.

Donald McRae Dunbar Calgary, Alta.

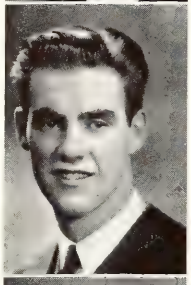
Pass Arts. Central High to Varsity via 2000 mile train ride. "High scored" victorious Varsity "pucksters" to "no defeats" season in their peregrinations from California to New York. Coached St. Mike's "Buzzers" II, "puck-slung" with Marlboro Seniors III.

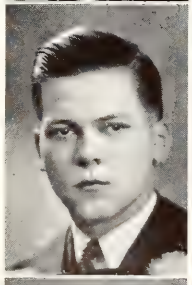
John Joseph Waters Dunn
Troy, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Prepared for Varsity at La Salle Institute, Troy, N.Y. Was President of Western I; member of St. Michael's Dramatic Society, and Science Club. Played on football, swimming and water polo teams. Played Varsity Basketball. Intends to add an M.D.



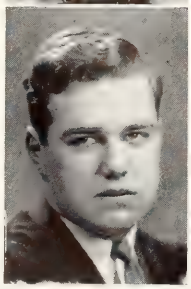
John Patrick Dunn
Almonte, Ont.

Philosophy (English or History). Wandering to Varsity via Almonte H.S. "Jasper" still wanders nonchalantly between lectures and library. Was a member of Hart House Library Committee III; B. and O. Executive III-IV; Sodality Prefect IV. Played Water Polo II. Future — "per ardua ad astra".



William Lake Fisher
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Arrived at Varsity unexhausted after the rigorous routine of De La Salle. After winters of diligent pursuit of knowledge, and summers passed as an embryonic laboratory worker in a rubber company, now envisions medicine or possibly an affiliation with the U.S. Naval Aviation Corps.



John William Flaherty
Hamilton, Ont.

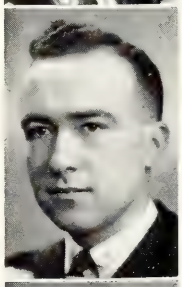
Pass Arts. Came from Cathedral H.S. to Varsity. Was an "occasional" student here. Asserted his athletic prowess as grid star on St. Mike's Mulockers I-III; Varsity Basketball I, and expressed his executive acumen as Athletic Representative I-III. A steel (munitions) worker in summers, is now pedagogically inclined.

Thomas Francis Fortune
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. St. Mike's has seen much of this Nova Scotian-bred Torontonian, having spent his High School and University years on campus. A potent factor in the accumulating of the Woolworth "millions" during summers. O.C.E. next!

Paul John J. Funk
Binghamton, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Entered Varsity via Binghamton Central H.S. Was in the Oratorical Club I-III, Secretary II; St. Thomas More Club I-III, Secretary II. Participated mildly in athletics, and enthusiastically in dramatics. Ambition: to write a play and direct it. Future: law at Fordham, and then practice in a corporation.

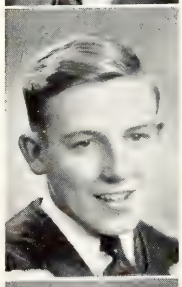


John William Griffin
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Was in C.O.T.C. I-III; Corporal II; Company Sergeant-Major, then 2/Lt. III; on The Varsity Staff II, III; Hart House Library Committee III; a member of Newman Club II, III; Proofs Editor of Torontonensis III. Likes books, history, railroads and good conversation.

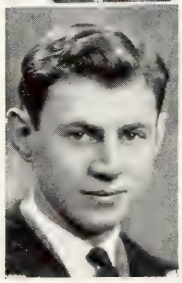
James Michael Havey
Arnprior, Ont.

General Course. A scholarship student from Arnprior H.S., Jim found university life more enjoyable after escaping Honour Arts for the more congenial General Course. An eminent authority on movies and stack-browsing in the library, he intends to make pedagogy his life's work.



William Hawkshaw
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Born in Toronto but has eyes on the Orient. St. Michael's tried its best to matriculate and graduate him. Is going to St. Augustine's and Scarboro Foreign Mission Society. Watch for headlines from China after 1945.

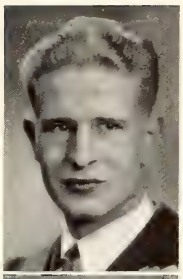


Edward M. Heintz
Utica, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Came to Toronto from Utica Free Academy to take over managerial duties of St. Michael's Volleyball II, Baseball II, Rugby III. Was a member of Science Club I-III; St. Michael's Riders Club I-III; President I. Likes horses and people likewise inclined. Spends summers as boy's camp councillor. Leans towards dentistry as future.

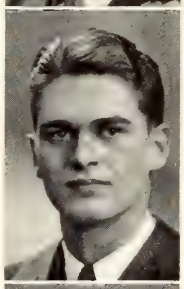
Francis August Hochstein
Pincher Creek, Alta.

Chemistry. Came to Varsity from the Rockies via Campion College, Regina. Was a member of Chemical Club II-IV; Honour Science Club II-IV. Spent summers on the range. Obtained St. Michael's College Scholarship in Chemistry II, III. Future is unmeditated.



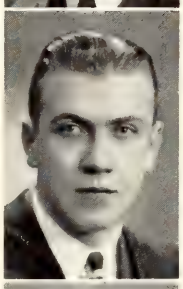
Adelore Louis Houde
Port Colborne, Ont.

Mathematics and Physics (Div's III and IV). A son of Sault Ste. Marie, who has survived in M. and P. Bilingual "Ad" has a wide range of interests from music down to tonsorial technique. Summer will find him on Lake Simcoe, the coming years in a Basilian School.



Charles Carroll Kieffer
Utica, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Left Monseigneur Doody H.S. for "breather" at Varsity. Disported in Hart House natatorium with St. Mike's Swimming and Water Polo Teams I-III, being Coach III. Was President of 4T1 Class I, and Torontonensis Representative III. "Salon Orchestre" I-III taught him to blow his own horn. Likes law for lucrative living.



Armand J. D. Lamberti
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Matriculated from Humberside C.I. Boxed for two years. Spent the summers working his way thro' college as a clerk, labourer and softball umpire. Was with the "Y" in the winter as a boy's supervisor. Hobbies include books and photography. Ambition is to become a doctor.

Paul Edmund Lavery
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. Continued in Arts after matriculating from St. Michael's College School. Placed emphasis on the sciences. Played Interfaculty Hockey I-III, Lacrosse III, and everything else on the side. Likes good dance bands and a quiet summer at Sturgeon Lake. Future?—hopeful.

George Ablan Leon Welland, Ont.

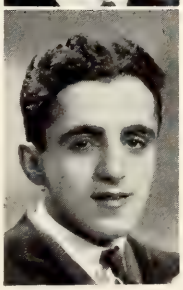
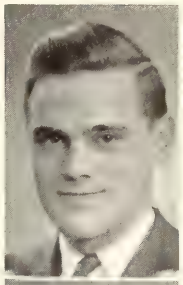
Pass Arts. Matriculated from Welland H. and V.S. Was President of the St. Thomas More Club I-III, and active member of the Catholic Action Club. Played Interfaculty Volleyball II, III, Basketball II. Spends summers clerking in his dad's store.



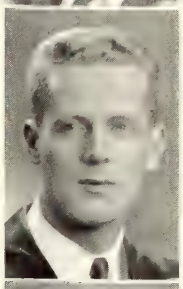
Thomas Joseph McCann
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. St. Michael's had him even in collegiate days and is now graduating him through St. Augustine's Seminary. Philosophy suits his temperament and for their sake, we hope he meets similarly-minded people in the future.



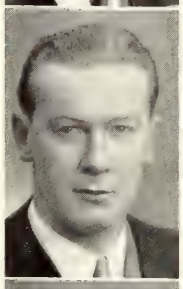
Thomas Charles McDermott
Rochester, N.Y.

Philosophy. Came from Rochester via Western to Varsity. Spent four years torn between dramatics and philosophy. Spare time interests included Catholic Action Club I-IV, President IV; Secretary S.A.C. III; Chairman, College Ball IV. Future (?)—Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies.



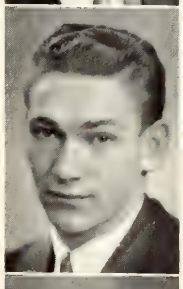
William J. T. McGuire
Toronto, Ont.

General Arts. Came to Varsity from St. Michael's College. Was a member of Dance Committee III; Newman Club III, IV; Oratorical Club III, President IV; C.O.T.C. III. Has a potentially rich outlook of politics as a climax to a legal career.



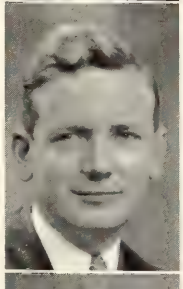
Edward James Mahoney
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. "Ted" attended De La Salle "Oaklands" and St. Michael's College where he completed his Pass Arts at St. Augustine's Seminary. Enters whole-heartedly into any endeavour. His future should be marked with success — unless somebody trips him.



Albert St. Roch Mallon
Toronto, Ont.

Fine Art. Interfaculty Baseball I, Newman Club and C.O.T.C. I-IV and Torontonensis II-IV were the chief extra-curricular activities. Was a member of Hart House Art Committee III, IV; Treasurer of Newman Club III; Fraternity Editor of Torontonensis II, Associate Editor III and Editor-in-Chief IV. Sailing, sketching and music are the chief interests.

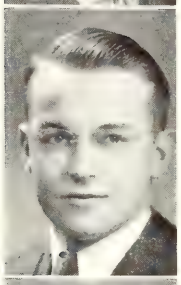


John Michael Matiera
Toronto, Ont.

Pass Arts. De La Salle and St. Michael's H.S. prepared him for Pass Arts at St. Michael's through St. Augustine's Seminary. Catholic Youth Organization saw him as Sports Director and a member of the Retreat Executive. The future holds much success in dealing with others.

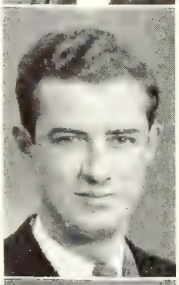
Francis Joseph Matthews
Niagara Falls, Ont.

Pass Arts. From Niagara Falls "Fran" brought to Varsity an easy going outlook, quite a name in athletics, and an ingratiating grin. Was pride and joy of Intermediate Basketball I, II, Saint Michael's Senior Basketball III. Divides his summers between playing baseball and putting the Queen Elizabeth Way in good shape. Next stop—Osgoode.



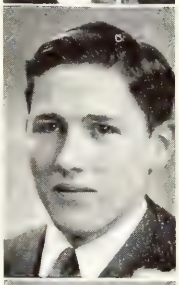
Lewis Richard Meisenzahl
Rochester, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Came to Varsity from the Aquinas Institute and Western. Was a member of the Hart House Glee Club I; St. Thomas More Club I, III, Vice-President and Secretary I; Dramatic Society III; St. Michael's Choir and Glee Club I, III. Played Interfaculty Baseball and Volleyball I, II. Plans a future in industry, and an M.A.



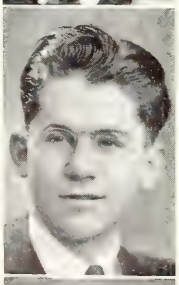
Charles Francis Miskell
Auburn, N.Y.

Pass Arts. From Holy Family H.S., enflamed by the symbolic torch of learning, he entered Varsity on "wings of song", and leaves after a banner three years. Quietly busied himself about the campus in Science Club I, Senate Club III, Dignitary of Dining Hall I-III.



Oliver Plunkett Moloney
Scarboro, Ont.

Pass Arts. Matriculated from St. Michael's and continued there to obtain his degree while residing at St. Augustine's Seminary. Takes as much delight in exhuming the classics as he does in making a new carbureter.

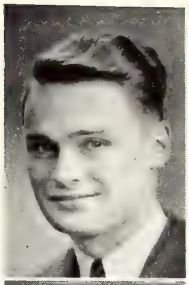


Laurence Patrick Moran
Syracuse, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Entered Pass Arts from Western, matriculating from Holy Rosary High School. Played St. Mike's Rugby II, III, Basketball I-III. Was in St. Mike's Dramatic Club III. Is troubled by weak ambition to support powerful ambitions.

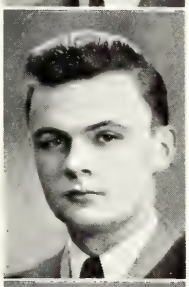
Francis Kenny Moylan
Seaforth, Ont.

Pass Arts. A baby's cry was heard in 1915; raucous noises disturbed Seaforth C.I. before 1933; a Chancellor's voice is heard in 1941 and mistakes in Mandarin will begin after 1945. Future will be sunny — and that goes for St. Michael's College, St. Augustine's Seminary and Scarboro Foreign Mission Society.



Eugene Francis Murphy
Rochester, N.Y.

Latin (French or Greek). Arriving at Toronto "Gene" decided to concentrate more on the pursuit of the sheepskin and less on the pigskin. Hopes to pass on to others the fun he finds in the classics and work upon the plan that pleased his boyish thought.



Thomas Francis Murphy
Rochester, N.Y.

Pass Arts. Favouring the education of the whole man, Gene's kid brother Tom has taken the occasional fling at several things: journalism, debates, politics—even studies. Despite his interest in politics, views the fourth estate as his chosen profession.

Lawrence F. O'Brien
Ottawa, Ont.

Pass Arts. Assaying in gold mine lured him far North in summers, while "Mulockers" I, II, St. Mike's Hockey II, III returned him to Varsity each winter where he gave his all as Vice-President of St. Michael's S.A.C., and President of Graduating Year III. Now—engineering?

The Rev. Ramsay Armitage,
M.A., D.D.

YOU begin your ministry in a world gravely threatened by tyranny, with material forces claiming the first place. You will answer this challenge by an adventurous faith and a rigorous discipline in life, for spiritual values are primary and where men are faithful these first things of God shall prevail.

It has recently been written:

> "As between the nations of Western Europe a soldier of one nation is the equivalent of a soldier of another nation with equivalent training. The equation is, One Thousand men is equal to One Thousand men."

The story of "Garibaldi and The Thousand" would challenge the obvious inference, so too, that ancient tale when the great embattled host of Midian melted away before less than a third of a Thousand Men. We shall not minimize the place and import of the material but the things of the mind and of the spirit are weightier.

Two forces this day are striving for the mastery. One has chosen for its emblem a twisted cross, the crooked cross of a blind obedience, confident of inevitable victory by sheer weight of machines and battalions. One finds ones true symbol in the Cross of Christ with its first emphasis on spiritual values and with its gift of liberty and life.

London Calling to the Overseas Dominions bravely said, in the face of destructive invasion: "Perhaps it is the spirit of the men rather than the number of the machines which will be the deciding factor." This is our conviction. With the word "perhaps" blacked out this is our faith, for we are called to seek first the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness.

The Rev. Principal Thomas Eakin,
M.A., Ph.D., D.D.

IN THESE crucial days in which we live when events hitherto unbelievable are of daily occurrence, and when the world faces an uncertain future there are two words which we are continually hearing; the one is DEMOCRACY and the other is RECONSTRUCTION. We should have a clear idea of what we mean by these terms. Their dictionary definition is quite simple; but there are depths in both concepts to which, it is safe to say, we have paid but slight attention. We speak of democracy as the rule of the people, whether that rule be by the people directly, or indirectly through chosen representatives, and there is supposed to inhere in the idea of democracy certain qualities such as freedom to think as we wish, to act as we wish (within certain obvious limits), and to speak as we like. Manifestly the nature of the rule of the people will be determined by the kind of people who rule and our cherished ideas of freedom by the consideration of freedom from certain things as well as by freedom to certain things. We envisage also a future in which the social order will be different from the present. Economists are busy with their prognostications and their programs; but the economist has not the last word to say. He can only provide the mechanics of a social order, we must look somewhere else for the dynamics, because a social order just means the art of living together and such an art involves principles. It is therefore imperative that we do not lose sight of moral values, and so the economist must listen to the moralist. But above all else society the world over must have a supreme loyalty, and to have this we must have religion, and to have religion we must introduce God under some name or other. There are all kinds of minor loyalties, and we see the chaos, even bestiality which can result from them. It is the privilege and duty of the churches, and yours as leaders of thought, to stress these moral values and this supreme loyalty if we are to have the semblance of decent living or even the suggestion of an adequate nexus to make man civilized and tolerable. Behind all business life, all social relations, all national movements, all international contracts lie these spiritual values, and so you can go out to your task in the large place or the small with the consciousness that your contribution to the well-being of your fellows is the greatest that can be made.

The Rev. Principal R. Davidson,
M.A., Ph.D., D.D.

THE Christian has two pictures before him every day of his life. When he is aware of the tensions and antipathies and miseries about him he sees a Cross set in the midst. That Cross is the focal point of man's conflict and defeat; he sees all sin and sorrow gathered up there. But as he looks, the picture is replaced by another; and he sees a living Christ, victor over sin and death, Master and Lord of life, making glad with his gifts of faith and hope and love the face of the whole world.

That is our Gospel—the good news we bear to stricken men—of a God who has revealed Himself in Christ Jesus, revealed a concern for us His children that will not draw back from that awful Friday, revealed a purpose so strong as to make that Easter Day a perpetual festival, the festival par excellence of the whole of redeemed humanity. The Church has always been, and will continue to be, the Community of the Resurrection.

Three years of study and play together, of living and praying together, have knit you and your professors in an intimate friendship, a friendship of confidence and high hope. We are sorry to see you go from us. But we look for the day of rejoicing when you have proved yourselves true preachers of the Word, true priests of the temple, true shepherds of the flock.

Professor C. A. Ashley, B.Com., C.A.

WHILE the war continues and for a short time afterwards most of you will be occupied on some form of work of national importance; we all hope that this work will be quickly completed. The period of adjustment after the war will bring new work of national importance and will require vision and judgment. After the last war an attempt was made to return to "normal" conditions, and control was largely in the hands of pusillanimous or selfish old men. We must not repeat this mistake; you must see that control is in the hands of courageous young men who will seek for something higher than the apparent safety of the world as it used to be; the world described by Punch in a recent poem:

> "Remembering peace as it was, hot and restive with hate, fear and money."

Already in England, in spite of necessary preoccupation with the present, the past has been buried with the approval of Church and State and with hardly a word of regret, except from the last stronghold of vested interests. We must, however, guard against those who pay lip service to our ideals but do their best to thwart them whenever they clash with their own narrow interests. Canada has shown astonishing military virtues but, in the past two generations, has not been conspicuous for her civic virtues. You have the training and ability to help to remedy this, if you have the will. The good wishes of the department go with you in war and in peace.

Donald Wood Campbell
Toronto, Ont.

University College. Left Riverdale C.I. in 1936 to work in an insurance company; couldn't endure hard work so came to Varsity in 1937. Was a member of U.C. Lacrosse Team II-IV; Hart House Glee Club II, III. Spent summers getting used to hard work. Hopes to be his own boss some day.

Dean C. H. Mitchell,
C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., C.E., LL.D., D.Eng.

I CONGRATULATE you upon graduating from the University in this historic year. While this may appear to be a strange view, you all know very well what is meant. I am sure you are all eager to get out to take your places in the great Empire war struggle.

Never before has any war demanded engineers as does this one. We remember that the Great War of 1914-18 was called an engineers' war because there was so much engineering in it compared with former ones. This world war of 1939—?, a "total war", is so much more mechanized, is so much more scientific, is so much more diverse in character and so much more demanding in its totality, that engineers and engineer-trained men are both the foundations and the superstructures of our Armed Forces on the Sea, on the Land, and in the Air.

You are all about to be drawn into this great Empire effort and you will gladly and eagerly go to take your places. With pride you will read the Dedication of this Volume of Torontonensis:—to You who are about to Serve! There is a place for all of you somewhere, somehow—indeed, there are places for four times your number and that is a reason why you must work and strive all the harder because each of you may be called upon at times to do two men's work.

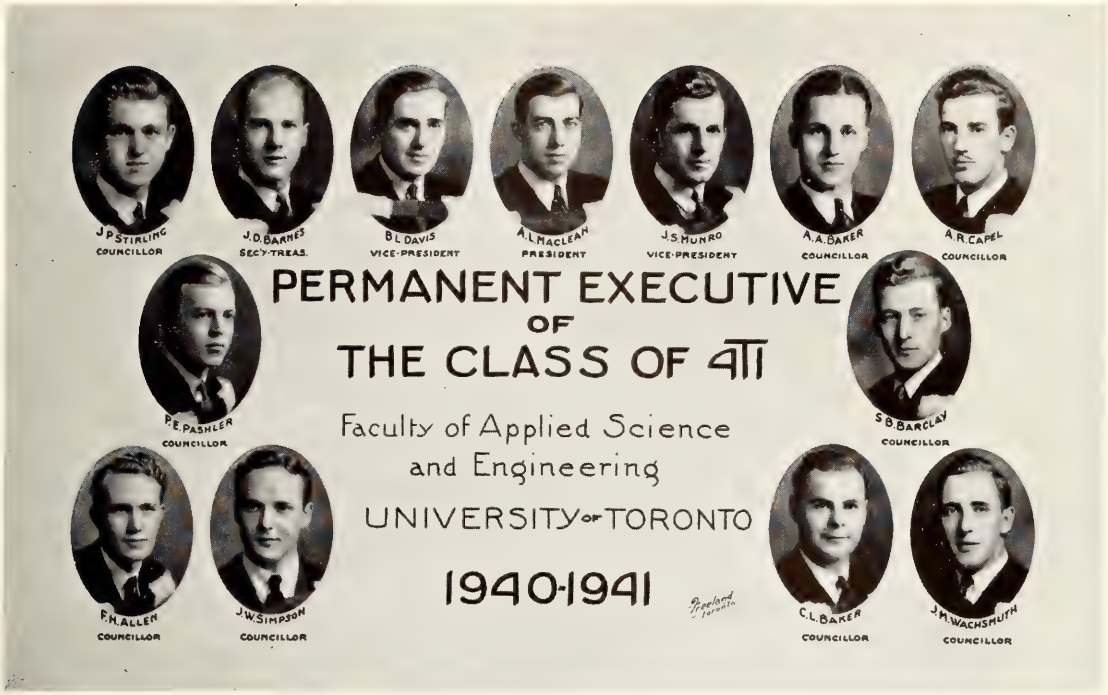
I ask you to remember the war poster which has been up on the walls of our Faculty buildings this past few months. If it means any men in particular, it means engineers and you may be proud that it means You:—

IT ALL DEPENDS ON ME!
If we each and all of us think this, and each and all of us do our utmost, our very utmost, on whatever work we are on, and do it with determination and cheerfulness, then
WE SHALL WIN THIS WAR

We of the Faculty Staff know the University can depend on you, the Class of 1941, to make your utmost effort whether it be in the front lines overseas or in the great war industries here at home.

When you go out from here and are on your own, keep in mind the old proverb of which I lately told you, but this time make it positive, so that it reads:—"Who Can, Will; Who Will, Can; Who Knows, Does; Who Does, Knows; And thus the World Goes Well!"

With best wishes for success and for your Service for Canada and the Empire.



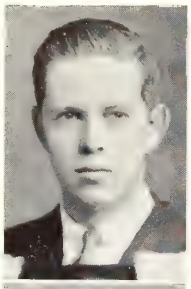
Permanent Executive 4T1

WITH the close of the shortened Spring Term, we, the members of the Class of 4T1, find that what have been the most eventful four years of our lives have ended. This thought comes as a shock to most of us who cannot quite grasp the idea that our schooldays are over. Many friendships have started and flourished during this period by reason of working together, living together, playing on the same teams, and enjoying the same social activities.

The years that we have spent at School have been filled with incidents never to be forgotten, and it is the intention of the Executive to keep in touch with all members and to afford a means whereby the members may keep in touch with each other. The name, address, position, and state of health, etc., of each member will be kept on file with a view to mutual co-operation and understanding.

The Executive will also contact members frequently through the University of Toronto Monthly, and through School publications.

We would like, at this time, to urge every member to do his part in cementing and strengthening the friendships fostered during undergraduate days. May good fortune and happiness attend you all throughout the coming years.



Donald Sutherland Allan (ZΨ)
Toronto, Ont.

Mechanical. An Oakwood C.I. graduate who likes golf, tennis and the Palais Royal stomp. Played Varsity Junior and Intermediate Hockey I, II; Interfaculty Hockey III, and Interfaculty Rugby II and III. He worked during vacations but got in a bit of sailing at the R.C.Y.C. Will probably be off to fight the Hun.

THE GRADUATING CLASS

by

Dean W. E. Gallie,
M.D., F.R.C.S. (Eng.), F.R.C.S. (C.)

AS THE Winter of 1941 gives place to Spring it becomes increasingly evident that the part that Canada will play in this new war will be a great one. This means that as Navy, Army and Air Force grow there will be an ever-increasing need for medical officers. It becomes the duty of us all, therefore, to prepare ourselves by every means in our power to render service to our country of which we may be proud.

The ideal medical officer is one who is young enough to face the exigencies of war and yet is sufficiently trained to give first class medical care to his patients. This means the young graduate who has had an internship or a few years' experience in practice. The time, of course, may come when it will be necessary to fill the vacancies in the Army Medical Corps with officers who have not had internships or other practical experience, and it may, indeed, be necessary for the Faculty to make changes in the curriculum which will hurry the graduation of junior classes. That time has not yet come, however, and at the present moment the call is only for doctors of experience. For the immediate future, therefore, it is the clear duty of each member of the graduating year to devote himself in his internship to acquiring the training that will make him most useful to his country. In this way, when the call comes, he will be ready.

To those of this and other years who serve their country in time of war, let me wish good luck and the happiness and rich memories that come from work well done.

THE GRADUATING CLASS

by

Dean Arnold D. Mason,
D.D.S.

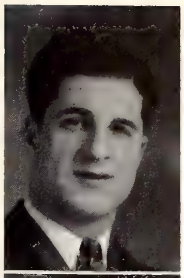
WHAT a splendid country to live for—this Canada of ours. Extensive in its open spaces, with scenery of unsurpassed grandeur, rich in its natural resources, it should be full of opportunities for aggressive young people. Today the safety of this heritage is threatened. Canadians are anxious to do their part to preserve the ideals common to all the people of the British Empire—of fair play and co-operation, of equal chances for all to live their lives in happiness and to the fullness of the best individual development, for freedom of expression and for religious tolerance.

The present graduating class is leaving the University facing the most stupendous world problem which could be encountered. We are proud of the response of the youth of this University to the call to service of our country. In the Faculty of Dentistry students have prepared themselves diligently to ably undertake the duties Canada has awaiting them. Many of this graduating class will be ready to respond to the call of the Canadian Army Dental Corps immediately on graduation.

Such adequate dental service is being provided for the military forces of Canada, and so many dentists are thereby being removed from private practice, that the civilian population is in danger of not having sufficient dentists in some localities to meet the need for satisfactory dental service. Such members of this class will be called upon to shoulder, with older practitioners, this added load, and to do all in their power to preserve and maintain the practices of enlisted dentists.

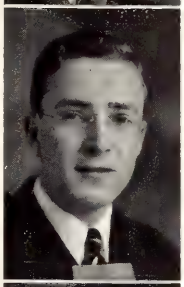
Think clearly so that you may be able to cope intelligently with the problems within the profession as they arise and after the war, and also with adjustments which the dental service should promote. Dentistry as an essential health service should receive adequate attention in any plans for the betterment of the public.

The Faculty depends on the Class of 4T1 to uphold the good name of an honoured profession and to serve Canada and the Empire to the best of their ability.



David Espir Acal
Kapuskasing, Ont.

Came from the cold North to civilization. Matriculated from Kapuskasing High School and entered Dentistry the following year. Was a member of Toronto Ski Club. Spent his best years at South House. Would like to join the C.A.D.C.

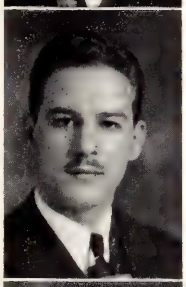


William J. Akins
Ottawa, Ont.

Matriculated from Glebe C.I. Hitch-hikes to Hollywood in his spare time and caps it off with a thousand mile canoe trip. In future, intends to put Dentistry on its feet and carry on in Ottawa.

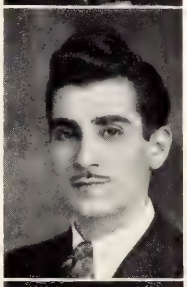
Kenneth Vernon Allan
Toronto, Ont.

A sporting gentleman from Toronto's West End. Wins most horse-races and N.H.L. games on paper. Is a qualified Captain in the Dental Corps. Will realize his marital and martial aspirations early. After the duration of the war intends curing Toronto's toothache.



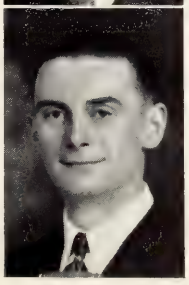
James George Andrews (ΞΨΦ)
Toronto, Ont.

Arrived in due course in Toronto with a pair of drum sticks in his hands. From Riverdale C.I. wandered to Varsity. Besides worrying about dentures, plays basketball, baseball and studies under protest. Ambition is to successfully remove teeth and learn to play the bass on the piano.



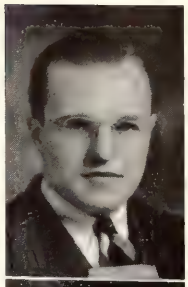
Albert Alexander Antoni
Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, B.W.I.

From far away Trinidad, "Tony" graduated from St. Mary's College. Was a member of Newman Club; Dentantic's Representative II, Hya Yaka Representative III, IV, and Editor V. Played Soccer I-IV; Water Polo II, III-V; Varsity Soccer II-V. "Tony" has spent considerable time trying to learn to ice skate. We all wish him luck in his endeavours. Future plans include practising dentistry — owning a boat and marrying a nurse.



Frank John Bajurny
Winnipeg, Man.

Born in Winnipeg. Attended the University of Manitoba 1932-'34. Worked as a salesman '34 to '37, then decided to quit working and study dentistry. Takes a great interest in sports and likes to play Rugby. Expects to spend most of his future life fishing, hunting, and golfing.



James Preston Beattie
Winnipeg, Man.

Matriculated from Kelvin H.S. Entered Dentistry after three years at the University of Manitoba. Excelled in athletics: Hockey II-V, Manager IV; Rugby III-V; Baseball II-V. Franklin Edgar Coulter (ΨΩ)
Toronto, Ont.

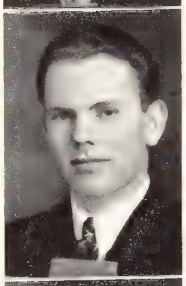
Matriculated from Runnymede C.I. Spent summers as councillor at a boys' camp. Thinks Dentistry is the ideal profession. Ambition is to graduate, settle down and conduct a successful practice in "the big city".

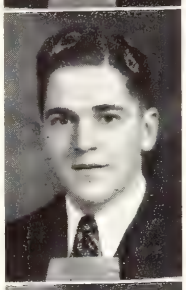
George Ross Covey
Toronto, Ont.

Came to Varsity from Oakwood C.I. Was Trainer of the Lacrosse and Baseball Teams V. Haunts the Ambassador Club. Pastimes are knitting and looking for jailbirds. The "wee lad" intends to graduate and to set up with his father as a short cut to quick marriage.



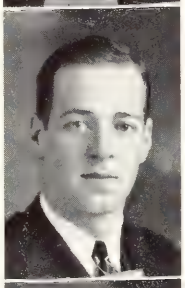
Jack Rutherford Day
Rocanville, Sask.

Jack tried banking, decided that pulling teeth was easier, so used Varsity as an excuse to get out of the West and away from Rocanville H.S. Honours, scholastically and socially are his. Being quite a skater, he starred at hockey in the Arena, girls in the Stadium, and maintaining the "Club Ambassador". Plans to practise in B.C.



Theodore Michael Di Roberto
Rochester, N.Y.

Uncle Sam's contribution to Dentistry. Spent two years in Arts before embarking on a promising dental career. Though a hard worker in his chosen profession, he has found time to make a host of Canadian friends. Will show our southern neighbours the best brand of Canadian dentistry.



William Laurie Elliot (ΞΨΦ)
New Westminster, B.C.

Migrated East from "The West" after matriculating from the Duke of Connaught H.S., and two years at the University of B.C. Spent two of his best years at Varsity in East House. Was in Varsity Band II-V; President of Dental Camera Club III. Piled lumber and leaned on a shovel until Varsity started in the fall. Plans to see more of the East before heading for the real West.

Reynold Albert Erickson
Barrie, Ont.

Entered Dentistry after matriculating from Port Arthur C.I. Resided in South House in winters. Spent his summers holidaying in Northern Ontario. Intends to enjoy life as he always has and "practise a little dentistry".

PHARMACY

by

R. O. Hurst, Dean

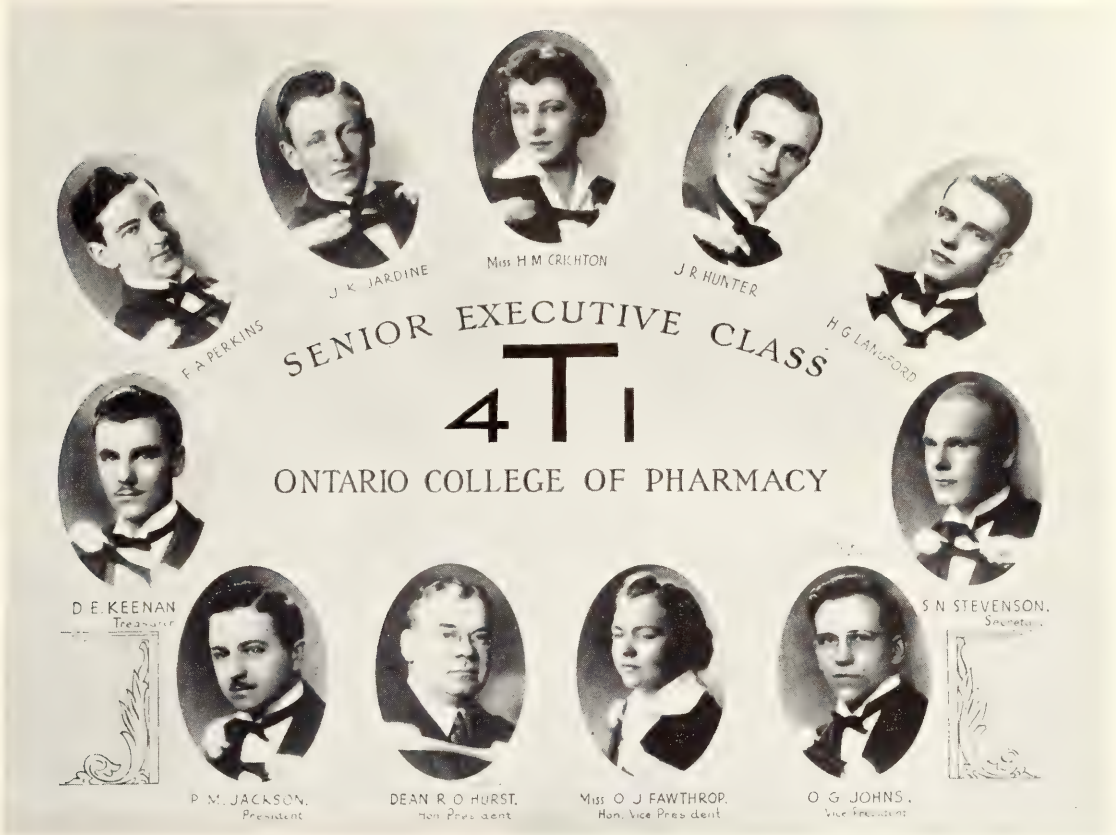
I GLADLY avail myself of the opportunity provided by Torontonensis to address a message to the graduating class.

We are entering upon a momentous year and may it bring to us all victory and peace. Let us face it with a courage and determination to surmount all the difficulties and the many problems that will confront us.

In this the greatest struggle that ever faced the British Empire, Pharmacy can play a part. You may be able to make an important contribution as a pharmacist, and if not you can make a contribution as a man with a trained, disciplined mind. Such servants are required and are valuable for responsible duties.

In addition to the devoir that you owe to your country I should like you to bear in mind the one that you owe to your profession. I urge you to be zealous toward the advancement of a better pharmacy, a pharmacy in which you are deeply interested and which must be guarded by each one of you.

I wish you success in your work. Success lies within you, and you alone must discover the secret.



Message from the Class of 4T1

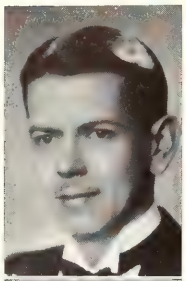
GRADUATION Day! This breathless, intoxicating moment when we reverently receive our diplomas is tempered with quite a measure of regret. For after two years of fun, both at work and at play, to leave O.C.P. now will be like leaving home again.

Although we suffered many ignominies as "lowly Juniors" in our first year, they were submerged by the good times we had together. The friendships we made were cemented by such frolics as our Junior-Senior Banquet, and the Junior dance, where many budding pharmacists found an added interest in life, other than rolling pills.

During our Second year we carried with dignity the worthy title of Honorable Seniors. With most of us our patriotic and academic duties came first, and so all other activities were curtailed by weekly tests and C.O.T.C.

We go out now to conquer the world—with opportunities no other generation has had. We recognize our duty, and pray that we will keep the courage and high ideals that have been instilled in us every day during our all-too-brief sojourn at College.

Confident that the years will strengthen our ties with one another and with the College, we only say au revoir, as we stride forward, eager to convert this troubled uncertain world to one more nearly "Utopia".



Gilbert Allen
Toronto, Ont.

Matriculated from Collingwood C.I. Hopes to own a pharmacy containing indicators and all. Is known to the class as "Gil".

Kenneth Appelberg
Toronto, Ont.

Attended Mount Albert C.S. and Newmarket H.S. Began apprenticeship in Mt. Albert and served final year of apprenticeship in Toronto. Hopes to manage his own drug store in the near future.

Sister Mary Avila
Toronto, Ont.

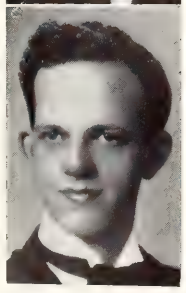
From St. Peter's School, Peterborough, now dispenses pills for St. Michael's Hospital. Her quiet charm has endeared her to all the girls of 4T1 Pharmacy.

Leona Bell
Toronto, Ont.

The Mrs. who never misses anything. Matriculating from Parkdale C.I. she drew customers into Liggett's. In spare time looks after a husband. Her main ambition is to have enough time between schoolwork and housework to attend "pink teas".

John Russel Boyes
Pickering, Ont.

High-pressured the home town folks from behind the counter of Jones' Drug Store, before attending O.C.P. Is an all-round athlete, particularly adept at lacrosse, soccer, hockey and softball. He is looking forward to the day when the public will be able to locate Pickering on the map.



Robert Fisher Brown
Orillia, Ont.

Matriculated from Orillia C.I. Was apprenticed with B. H. Price of Orillia. Likes boating and blondes. Desires to continue education, to travel and to dabble in journalism. Is better known as "Bob" or "Brownie".

Dean C. D. Howe,
B.A., M.S., Ph.D.

IT HAS been twenty years since the graduating class of the Faculty of Forestry has been so small. However, what you lack in number you make up in quality both in regard to academic standing and to practical experience. You are the first class that as a whole has interrupted the academic course with a year of woods work. We wish all the students could do this. Perhaps when conditions become normal again, it can be arranged.

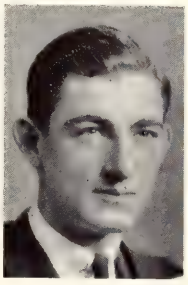
All through your course, as you know, we have emphasized the fact that in the future in helping to maintain continuous supplies of raw materials for the wood-converting industries, you would be serving one of the most important needs in promoting the welfare of the country. However, for the present, fate has determined otherwise. You now have the opportunity to perform the highest duty of citizenship—the defence of your country—and you have accepted it. We are proud of you. Thirty graduates and former students have enlisted and five of your associates in the School at the present time.

It may be of interest in this connection briefly to review the extent of participation of forestry men in the previous war. A total of one hundred and seventeen forestry men or fifty-eight per cent of the student body, during and immediately following the war, were directly engaged in the conflict. Fifteen of these men made the supreme sacrifice and about the same number received major wounds. Nine men were awarded the Military Cross and four the Military Medal. One had the Bar added to the Military Medal and one was recommended for the Distinguished Conduct Medal. There were seven mentions in despatches.

Following the winning of the war will come greater activity in social planning and that will include a greater contribution of the forests to sustained employment and permanent settlement in the forested regions. When you return forestry work will be expanding.

Stewart Nelson Ballantyne
Kapuskasing, Ont.

Born and brought up in Northern Ontario and thinks he'll probably die there. Has spent every summer and one winter working at various jobs for the Spruce Falls Power & Paper Co. in Kapuskasing. His university residence has been Knox College, Center House. Played Hockey, Lacrosse, Basketball and Rugby for the Faculty I-III. Was Treasurer II, Vice-President III and President IV of the Forestry Athletic Association. Became a cadet in "C" Coy. (Engineers) C.O.T.C. IV. Plans are indefinite but his friends see "God's Country" waging a losing battle with "The Woman".



Maurice Mitchell Dixon

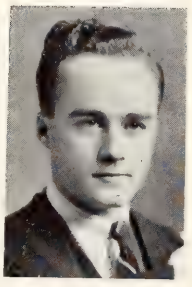
Sneaked into Varsity via U.C.C. and North Toronto C.I. Played Rugby for the Faculty I-IV and Basketball I-III. Was Treasurer of the Forestry Athletic Association; Treasurer of the Forester's Club; Rugby Team Manager III; Torontonensis Representative and C.O.T.C. cadet engineers) IV. Future plans—to live in the bush and like it.



Clifford Graham Hadley
Montreal, Que.

Came to Varsity via Westmount H.S. snatched from under the noses of the McGill pedagogues. Played Rugby for the Faculty I, II, and Basketball I-III. Was Secretary of the Forestry Athletic Association II; President of the Forester's Club; Representative to the Finance Committee of the S.A.C. and C.O.T.C. cadet (Engineers) IV. Spent three summers timber cruising and one summer and a winter drafting, all for the S.F.P. & P. Co. His Toronto abode was North House. Is curious about the finer things of life when he can get them.

Principal C. D. McGilvray,
M.D.V., D.V.Sc.

IN "times like these" it is our duty to aid and support with every means at our disposal the pressing need for productive, constructive work to strengthen the national war effort for the achievement of victory. We must pledge ourselves to faithfully discharge every task which may be required of us. The successful performance of every duty and task in any capacity may mean the difference that will be essential to the successful prosecution of the war we are now engaged in. In this respect, our profession has a definite place in the national fabric of co-ordinated effort. As time goes on increased food production in Canada may well become a more vital sphere of war effort in support of His Majesty's armed forces of sea, land and air and for the maintenance of the factory workers and the civilian population in all walks of life throughout the length and breadth of the Motherland.

The part which our profession is expected to successfully undertake at the present time is abundantly clear. Our primary function must be to assist live stock production so as to provide an abundant supply of meats and meat food products, including bacon and butter, cheese and other dairy products. This we can and must do by preventing and controlling diseases which may be injurious or destructive to live stock and at the same time assist in protecting human health against diseases that may be transmissible from animals to man. History has an uncanny habit of repeating itself and furnishes abundant evidence that war and its effects have always resulted in a marked increase in the occurrence of diseases among animals as well as man.

Recent events in world affairs indicate that our outlook on life and our conception of the future may be materially altered in many respects. May we look forward with hope, courage, and confidence to the future.

TEACHERS COURSE

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

to

THE GRADUATING CLASSES

by

W. J. Dunlop, B.A., B.Paed.,
Director, University Extension

IT IS a privilege to be given the opportunity to express, through Torontonensis my best wishes for the success of those men and women who will graduate in June, 1941, in the Pass Course for Teachers, the Course in Occupational Therapy, the Course in Physiotherapy, and the Course in Aerial Navigation.

The number of teachers who graduate each year with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, obtained through the Pass Course for Teachers, is approximately 40 which means that this has become practically a fifth Arts College. Usually the number graduating in June is somewhat larger than the graduating list in November. These teachers, who are graduating in June, have received the same instruction as is given students in the Pass Course in Arts but they have attended lectures in the evenings and on Saturday forenoons. As they are teaching, they cannot proceed as fast as do students who attend lectures during the day and they are restricted to three subjects in one session and to four subjects in twelve months. They write the same examinations as are written by students in the Pass Course in Arts. Having obtained the degree, these teachers return to their work better qualified for service and, as often happens, ready for promotion.

Those who graduate in Occupational Therapy will be specially prepared for war service and they are elated because six of the graduates of other years are now serving the Empire in hospitals overseas. Three of these are working directly under the British War Office and three are serving the Department of Health of Scotland. Though Occupational Therapy is important in times of peace, this form of treatment is in great demand in time of war and, for that reason, there is an unusually large graduating class in this Course.

In Physiotherapy there is likewise a graduating class much larger than there would be in peace-time. Seven graduate Physiotherapists have been taken overseas by the Department of National Defence and are rendering excellent service.

Enlistment and other essential war services have greatly diminished the number of those graduating this year in Aerial Navigation. Those who have remained to complete this two-year Course will be well equipped to prepare for positions as instructors in the R.C.A.F. and with the various flying clubs. In these two spheres of service most of their predecessors are now doing their part in the prosecution of the war.

From these four Courses men and women are going out well qualified to serve their country, the British Empire, and mankind. Each will make his or her contribution to the cause which is uppermost in the minds of all good citizens. Among the members of the University of Toronto who are serving, or who are about to serve His Majesty, each of these will make in some sphere, his or her contribution.

John K. Barnes
Toronto, Ont.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

to

THE GRADUATING CLASS

by

Miss A. C. McGregor

"ALL of us who are in any way thinkers, teachers, guides, are at fault, we have not yet discovered that the human world is new, and calls for a redefining of old truth. Nothing vague will serve. The old shibboleths may be sound enough; brotherhood, love and sacrifice hold all the universe of good in their embrace. But they are tired; repetition has worn them too smooth to grip and hold us. We must remould their eternal verity in much more detailed and intimate shapes today."

To you who are young in social work, these words, written by Professor Urwick a decade ago, bring a challenge. Social work has made great advances. In September, 1939—unlike August, 1914—it was comparatively easy to adapt its various services to the added demands of war time. You will find positions in agencies whose important work will make demands upon all the skill, sympathy and understanding which you possess. But in addition to this, many of you will be called upon to share in charting the future direction of social work in an unstable world. Social work looks to science for guidance, but has not yet firmly established the scientific foundations of training. It seeks the status and solidarity of a profession but has not clarified its own relationship to the various community groups it attempts to serve—groups whose interests are sometimes in conflict. It appears to have lost much of its emotional authority but has greater need than ever before for practical social idealism. These are only some of the dilemmas of social work which will claim your attention.

As you go to the positions which await you, those of us who have known you in this Department give you our warmest good wishes. We shall follow your careers with deep interest, proud to count you amongst our friends and co-workers.

Miss E. K. Russell,
B.A., B.Paed.

YOU have all read the Dedication inscribed in this volume and will share in the feeling that very few words should be added to this. All the thought of our hearts is already there. As members of the graduating class of this fateful year of 1941, you will take part in the struggle, and you will work toward the victory, foretold in that message and you will be deeply grateful, I believe, that you are ready to do so. You will remember, too, that we have a heavy task on our hands if we, as a people, are to be made fit for victory.

Your University has offered you a sound preparation for your professional work and now the world needs all that you can give. We send you forth with deepest good wishes for all that the future has in store for you.

The University and the War

In Memoriam

SIR FREDERICK BANTING, K.B.E.
MAJOR, THE ROYAL CANADIAN ARMY MEDICAL CORPS

THE UNIVERSITY AND THE WAR

By John William Griffin, 4T1

THE outbreak of war shortly before University reopened in the autumn of 1939 brought a considerable increase in the activities of the University of Toronto Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps. During the summer new headquarters had been occupied at 119 St. George St., in which it was planned to have a library and clubrooms as well as the necessary offices and lecture rooms. And most important of all, a drill hall had been built behind the new headquarters building that was large enough to hold the entire peace-time battalion. These excellent new facilities would have made the activities of the Contingent more efficient and would greatly have increased the pleasure the members took in their work. But the coming of war made the new drill hall wholly inadequate and parade space had again to be found wherever it was available.

LT.-COL. "SPIKE" THOMPSON (O.C. 2nd Army Field Workshop) and J. B. Bickersteth at the Field Workshops—England.

The story of last year's activities, however, has no place in the 1940-1941 Torontonensis, except for such of those activities as took place after the June Convocation. Among these the two weeks the Contingent spent in camp deserves a prominent place.

About 275 officers and other ranks of the unit, all but a handful of whom were graduates (though many of these had graduated only a few days before) journeyed to Camp Niagara on June 10th; part of this number went by motor convoy and part aboard the S.S. Cayuga, which during the summer gained quite a reputation as a troopship.

There, during thirteen days, the various arms carried out the activities peculiar to their purposes. The artillery drilled with their four eighteen-pounder field guns or their four pneumatic-tired howitzers, the engineers spent several days in the hot sun with pick and shovel constructing a fine model trench; the signals strung their long lines of telephone wire and the medicals set up a model Advanced Dressing Station, as well as operating the gas chamber through which all ranks passed with respirators adjusted.

While the army service corps cadets were cruising the country far and wide in automobiles studying the tactics of motor convoys and supply columns, the machine-gunners were rehearsing the complicated feat of bringing a gun into action in a few seconds and the infantry were spending whole days in the field, studying section tactics, learning fieldcraft, and gaining a knowledge of ranging and fire control.

Added interest was given to the cadets' work by the inspection made by Major-General Alexander, then District Officer Commanding, M.D. 2, and by the visit paid the unit by its Honorary Colonel and President of the University, Dr. H. J. Cody, and Mrs. Cody.

When the day's work was over fatigue clothes were discarded and service dress put on for evening mess. The end of drilling and studying for the day meant that there was time to relax, to walk into the village of Niagara-on-the-Lake, to join in a sing-song with good fellows, to listen to the radio or write letters home.

But beneath the long days and evenings of outdoor life and light amusements was an underlying tone of awful seriousness for the news that made everyone run to the nearest radio as soon as a few minutes of leisure allowed was of terrible import. On the day the unit arrived in camp Italy entered the war and at the beginning of the second week France fell and Britain faced the German might alone. In a sense these events cast a pall over the first camp the Contingent had held since last the same enemy pounded at Britannia's gates.

When activities were resumed last September the Corps was organized on a basis of arms rather than faculties. Where formerly there had been companies for S.P.S., Medicine and for the Arts Colleges, now, for example, there were companies for artillery and infantry.

Enrollment in the Contingent was restricted to those who had been in it last year, to undergraduates in their final year and to graduates. In addition, all new applicants had to pass a personal interview with a board of officers of the arm in which they wished to train before being taken on strength, and agree to accept a commission if one was available upon completing their course.

A definite quota was set in advance determining the number that could be accepted for training in each arm and of these, infantry of course, had the largest quota. Despite this fact more applied for artillery training, in relation to that arm's quota, than in any other arm. Altogether about 1,300 were accepted and the officer establishment numbered 80.

Once the tedious but necessary preliminaries had been completed the Contingent immediately began serious work, and this year happily, all ranks were in uniform. Training was carried out on Saturday afternoons to the sound of the cheers from the crowds watching the football games at nearby Varsity Stadium, and on one or two afternoons or evenings a week.

The artillery practised gun drill with wooden field pieces and learned mechanisms from the few real guns available. Those training for the various services, engineers, signals, service corps, carried out training similar to that studied at camp last June, while the engineers and ordnance groups collaborated on the construction of a model trench following a regulation trace or ground pattern and complete with a barbed wire entanglement. This latter was built on the empty lot on Devonshire Place just south of St. Hilda's College.

The infantry companies spent several highly interesting afternoons in mock patrols and battles in High Park with "enemy" groups working towards each other from opposite sides of the park. Two of the officers of this arm, Major B. E. Tolton and Captain W. A. Bryce, collaborated in the writing and publication of an exercise book to aid those studying for lieutenant's qualifications in infantry.

Written examination in all arms, as set by the Department of National Defence, were held in December and March, and the number who passed in these was quite satisfactory.

The annual regimental ball, held in February, was very well attended and those present heard the first performance of the C.O.T.C. Pipe Band, commanded and directed by Pipe-Major Reid, formerly of the Gordon Highlanders. The C.O.T.C. Band was organized during the past year, as it has been for a quarter of a century, under the able direction of Captain John Slater, V.D., of the 48th Highlanders.

During the course of the year many members of the Contingent left it to go on active service, many as commissioned officers, others as enlisted men. The Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, the newly formed Armoured Corps of the Canadian Army, the Royal Canadian Artillery, the inspection branch of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps and the Royal Canadian Air Force all added University of Toronto men to their rolls. No number quoted of those who actually left during the year could long remain accurate because the process was so continuous.

But important as was the work of the Contingent in training cadets that they might be qualified for officer's commissions, the most spectacular of the Corps' work was the organization and operation of a Training Centre.

When the government announced last summer that all men within certain age limits were to receive one month's compulsory military training, representatives of the Canadian universities obtained authority from the Dominion government whereby students could both get their training and continue their studies. It was agreed that 17 days of instruction (computed at 110 hours) should be given on afternoons during the year, following regular college work and the remaining 13 days at camp after the academic year had ended. At the University of Toronto the Training Centre was operated and staffed by officers of the Corps Reserve of the C.O.T.C.

The approximately 1,400 men taking the training were organized in six companies and 30 platoons. Drills were held on two afternoons a week and on Saturdays and the instruction given was that laid down for the Training Centres throughout Canada.

The principal officers of the Contingent were as follows:

HONORARY COLONEL—LIEUT.-COL. H. J. CODY, E.D.

C.O.T.C. Officers' Training Battalion:

Officer Commanding ..... LIEUT.-COL. H. H. MADILL, V.D.
Second-in-Command ..... MAJOR M. B. WATSON
Adjutant ..... CAPTAIN H. C. H. MILLER

C.O.T.C. Training Centre Battalion:

Officer Commanding ..... LIEUT.-COL. W. S. WILSON, E.D.
Second-in-Command ..... MAJOR W. S. WALLACE
Chief Instructional Officer MAJOR G. R. LANE
Adjutant ..... LIEUT. E. A. MACDONALD

In addition, the following regimental officers served for both battalions:

Medical Officer ..... MAJOR J. L. MCCOLLUM, R.C.A.M.C.
Paymaster ..... MAJOR T. A. REED, E.D.
Chaplain ..... CAPTAIN W. C. LOCKHART
Quartermaster ..... LIEUT. C. A. JOHNSTON
Regimental Sergeant-Major ..... A. ANDREWS (W.O. II)

Though the Canadian Officers' Training Corps is performing the most important war work being done at the University, the women have not lagged behind the men. During the academic year just passed the Women's Service Training Detachment was organized, under the command of Miss A. E. M. Parkes, Secretary of the Women's Athletic Association. The 175 members of the unit, in their smart uniforms of blue-gray skirt, blouse (worn with a tie of Varsity blue) and field service cap have been a familiar sight about the campus. The girls were given lectures in military organization, military law and discipline, orderly room procedure, general business procedure and correspondence and in air raid precautions work, such as the extinguishing of incendiary bombs and methods of dealing with casualties. Regular military drill was directed by Regimental Sergeant-Major Andrews of the C.O.T.C. The purpose behind the W.S.T.D., its raison d'être, has been to provide a body of young women of superior intelligence with a general background of military knowledge in order that they might be qualified to act as officers and instructors in any women's auxiliaries to the fighting services that may be organized in the future; that those with technical abilities such as occupational and physio-therapists and graduates of the Household Economics course may have the requisite knowledge for dealing with military services; and that others may be qualified to act as organizers and supervisors of the staffs of military offices should it become necessary to relieve men of these tasks.

In a purely civilian way, too, the University has done its part. The Women's War Services Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. J. Cody, has organized and operated the Red Cross sewing room and acted as a clearing house for the war knitting done by the girls of the various women's residences and women's fraternities. It was also instrumental in the evacuation of a number of children from England and in the provision of homes for them for the duration of the war. In addition, this body organized the courses in St. John's Ambulance Brigade work, in home nursing and in motor mechanics, that were taken by so many women of the University.

On the appeal of the Red Cross Society for blood donors, more than 500 volunteered in this capacity through the Students' Administrative Council. The Council office also sold war savings stamps and by the end of February more than $1,000 had been realized in this way.

It was a distinguished graduate of this university, Lieut.-Col. John McCrae, C.A.M.C., who wrote the immortal war poem, "In Flanders Fields". To John McCrae the students of this university can indeed say that they have taken up the quarrel with the foe; that once again Varsity men hold high the torch and that they who died in the First World War may rest, as they have for over 20 years, in Flanders Fields beneath the poppies.

Canadian Officers Training Corps

Officers Training Battalion Training Centre Battalion

AVERY military atmosphere surrounds the University this year. Every male undergraduate, who is not exempted for medical or other reasons, is taking military training in one form or another. This training is carried out under the University of Toronto Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps, commanded by Lieut.-Col. H. H. Madill, V.D., Head of the School of Architecture. The organization is divided into three main groups:—The Officers' Training Battalion, the Training Centre Battalion, and those in the age group under twenty years of age as at July 15th, 1940.

The Officers' Training Battalion has a strength of approximately 1,300 members, graduates and undergraduates, and all are taking the course leading to qualification as Lieutenant. Instruction is given in the following arms of the Service: Artillery, Engineers, Signals, Infantry (Rifle), Infantry (Machine Gun), Army Service Corps, Army Medical Corps, Army Dental Corps, and Ordnance Mechanical Engineers (O.M.E.). Major M. B. Watson is Second in Command of the Battalion and also Chief Instructor. Capt. H. C. H. Miller is Adjutant.

Instruction is given at the Headquarters of the Contingent and the first paper (Common to all arms) was written in December, and the second paper (Special to arm) was written in March. This will be followed by two weeks at camp in the spring, when qualification in the practical work will be taken.

Out of the total number in the Officers' Training Battalion, about 500 are graduates either of the University of Toronto or elsewhere.

During the Session 1939-40 a number of students were accepted in a two-year qualifying course. They wrote the first paper at the end of the session and many are back in the Corps again this year, taking their second paper. All others in the Corps are endeavouring to qualify in one year. At the beginning of the Session 1940-41, membership in the Corps was open only to selected students from the graduating years. These, with the graduates and those taking the second paper in the two-year course, make up the total of 1,450, divided into twelve companies.

The second large military organization under the C.O.T.C. is the Training Centre Battalion with a strength of about 1,400, and is made up of students between the ages of twenty and twenty-five, who might be called up for compulsory training at militia training centres. Under an agreement between the University and the Dominion Government, these students are permitted to take their training in the University during the session, to be followed by two weeks at camp in the summer; thus they are not liable to have their academic work interrupted by being called up for 30 days' training. These students spend about seven hours per week at drill and lectures. The Training Centre Battalion, which was specially organized to take care of the compulsory training, is commanded by Lieut.-Col. W. S. Wilson, E.D., Secretary of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering, who is also Second in Command of the Contingent. Major W. S. Wallace is Second in Command of the Battalion. The Chief Instructor is Major G. R. Lane, and the Adjutant is Lieut. E. A. Macdonald.

The Battalion is divided into six companies, and "S" Company, the largest in the Battalion, has a strength of about 375.

The Company has six platoons commanded by 2/Lts.

In the Training Centre Battalion the same syllabus of training is followed as is laid down for the Militia Training Centres, and consists of: Squad drill, manual of arms, bayonet fighting, musketry, gas drill, route marches, lectures on military law, field engineering, organization, administration and other subjects of interest to a soldier.

The Training Centre Battalion, which paraded for the first time on October 4th, 1940, for organization purposes, is made up as follows:

O Coy.—Arts..... Major F. R. Crocombe
Q Coy.—Arts..... Capt. C. R. Sanderson
R Coy.—Medical..... Capt. M. Crabtree, M.C.
S Coy.—Applied Science.....Major W. J. T. Wright, M.B.E.
T Coy.—Dental..... Capt. R. A. Barbour, M.C.
W Coy.—Pharmacy, O.C.E.... Capt L. T. Hargreaves

The third group is comprised of students 18 and 19 years of age, of whom there are about 800, who take a lesser amount of combined military training and physical training. They have taken a good deal of squad drill and rifle exercises.

The Training Centre Battalion is regarded as a depot from which the candidates for the Officers' Training Battalion will be drawn next session. All the work taken is fundamental and students going forward for qualification for officers will have an excellent foundation in the rudiments of military knowledge on which to build their further training, and will have a great advantage over those who have not had the benefit of the preliminary training.

All students in all three groups have been medically examined and those who are not fit are exempted from training. Battle dress has been issued to the Officers' Training Battalion, but at the time of writing, has not been issued to the Training Centre Battalion.

On October 19th both Battalions were reviewed by Brig. E. W. Haldenby, M.C., who took the 48th Highlanders to England, late in 1939, and who returned to take command of the 9th Brigade, Third Division. Brig. Haldenby is a graduate of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering, in 1921. He was one of the original cadets in the C.O.T.C. on its formation in 1914, and was promoted to Corporal by Capt. (now Lieut.-Col.) H. H. Madill.

Major-General C. F. Constantine, D.S.O., newly appointed D.O.C., M.D. 2, also reviewed both Battalions on November 16th. Much to the discomfort of all concerned, the latter part of the march past took place in a raging snow storm.

The work in the two Battalions has meant a tremendous amount of hard work on the part of its members and undoubtedly has interfered in many cases with academic work, but the difficulties have been cheerfully met by all concerned. Lecture timetables have been readjusted by the Faculties and varying amounts of credit are given on academic work for training taken in the Officers' Training Battalion and the Training Centre Battalion. Tribute is paid to staff and students for the excellent co-operation and tolerance which has been displayed on every hand.

The University of Toronto Band

THE year of 1940-41 has seen many changes associated with the university band. This year the band has become part of the military organization on this campus and would therefore be more properly called the C.O.T.C. band. The band was outfitted with military uniforms and appeared at all parades in an efficient manner. With constant practice under the leadership of Canada's senior bandmaster, Capt. John Slatter, V.D., the standard of the band has been raised above many of our pre-war levels. The band is looking forward to its stay in summer camp and hopes it will live up to all its former traditions.

We wish to thank the senior officers of the C.O.T.C. including Lt.-Col. H. H. Madill, V.D., and Lt.-Col. W. S. Wilson, E.D., and in particular, Mr. E. A. Macdonald, secretary of the S.A.C. and Adjt. of the C.O.T.C Training Centre, whose intimate contact with the band has been beneficial to the highest degree. It has been the co-operation of these men that has made it possible for the band to maintain its efficiency.

It is hoped that next year the band will once again be honoured with the permission to parade in military uniform again and carry on as usual.

OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR:—

Bandmaster—Capt. John Slatter, V.D.
Band Sergeant and President—Lionel R. Dent.
Secretary—George Lark.
Quartermaster—Wilmot Mercer.

The Students' Administrative Council

THE Students' Administrative Council for the year 1940-41 might be likened to a theatre group which has used the same scenery, characters and basic plot as last year, but has altered the emphasis of the theme. The change is subtle but definite.

The fall term began under the influence of the world events which took place between May and September. Uncertainty marked all plans for the year and time required for military drill cut programmes for many activities to a minimum.

Most of the normal Council responsibilities, the Varsity, Torontonensis, the Handbook, the Housing Service, the Loan Fund, the Employment Bureau, the Orchestra, and all the hundred and one small services rendered through the Council offices, were carried on as usual. The Council was relieved of responsibility for the Band which was taken over entirely by the C.O.T.C. The elimination of intercollegiate football and other sports made the appointment and supervision of marshals and details in regard to out-of-town trips a thing of the past. Debating, too, was reduced in scope, although one happy feature of the year's programme was the opportunity given the Council to send two debaters, Mr. E. F. Crawford, Jr., and Mr. E. R. Gray, on a tour sponsored originally by the University of Missouri, which covered several other American universities en route. A team from the University of Maine visited Toronto early in April.

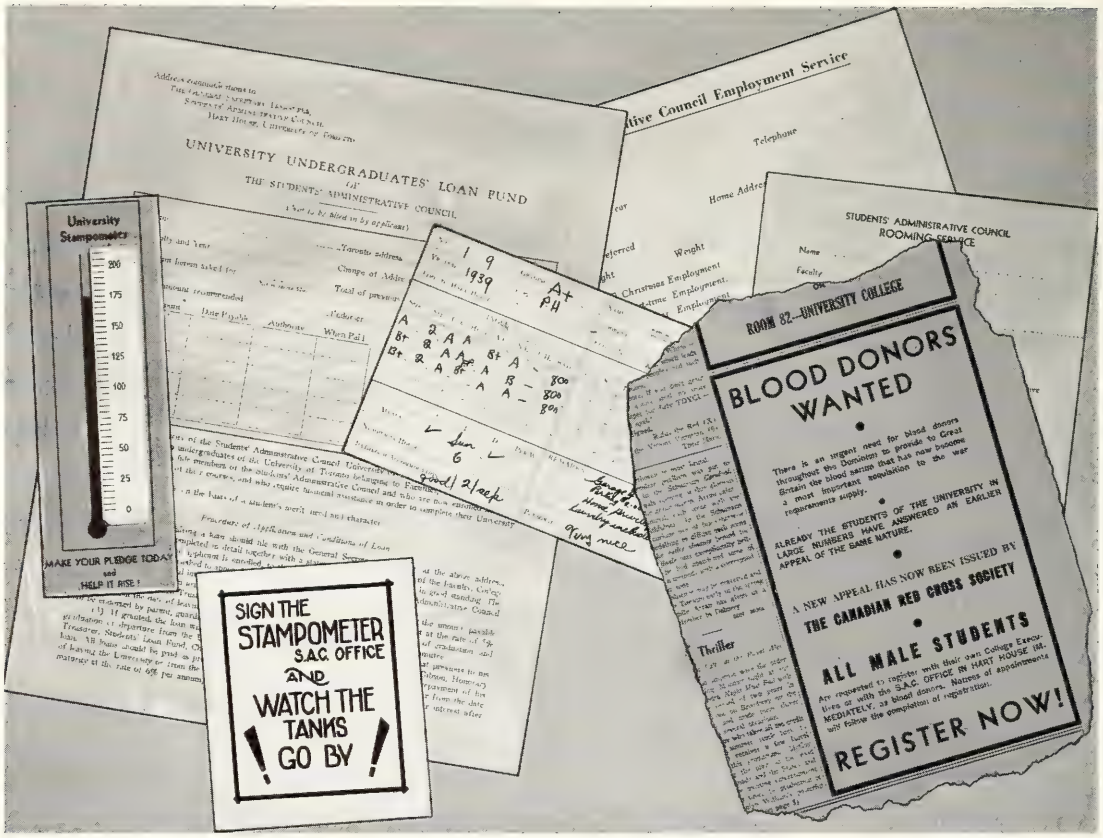
The Council, however, found no lack of activities to take the place of those which had gone. The War Savings Campaign and the sale of stamps was a major activity all the year through. The enlistment of hundreds of student blood donors for the Red Cross blood serum service was another most important and valuable effort. Substantial contributions were made to various good causes in the name of the undergraduates of the University as a whole—the International Student Service (whose collection of funds was done through the Council office), the University Settlement, the C.O.T.C. Pipe Band and finally the Diamond Jubilee issue of the Varsity. The Council also had a share in two forms of propaganda during the term, both pro and con—pamphlets issued by the British Ministry of Information were made available each week, and, by request, the Council office became the repository for the infantile effusions received by students from time to time and issued by the Young Communist League. Among other matters of general interest to the student body, the Council approved an official University of Toronto sweatercoat and also an embroidered University crest in colour.

The annual dinner to the Varsity masthead was given at the Royal York on Thursday, October 17th. This was a fitting occasion to honour the memory of Sub-Lieutenant G. H. K. ("Pat") Strathy, who in the previous week, had given his life in action in the Mediterranean as the Radio Officer of the gallant Ajax. Just one year before, Mr. Strathy, as the Publications Commissioner of the Council, had proposed the toast to the Varsity on this very occasion.

The dinner at the Women's Union which Dr. and Mrs. Cody so kindly give each fall was again much appreciated and provided an excellent opportunity for the Council members to get to know one another as well as the President and Mrs. Cody.

The Council Honour Awards for last year were once more distributed by Dr. Cody at the Convocation Garden Parties at which the Council annually plays host and it is expected that this custom will continue.

The Council has been fortunate in having Mr. W. W. Small, B.Com., as President for the year, and in again having the benefit of the advice of Professors Chant and Lorriman as Faculty members.



FAMILIAR to most students will be the illustrations of the work of the Students' Administrative Council appearing above. The Department of Student Aid has increased the effective work of the Council amongst the student body. Through the Loan Fund a total of $33,781.00 has been loaned to students without interest while they were undergraduates at the University. The Employment Service since its inception has been successful in finding part-time and summer work for practically everyone who has applied. The Rooming Service has not only been able to provide very reasonable and very good accommodation for out-of-town students, but has secured in a great number of cases room and board in exchange for work, making it possible for a number to attend the University from distant points.

The war increased the Council's activities, and a campaign to pledge students to buy War Savings Stamps regularly has been most successful, nearly $1,500.00 worth of stamps having been sold in the Council office. A campaign to provide blood donors for the Red Cross was also conducted. More than 500 names of students who volunteered were turned in, most of whom have been called upon already.

University of Toronto Symphony Orchestra

THE annual concert of the University of Toronto Orchestra was given in Convocation Hall, Thursday, February the twenty-seventh. This had been the date set some time before by Donald Ryerson, the conductor. Since that time, however, Ryerson was called to train with the R.C.N.V.R. and was compelled to give it up, about six weeks before the concert. In spite of the fact that there were rehearsals in the succeeding weeks it appeared as if the orchestra would collapse for want of a permanent conductor, and four weeks before the concert, Ryerson approached Godfrey Ridout, a teacher of Theory and Composition at the Toronto Conservatory of Music and a student in third year Bachelor of Music. Ridout accepted and carried on from where Ryerson left off, adding a few new members to the orchestra for its concert. The concert, in spite of faulty intonation in a few spots, and contrary to what The Varsity had to say on the subject, was a success.

The orchestra was fortunate in securing the services of Miss Gwendolyn Duchemin, Sydney (N.S.), concert pianist and teacher, for the first movement of the Beethoven Concerto in G Major, No. 4. The balance of the concert consisted of the Overture to The Marriage of Figaro; the Ballet Music from Rosamunde, Schubert; Egmont Overture, Beethoven; Haydn's "London" Symphony in D Major. A group of songs with piano was sung by Jean Létourneau young French-Canadian tenor.

Torontonensis

THE tendency in Torontonensis this year has been towards a more consistently unified publication. It was felt that in past years the theme introduced in the first 16 pages was too much a separate unit which once seen failed to appear again throughout the rest of the book. The various other sections, such as the biography section with its separate divisions, Hart House, Campus Life, Organizations, Athletics and so on, all followed part by part with nothing to bind them together into a unified whole. In short, in the past Torontonensis has been too much a collection of parts. To remedy this situation, the theme of the Laurel Wreath mentioned in the Dedication has been carried throughout the book identified with the University Crest and in a sense, by its function of unifying Torontonensis, it typifies the union which is inherent in the University as a whole between its separate colleges and faculties.

This year we welcome material from O.C.E. which for some time has not appeared in Torontonensis. The military section is a very necessary and we hope a decidedly interesting feature. We wish to thank the Athletic Directorate for the admirable way in which they have supplied material, the value and interest of which more than compensates for the loss of the Intercollegiate Sports Section.

Finally a word must be said in praise of the members of the Board of Editors, and the college and faculty representatives, without whose co-operation Torontonensis would not have gone to press.

We have endeavoured to add new interest to this issue and it is our sincere hope that we have succeeded.

The Varsity

THIS year The Varsity, the daily newspaper serving the campus, reached a milestone when it celebrated its sixtieth anniversary, marked by the publication of a special 48 page Jubilee Issue in March. The special edition was designed to be a record of the university in all its phases through the years.

The Varsity, despite a Staff limited in number due to pressure of academic and war work, carried on daily publication and continued to serve the undergraduate body as best it could. The story is told pictorially in the Campus Life section. Its functions—to present the daily news, to act as medium of thought and expression, to unify the university, to train journalists—continued as in other years. War brought new functions, however. The Varsity provided space for daily military orders. It took the lead in demanding clarification of student status with regard to the four-month compulsory service plan. It was instrumental in eliminating corsages as useless, if ornamental, social luxuries in wartime. It campaigned for better university publicity, and many have felt that concrete results were achieved.

The University Chemical Club

THE University Chemical Club is the official and professional organization for graduate and undergraduate students in Chemistry and related courses. The activities of the Club include monthly meetings, usually addressed by prominent men in their respective fields of chemistry and industry, visits to plants, and occasional social activities.

The fact that Canada is at war has had a great effect on the ease with which permission can be obtained to visit industrial plants. However, interesting visits were made to Tallman Bronze Co., Hamilton; Provincial Paper Mills, Thorold; Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd., and De Laval Machine Co. of Peterborough.

An innovation in the form of a stag party in January did much toward making a closer relationship between students and professors. It is hoped that this will be continued as an annual event.

The Club joined with the Toronto Chemical Association and the Industrial Chemical Club to present a Ladies' Night, held at Eaton's Round Room. A successful season was climaxed by the annual Banquet, held this year in the Junior Common Room, University College.

The fundamental aims of the club are to provide opportunity for associations between students and members of the staff, and to give undergraduates some idea of industrial methods. In addition to this the members of the Club realize the fact that Canada's war effort will come to depend more and more on her scientists. They can serve to the highest degree by training to the best of their ability for the particular type of work which lies ahead of them.

The Commerce Club

THE Commerce Club has saluted its Twentieth Anniversary by experiencing its most successful year. A contributing factor in this achievement has been the noticeable increase in Club spirit and the maintenance of interest among members in all the Club activities.

The year opened auspiciously with the rapid enrollment of two hundred members,—an all-time high. For the first time the Commerce Club has filled adequately its purpose, viz.—to serve as a bond of union to all undergraduates interested in commerce and industry.

A decided departure from former policy was the replacement of the well-remembered evening smokers by noon-hour luncheon meetings. It was felt that more members could conveniently attend if Club functions were held in the middle of the day; the change met with unqualified approval and the regularity of the bi-weekly gatherings stimulated interest and maintained attendance. The Club was addressed by capable and varied speakers, among whom were Messrs. Stocking, Parkinson, and Morgan of the faculty, Dr. MacLeod of The Imperial Oil Company Ltd., and Mr. Karl R. Rybka, consulting engineer.

Social and athletic considerations were not ignored. Two informal dances were held, one in each term. The Golf Tournament was won by Paul Boddy; the Crocombe Cup for Squash was retained for another year by Leo Fitzpatrick; while the Ping Pong Tournament was still undecided at time of writing.

A most successful meeting, itself an innovation, was the end-of-first-term "Jazz Luncheon' when well-contrived skits and hilarity replaced the usual speaker; the whole-hearted co-operation in the fun by the faculty staff was a feature.

The Commerce Journal, the Club's annual publication, underwent a radical change. This year the Journal has been reborn, and has emerged as a large and worthwhile Club project. Under the guidance of Dr. Innis, and with the collaboration of Mr. Stocking and the Extension Department, the Vice-Presidents have produced a magazine worthy of the Commerce Club.

Teachers' Course Association

DURING the year social activities were organized by the Association for two sessions—the Summer Session, and the Winter Session, with a combined enrolment of seven hundred students.

Summer Session students were entertained at the Reception Dance at Hart House early in July, gave enthusiastic support to the annual boat trip to Port Dalhousie, and rounded out their social functions with the Informal Dance held at Casa Loma, which members of the other University summer courses were invited to attend. There was a large entry list for the Gold Tournament held at Rouge Hills, many members took advantage of the summer facilities offered by Hart House, and the Teachers' Course Baseball Team won the inter-school championship cup.

During the Winter Session the social activities were well managed and particularly well attended. Outstanding were the Fall Dance held on the Dutch Terrace at the Savarin Hotel, the Formal Banquet held at the Oak Room of the Union Station which was addressed by Professor E. W. McInnis and the Spring Informal Dance held in the Imperial Room of the Royal York Hotel.

A noticeable improvement in the financial position of the Scholarship Fund was noted by the Trustees. They announced the winner of the Scholarship Award in First Year English during the Winter Session to be Miss Nettie D. Fidler, and the winner of the Scholarship Award in First Year English during the Summer Session to be Mr. J. G. Fernandez.

Newman Club

THE Newman Club Federation is a great Catholic Youth Movement of the lay apostolate in Catholic Action in secular Universities.

The Newman Club of Toronto belongs to this Federation and is one of the two hundred and eighty such clubs throughout the world extending from Montreal to British Columbia in Canada, on out to Hawaii, Japan and China, into Puerto Rico and over two hundred and forty centres in the United States.

The Movement began in the University of Pennsylvania in 1893 and was sponsored in Toronto by His Grace, the Archbishop of Toronto, Neil McNeil, D.D., in 1913. Beginning in modest quarters on St. Joseph Street, it acquired its present commodious quarters in 1922. For many years its growth was under the direction of the Paulist Fathers, but in 1936 the resident Chaplain was appointed from the diocesan priests by His Grace, James Charles McGuigan, D.D., present Archbishop of Toronto, and so continues. The Club House is large, accommodating twenty men students besides Club facilities for over two hundred members. In connection with the Club a stone Chapel of architectural perfection, dedicated to St. Thomas Aquinas, serves as the parish church for the Catholics of the University Campus.

The Executive is appointed each year by popular vote of the members, and together with the Chaplain endeavours to anticipate and promote the spiritual, intellectual and social ambitions of the student body.

The Student Christian Movement

THE Student Christian Movement in the University of Toronto is a fellowship of students who seek through prayer, study, and action to find and test the way of life of Jesus; believing that in Him are found the supreme revelation of God, and the means to the full realization of life.

The Toronto Movement together with similar fellowships in all the other Canadian Universities comprise the National Student Christian Movement and through it enjoys membership in the World's Student Christian Federation. The value which the local Movement derives from the broadening influence of these associations cannot be overestimated.

The burden of initiative and responsibility for programme in the Toronto Movement rests on the executive committees in the several Colleges and faculties. Co-ordination of the activity of these committees and the planning of an All-University programme is effected by a Central Council representative of the local units.

Through worship, study-groups, lectures, and conferences the S.C.M. offers students an opportunity for an intelligent scrutiny of the fundamental problems of life, in the particular terminology of their own student generation. Graduates of the University who have passed through the Movement should take their place in the community as able leaders of Christian opinion.

Of especial interest this year were the inauguration of daily morning prayers in Hart House Chapel; the visit of Mr. C. S. Tsai, a former National Secretary of the Student Division of the Y.M.C.A. in China; a week-end conference in Emmanuel College led by Professor Gregory Vlastos; the campus-wide circulation of a questionnaire on the economic condition of University students; and noon-hour addresses in Hart House on the theme "Your Job and God".

The Varsity Christian Fellowship

THE Varsity Christian Fellowship is a branch of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship which originated in the Universities of Great Britain in 1877. The organization now embraces groups of Christian students throughout the world. Closely affiliated with the I.V.C.F. in Canada is the Inter-School Christian Fellowship with branches in many of the secondary schools.

The Fellowship is founded on the conviction that personal relationship with God is possible only through faith in Jesus Christ, Who, by His death and resurrection, proved His claim to be the only Way, the Infallible Truth, and the source of real Life.

Its aim is to provide students with an opportunity of experiencing in a practical way this vital relationship.

With this in view, the program is a varied and an interesting one. The weekly discussion and Bible study groups help students to understand more clearly the great truths of the Christian faith, to resolve intellectual problems and to deepen their spiritual lives. From time to time prominent speakers are secured for Sunday Teas, open meetings and noon addresses. Prayer groups meet daily from 1.40 to 1.55 p.m., in Room 38, University College, and in Jackson Hall, Victoria College.

A feature of this year's activity has been the visit of Dr. S. M. Zwemer, who conducted a series of challenging addresses on the subject "Facing Jesus Christ To-day."

Many students are finding that the programme of the Fellowship fills a need in their lives, and we trust that in the coming years God may use our witness more effectively for the extension of His Kingdom.

Women's Interfaculty Debating Union

THE Women's Interfaculty Debating Union is a connecting link between the college of our university, and between this and other universities. It provides an opportunity for all those who are interested in debating and public speaking to try their skill and gain confidence.

The Women's Interfaculty Debating Union is composed of two representatives from each of the four Arts Colleges. Four debates decide the winner of the trophy. In the first debate Victoria College defeated University College. St. Michael's then defeated University College and Trinity won over Victoria. The final contest was between Trinity and St. Michael's College.

This Union is also part of the Intercollegiate Debating Union in which each university takes part in two debates. McMaster, Queen's and Varsity competed for the Intercollegiate Trophy. Varsity won her home debate but McMaster remains in possession of the trophy again this year. Western joined the Union this year, but due to a last minute misunderstanding was unable to debate. McGill joined in the early Fall but later was obliged to withdraw due to the curtailment of funds.

The system of awards established last year came into play when Miss S. Taylor of Victoria and Miss E. Hunter of St. Michael's were presented with prizes. The award is based upon a system of points which must be obtained each year throughout the debator's college career.

There has been even keener interest in debating this year than last, and we may safely assume that in the future the link between colleges will not weaken.

North House

SWELLED by a bumper crop of energetic freshmen who brought new life to the traditional old pastimes of the men of North House, the senior of the three university residences enjoyed a particularly successful year. The first year men went through the customarily tough routine of getting acquainted with the sophomores, and emerged very much alive.

Again the Arena track was the scene of rigorous training at daybreak on chilly fall mornings, and for the second consecutive year the floor in the lower common room was spared the inconvenience of becoming a bed for a losing frosh team. The residence's harrier experts took the five-mile High Park contest in their stride, and other traditions, such as "Rounding the Horn", and similar initiation ceremonies, were ably perpetuated by the sophs. Men from all years took part in the annual attempts to convert the house into a swimming pool.

Following a year under its own oversight entirely, the House again had a Housemaster, appointed late in the Michaelmas term, in the person of Ed. Belyea, a Psychology graduate. The Housemaster's room became the scene of a number of enjoyable gatherings which interested themselves in midnight teas and Sunday afternoon social gatherings.

Graduates, looking back on their memory-laden experiences in the residence with sighs and with clicks of the tongue, leave behind them the ground which they helped to beat, with confidence that it will be carefully tended by the younger members of the house.

South House

ALTHOUGH the year has passed with many changes, still boyish exuberance and friendly tolerance remain the bulwarks of South House spirit and tradition.

In Intra-House activity little change was apparent. Seniors and Graduates were ignored by Juniors with the same casual elegance as before, while the Frosh were again victimized by vindictive Sophomores. However, the atmosphere of the House did become a trifle gusty this year, due to the influx of many additional "bathroom-singers" and "budding politicians".

The change most deeply felt was the resignation of Dr. Hoskin as Housemaster. Fourteen years of sympathetic understanding of the students and their problems had made him the very core and essence of South House tradition.

While our academic record will again this year be unequalled, the less said about the House athletically, the better. Fortunately we did not encounter any serious trouble with a downward-fluctuating bank account, because after the highly successful Residence Dance, the Treasury was but another name with no real substance.

Now that it is time for we, the graduating year to depart, it is difficult to resign ourselves to the task of breaking our connections with the House. But we shall go forth stronger, with greater enrichment of life because we have lived in South House, and now South House shall live in us.

East House

MEN may come and men may go, but the spirit that is East House seems to live forever as unchanging as the red stones which enclose it. Though the war has brought changes to our happy home, it has not taken from us the joyous spirit of yesteryear. Corridor floors may squeak to the tramp of army boots and dim lights shine on strange apparitions in battle dress, yet the halls still re-echo the old familiar sounds of merry jest and crashing glassware. House meetings have retained all their lively wit and tender tunefulness, while deathless drama, in the hands of the Sophs, soared to heights unknown to testify that culture is not dead.

Though the war has robbed us of the carefree Australians of former years, it has not taken from us that cosmopolitan touch which we have always enjoyed: for this year we welcome our American and Chinese friends in addition to those from many parts of Canada.

Socially and athletically, we have fared well. The Residence At-Home and the Banquet particularly, will live long in our memories; while we trust that the skill and dash of those who wear the "Big E" will keep the athletic Shield at rest in East House for another year. Academically, we have had our moments, too, and altogether we have once again lived to the full, the motto of East House: "Unum opus et requiem pariter".

HART HOUSE

Hart House

THE FOUNDERS' PRAYER

"The Prayer of the Founders is that Hart House under the guidance of its Warden, may serve in the generations to come the highest interests of this University by drawing into a common fellowship the members of the several Colleges and Faculties, and by gathering into a true society the teacher and the student, the graduate and the undergraduate; further, that the members of Hart House may discover within its walls the true education that is to be found in good fellowship, in friendly disputation and debate, in the conversation of wise and earnest men, in music, pictures and the play, in the casual book, in sports and games and the mastery of the body; and lastly, that just as in the days of war this House was devoted to the training in arms of the young soldier, so in the time of peace its halls may be dedicated to the task of arming youth with strength and suppleness of limb, with clarity of mind and depth of understanding, and with a spirit of true religion and high endeavour."

HART HOUSE is so called in memory of the late Hart Massey. Begun in 1911, it was completed in 1919 and presented, fully equipped, to the University of Toronto by the Trustees of the Massey Foundation. To the Hon. Vincent Massey, Chairman of the Massey Foundation, is due the idea of Hart House, as well as the form it assumed under his personal supervision. From the autumn of 1914 until November 1918, it was used for military purposes and within its walls thousands of men were trained for service overseas. On the first anniversary of the Armistice (11th November 1919) Hart House was formally opened by His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, who was at that time the Governor-General of Canada. The late Mr. Henry Sproatt and Mr. Ernest Rolph were the architects of the building which comes as near to meeting the requirements of the ideal house for student activities as any on this continent or perhaps in the world.

In its widest interpretation Hart House, which is for the use of men only and is non-residential, seeks to provide for all the activities of the undergraduate's life which lie outside the actual lecture rooms. Architecturally of great beauty and built round a quadrangle, Hart House is unique in that it houses under one roof a finely proportioned hall, common rooms of every description, a library, debates room, music room, a small Chapel together with rooms for the use of the Student Christian Movement, an art gallery, a print room and an arts and crafts room, photographic rooms, a billiard room, squash racquets courts, an indoor rifle range, senior common rooms for both faculty and graduate members, a few bedrooms for guests, offices of the Comptroller's department, the office and private rooms of the Warden and in the athletic wing an upper and lower gymnasium both admirably equipped, separate rooms for boxing, wrestling and fencing, an indoor running track, a room for rowing practice, a large swimming pool and the offices of the Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association, the Director of Athletics and the Director of Medical Services for men students. Below the quadrangle is a fully equipped theatre with foyer, green room, dressing rooms, wardrobe and the office of the Director of the Theatre. Every male undergraduate of the University is required to be a member of Hart House towards the upkeep of which he pays an annual fee of twelve dollars. The House has no endowment and these fees are its chief source of revenue.

The gymnasia, swimming pool and locker rooms are under the control and direction of the Athletic Directorate through Mr. T. A. Reed, Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association.

An outstanding event of the fall was the visit of His Excellency, the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Athlone, and Her Royal Highness, the Princess Alice, to Hart House on 15th November. The Governor-General and the Princess showed a great deal of interest in a short tour of the House following which a reception was held by the President of the University in the map room. Earlier in the afternoon His Excellency had received an honorary degree at Convocation Hall.

Hart House has been able to make its contribution to the war in many ways. During the summer it was the centre through which many hundreds of British children were placed by the Department of Welfare in homes throughout Canada. Meals and entertainment were provided in Hart House during the period of medical examination. With the opening of term the reading room was turned over to the University of Toronto Training Centre Battalion as an orderly room, the golf room was made available for C.O.T.C. stores and military lectures were given in several parts of the House. The medical examinations of the entire Training Centre took place in the art gallery and graduate locker room. Officers of the C.O.T.C. were given the use of a table in the graduate dining-room for luncheon. Temporary membership was granted to approximately thirty officers of the Royal Norwegian Air Force who also used the rifle range daily for revolver practice and to fifty naval cadets taking a short course in the Department of Physics. In addition, every possible courtesy was extended to members of His Majesty's Forces in regard to admission to Sunday Concerts and Visitors' Days.

The care of Hart House and its welfare have to a large extent been entrusted to the undergraduates themselves. There are a number of standing and special committees, the personnel and duties of which, subject to the authority of the Board of Stewards, are given below. It has been the aim of these committees to ensure so far as possible the continuance of the normal activities of Hart House during war-time when it is felt they are of even greater necessity in the life of the student. Though avoiding conflict with military training schedules has not been easy the use of the House by students has not suffered greatly during the past year.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

The House Committee are concerned with the general management and social activities of Hart House. They are responsible to the Board of Stewards for seeing that the structure itself and all equipment are maintained in good repair. They deal with all matters which make for the comfort and convenience of members. The tuck shop, billiard room, barber shop and guest rooms come under their supervision. This committee are also directly concerned with the operation of the Great Hall both as regards the daily meals served to members and the large number of special functions and dinners. One of their main duties is to act as a link between the undergraduates and the Superintendent of the Great Hall. The House Committee are represented on the Board of Directors of the University Settlement and members of the committee visit the Settlement House regularly. Arrangements for the All University Fall Dance which is the first large informal dance of the year are also carried out under their guidance. They are also responsible for the management of the annual elections of Hart House committees in March.

The members of the House Committee for 1940-1941 are: Professor T. M. C. Taylor, Chairman; the Acting Warden, the Rev. G. B. Flahiff, Mr. J. J. D. Brunke, graduate representative; the Acting Comptroller, P. W. Sweetman, Ontario College of Education representative; H. A. MacMillan, Athletic Association representative; S. Armour, F. B. Fallis, J. R. Flagler, M. A. Murphy, T. F. Murphy, F. A. Perkins, L. W. Shemilt, D. H. M. Stewart, C. S. Wright, and D. L. Scott, Secretary.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE

The library in Hart House is recognised as one of the most beautiful rooms in the whole building.

In accordance with the idea of the Founders, the Library Committee have from the very first been engaged in the building up of a collection of books such as might be found in a good private library and the room has always been a popular resort for all who like to spend their leisure hours reading the casual book.

At present there are over five thousand volumes on the shelves about half of which are fiction while the rest are composed chiefly of biography, history, language and general literature. Additions to the library are made at regular intervals and the activities of the committee are mainly centred around the selection of new books for purchase. They are also making a valuable collection of private press books which are shown from time to time in a display case in the library. "Library Evenings" are held several times during the year when a selected speaker chats on his own leisure reading and a discussion follows.

The Library Committee are also responsible for the wide range of weekly and monthly journals in the reading room.

The members of the Library Committee for 1940-1941 are: Professor N. J. Endicott, Chairman; the Acting Warden, Dr. A. E. Barker, Mr. D. C. Wells, graduate representative; R. A. J. Phillips, Curator; H. L. Aboud, D. S. Bruce, J. W. F. Griffin, A. L. Haines, E. Hardy, A. R. Kilgour, G. T. Pattison, L. E. Robinson, L. M. Sussman, and J. W. Scott, Secretary.

MUSIC COMMITTEE

The Music Committee supervise all the musical activities of the House, the chief of which are the series of eight Sunday Evening Concerts and the weekly Friday Afternoon Recitals. The musicians of the city most generously make themselves responsible for these programmes as friends of Hart House. The committee also arrange popular midday sing-songs each Friday under the able leadership of Mr. G. Ross Workman and informal piano recitals which are given by undergraduate members of Hart House at noon on certain Tuesdays. During the past year, only one of the series of Sunday Evening Songsters was held. This was the only part of the musical life of the House which the committee found it impossible to continue.

The Sunday Evening Concerts were given by the following artists: The Hart House Quartet; Elsie Bennett and Madeline Bone, two piano recital; George Lambert, baritone; Choir of the Church of St. Mary Magdalene under the direction of Dr. Healey Willan; The Joyce Trio; Margaret Parsons, pianist; Zara Nelsova, 'cellist, and the Hart House Glee Club.

The members of the Music Committee for 1940-1941 are: Dr. A. M. Wynne, Chairman; the Acting Warden, Professor I. R. Pounder, Sir Ernest MacMillan, Mr. F. R. MacKelcan, graduate representative; R. M. Belyea, I. A. Blackstone, M. G. Cameron, V. N. Harbinson, N. B. MacDonald, D. C. F. Miller, D. P. Shaw, A. J. Thomson, S. G. Werry, and D. M. Bean, Secretary.

ART COMMITTEE

The activities of the Art Committee include the holding of exhibitions in the gallery and the print room, the organising of weekly art classes and informal discussions on art in the gallery. The committee in conjunction with an Advisory Committee of Artists are also responsible for the purchase of pictures. This year "Tobacco Patch" by George Pepper was added to the Hart House collection of Canadian paintings.

The exhibitions during the year have included the work of Charles Comfort, Franz Johnston, L. A. C. Panton, John Hall and E. B. Cox, and Mabel Lockerby, Marian Scott and Kathleen Morris. Other showings included etchings by Goya and drawings of Canadian War memorials, work from the Department of Architecture, the Department of Fine Art, and from the Society of Canadian Painter-Etchers and Engravers, the annual exhibition of photographs by the Camera Committee, a one-man camera show by Randolph Macdonald, the work of undergraduate members, the work of graduate members and members of the faculty, and an exhibition in April consisting entirely of work carried out at the Hart House art classes during the winter. On several occasions noon hour reviews of exhibitions were given by the artists concerned.

This year Mr. Caven Atkins who is well known as an art teacher in Toronto directed the work of the art classes. Mr. P. M. Gardiner acted as Keeper of the Prints and was assisted in this capacity by Mr. W. B. Burwell.

"Snow Clouds", by Frank Carmichael, "Beech Tree", by J. W. Beatty, "South Shore, Quebec", by Yvonne McKague, and "Saguenay River", by Charles Comfort, were loaned to the Art Gallery of Toronto for an exhibition in aid of the Red Cross. "The Pointers", by Tom Thomson, was also loaned to the Art Gallery to be shown with other pictures by the same artist.

The members of the Art Committee for 1940-1941 are: Mr. R. G. Riddell, Chairman; the Acting Warden, Dr. R. A. Cleghorn, Dr. R. E. Haist, graduate representative; P. M. Gardiner, Keeper of the Prints; W. B. Burwell, Associate Keeper of the Prints; R. S. W. Campbell, P. R. L. Charles, L. E. Downs, J. F. Freeman, B. J. Legge, A. S. Mallon, D. E. Noel, W. Shulman and J. G. Todds, Secretary.

DEBATES COMMITTEE

On 31st January 1924, the first debate ever held in Hart House took place. This debate was on the open parliamentary system, special Rules of Procedure being drawn up by the committee. The debates room in Hart House was arranged as far as possible similar to the Provincial or Federal House. After the four speakers "on the paper" had finished their speeches the debate was open to any member who having caught the Speaker's eye might rise and address the House. At 10.30 p.m. the House divided on the motion. In past years these debates have done much to encourage interest in public affairs among undergraduates and not a few men who made their debut in Hart House debates are now in public life.

Among visitors who have spoken "on the paper" or from the floor of the House are the Hon. E. C. Drury, G. S. Ewart, K.C., the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the Hon. J. W. Nickle, K.C., the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, the Hon. Manning Doherty, the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Miss Agnes Macphail, E. J. Garland, the Hon. G. S. Henry, the Hon. Ernest Lapointe, J. S. Woodsworth, the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, the Hon. H. H. Stevens, Professor Stephen Leacock, the Hon. Major C. G. Power and the Hon. Norman McL. Rogers.

During the past two years it has been thought wiser to suspend debates. It was clear that at such a time of crisis debates could not avoid being concerned directly or indirectly with the war and the rigid censorship regulations made such discussions difficult, especially in view of the wide publicity which Hart House debates receive in the press.

The members of the Debates Committee for 1940-1941 are: Professor C. A. Ashley, Chairman; the Acting Warden, Professor A. F. W. Plumptre, Mr. G. A. McGillivray and Mr. J. L. Wilson, graduate representatives; L. S. Albright, A. H. Crosbie, R. S. Harris, J. H. Hope, C. B. Livingston, T. F. O'Reilly, J. E. Wolfraim, and C. G. Sanderson, Secretary.

SQUASH RACQUETS COMMITTEE

The Squash Racquets Committee are responsible for the general control of the squash courts and the arrangement of matches with outside clubs. They also arrange the individual tournament and are in touch with the Intra-Mural Sports Committee regarding the tournament arranged by that body. This year the regular activities of the Ontario and Canadian Squash Racquets Associations, in which Hart House has always been represented, have been suspended because of the war.

During the year matches were played with the Granite Club, the Hamilton Squash Club and the Buffalo Y.M.C.A. Four representatives from Hart House attended the Province of Quebec singles tournament in Montreal and one player reached the semi-finals.

Classes for beginners and team practices were continued this year and have resulted in great enthusiasm for the game and a continued high standard of play.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Merion Vickers, Secretary of the Canadian Squash Racquets Association, several racquets were provided for use by beginners with the result that increasing numbers of new men are taking up the game.

The members of the Squash Racquets Committee for 1940-1941 are: Mr. A. B. Fennell, Chairman; the Acting Warden, Dr. R. Richmond, graduate representative; J. R. Fitzpatrick, C. S. Lazier, R. E. Mullin, J. Shusterman, and L. F. P. Fitzpatrick, Secretary.

GLEE CLUB COMMITTEE

The Glee Club Committee supervise the activities of the Hart House Glee Club which is under the enthusiastic and capable direction of Dr. Charles Peaker. Despite the difficulties of arranging times for rehearsal which would not conflict with military training and the resulting smaller membership, the Glee Club have had a thoroughly satisfactory year.

Their programme has included the usual midday carol singing in the Great Hall before Christmas, a coast-to-coast broadcast of these carols over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation from the Hall, a concert in aid of the Red Cross at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Hamilton and the annual Sunday Evening Concert on 2nd March in Hart House.

The members of the Glee Club Committee for 1940-1941 are: Dr. A. M. Wynne, Chairman; the Acting Warden, the Rev. Dr. W. H. Grant, graduate representative; Dr. Charles Peaker, Conductor; the Assistant Secretary of Hart House, D. M. Bean, H. F. Brown, C. A. Mutton, H. F. Pedlar, C. W. Shearer, R. W. Willoughby, and J. L. MacDowell, Secretary.

GRADUATE COMMITTEE

The Graduate Committee are responsible for the activities of the senior members of the House both faculty and graduate. These include dinners held at certain intervals throughout the year and the Graduates Ball which takes place on New Year's Eve, together with gymnasium classes, badminton tournaments, and golf and swimming instruction. It has been necessary however to suspend certain of these activities because of the war. The graduate dining-room, reading room and north common room also come under the supervision of this committee.

During the past year the Graduate Committee were pleased to grant membership in Hart House to Norwegian Flying Officers in training at camp "Little Norway" in Toronto.

The members of the Graduate Committee for 1940-1941 are: Mr. A. S. Burton, Chairman; the Acting Warden, A. M. Bell, Dr. J. K. W. Ferguson, R. H. Hillery, B. L. McEvoy, N. R. McKibbin, N. F. Mallon, D. B. Murray, the Assistant Secretary, and H. J. Sissons, Secretary.

CAMERA COMMITTEE

The Camera Committee, which is a special committee of Hart House, are responsible for the management of the dark rooms, the care of photographic equipment and the general encouragement of photography among the members of the House. The annual exhibition of photographic work by members of the House, arranged by this committee, took place in January when ninety-one of the one hundred and eighty-three prints submitted were hung. Each year the committee selects from its annual exhibition a few outstanding prints for a permanent collection owned by Hart House.

In the fall the committee explain to beginners the use of the valuable equipment in the rooms and later give instruction in various phases of photographic work. The interest in photography has increased from year to year and the committee have been forced several times to give serious attention to accommodation in the camera rooms.

The members of the Camera Committee for 1940-1941 are: Professor A. F. Coventry, Chairman; the Acting Warden, Mr. J. R. Macdonald, graduate representative; the Acting Comptroller, E. B. Cahoon, W. H. Craig, F. D. Evans, A. G. W. Lamont, A. J. L. Solway, and M. A. Ashworth, Secretary.

BOARD OF STEWARDS

The Board of Stewards is the governing body of the House and on it sit undergraduate, graduate and faculty representatives. The senior membership consists of two representatives of the President of the University, one representative of the Board of Governors, the Secretary of the Faculty Union and the Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association. The Chairman of the Graduate Committee represents the interests of the graduate members. The undergraduates on the Board are the Secretaries of the House, Library, Music, Art, Squash Racquets and Debates Committees as well as one representative each appointed by the Student Christian Movement, the Students' Administrative Council and the Athletic Directorate. The Board is assisted by a Finance Committee which make recommendations with regard to financial matters.

The general supervision of the whole House is entrusted to the Warden who is appointed by the Board of Governors of the University and is ex-officio chairman of the Board of Stewards: He is assisted by the Comptroller of Hart House, J. R. Gilley, S.P.S. '21; the Assistant Comptroller, W. R. Cowan, S.P.S. '24; the Secretary of Hart House, H. J. Sissons, Victoria '37; and the Assistant Secretary, E. A. Wilkinson, Victoria '38.

The Warden, Mr. J. B. Bickersteth, has been engaged in educational work with the Canadian troops in England during the past year. Mr. J. R. Gilley has been Acting Warden and Mr. W. R. Cowan Acting Comptroller in his absence.

The members of the Board of Stewards for 1940-1941 are: The Warden, Chairman ex-officio; the Rev Dr. H. J. Cody, the Hon. Vincent Massey, representative of the Board of Governors; Professor H. Wasteneys and Professor K. B. Jackson, representatives of the President; T. A. Reed, Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association; A. G. Burns, Faculty Union; A. S. Burton, Graduate Committee; S. C. Best, Student Christian Movement; W. H. Brown, Athletic Directorate; E. R. Gray, Students' Administrative Council; D. L. Scott, House Committee; J. W. Scott, Library Committee; D. M. Bean, Music Committee; J. G. Todds, Art Committee; L. F. P. Fitzpatrick, Squash Racquets Committee; C. G. Sanderson, Debates Committee; and J. R. Gilley, the Comptroller, Secretary.

THE STUDENT CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

The life of man is incomplete and meaningless without "the spirit of true religion and high endeavour". This fact was clearly perceived by the Founders of Hart House when they provided a centre for religious life within its walls. The offices of the Student Christian Movement, opening off the main corridor, bustle with activity and the beautiful little chapel adjoining is set aside for private prayer and meditation.

The activities of the Student Christian Movement are directed by a small committee, composed of representatives of the various colleges and faculties. One of the regular features of the programme arranged by this group is the series of Wednesday noon-hour addresses held from 1.30 p.m. to 2 p.m. in the music room. During the fall term the speakers were Dr. W. C. Lockhart, Rabbi Maurice Eisendrath, the Rev. C. E. Riley, the Rev. Lyndon Smith, Dr. J. Arnup, Professor R. W. Angus, Mr. N. Morrison, Mr. Andrew Brewin and the Rev. Robert Mackie, all of whom dealt with the general theme "Basic Convictions". In the second term the subject was "Your Job and God" and Canon R. A. Armstrong, the Rev. Ramsay Armitage, Dr. J. H. Couch, Mr. B. K. Sandwell, the Hon. George Hoadley, Dr. J. R. P. Sclater and Mr. E. A. Corbett were the speakers. These men, of varying professions, pointed out the opportunities which their work provided for valuable service to the community. Each week day during the fall term, morning prayers were said in the Chapel, and Holy Communion has been celebrated monthly.

On 16th February, the World Student Day of Prayers was observed. Mr. C. S. Tsai, a former student Secretary in China and England, was invited to come to the University in this connection. Mr. Tsai spoke at a dinner in Hart House held jointly by the branches of the Movement in the Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Applied Science and Engineering.

In December a very welcome visit was received from the Rev. Hugh MacMillan, General Secretary of the National Student Christian Movement. Robert Mackie, General Secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, was forced to leave his office in Geneva because of the war and is now making his headquarters at the Canadian S.C.M. office in Toronto. His presence provides a rare opportunity of sharing his vast knowledge of world Christianity.

Since the resignation of Dr. Lockhart, Mr. A. J. Coleman has been carrying on in the capacity of Associate Secretary. A graduate of 1939, Mr. Coleman was President of the Student Christian Movement during his final year as an undergraduate at the University of Toronto.

University College Literary and Athletic Association

THE "Lit." Executive has concluded another most successful year in the administration of the Undergraduate activities in the College, and despite the extra demands made on time by military training on the campus, a keen and vigorous interest in the Society's activities has been shown by its members.

Our open meetings this year have featured entertainments by our members, in the form of impromptu acts and skits. Mr. Wilson Woodside, news commentator for the C.B.C., was a most interesting speaker at one of our meetings. At the nomination meeting, the finals of the Robinette debates were held, the trophy being won this year by Eric Hardy and Bob Phillips. Jim Carson was elected winner of the Maurice Cody Prize.

The Undergraduate under its Editor, Ken McNaught, produced one of the best issues in the history of the magazine. In order to keep the members abreast of events in the college, a bulletin board in the Rotunda was utilized, and opportunity was given to the students of contributing pictures of College activities to be used on the board or in the Undergraduate.

The "Follies", directed by the Social Director Cliff. Blackall and Assistant Producer Tom Jarvis, again produced a brilliant show, with its usual famed galaxy of glamour girls. The song Hits of the "Follies" were so popular that they were featured by Richard Avonde at our Arts Ball and the Junior-Senior, and both these affairs gained greatly in popularity among the student body. Contributions were made from the "Follies" to war work on the Campus.

A feature of special interest this year was the joint open meetings of the "Lit." and the W.U.A. They proved so popular that three rather than the usual two were held, the third being organized by the Executives of the various years.

Joint Executive meetings of the two bodies were held regularly and this close co-operation aided greatly in making the College activities the success they have been.

University College Women's Undergraduate Association

THE Women's Undergraduate Association is the self-government organization to which every woman in University College belongs. The W.U.A. Council, in its weekly meetings, and in its joint meetings with the Men's "Lit", supervises the interests of U.C. women in all fields of college life.

The year begins with the Freshie-Senior House-party in Whitney Hall, and the initiation of freshies. During the year the W.U.A. joins with the Men's "Lit" in the management and subsidy of all U.C. social events, for example the Arts Ball and various year parties.

The W.U.A. supervises and subsidizes all women's athletics.

The W.U.A. appoints women's representatives to the staffs of The Undergraduate, The U.C. Follies, the International Student Service Committee, and the University Debates Committee. This year it sponsored a series of lectures by Dr. Davey.

The W.U.A. grants subsidies to the Women's Glee Club, the Players' Guild, the French Club, the S.C.M., and The Undergraduate.

Campaigns were organized, and grants made, in support of the Federated Charities and International Student Service; and U.C. women tagged in aid of the Red Cross, and for Greek War Relief. A party is given each year for children of the University Settlement School.

The W.U.A.'s year ends with a Joint Meeting, attended by U.C. men and women, at which the Council presents skits; the Open Meeting for the nomination of officers for the coming year; the elections; and the Graduation Banquet.

University College Players' Guild

THE renewal of an old custom, an enlarged membership including representatives of S.P.S., Meds, and Wycliffe, which do not have dramatic societies of their own, and better organized play preparation with more members taking part, have marked the 1940-1941 season for the University College Players' Guild.

Under the sponsorship of the University Drama Committee, the Guild presented two plays in the fall Wednesday afternoon series. The first was "Air Raid", a wartime drama by Keith Winters, directed by Elizabeth Stone, and the second Alice Gerstenberg's comedy of the eccentricities of a Swedish Maid, "The Unseen", directed by Alice Wickson.

The second part of the fall activities was the preparation of the Guild Theatre Night, on the stage of the Women's Union. It was preceded by a month during which representatives of the Guild could be found almost daily in or around the theatre, struggling with lights, rehearsing scenes, or learning make-up. As a result, three plays were presented on November 29th; they were G. B. Shaw's "The Fatal Gazogene", Irving Shaw's "Bury the Dead", and Ben Bengal's "Plant in the Sun". In their production almost every Guild member had a part, behind the stage if not on it. The Theatre Night was a revival of an old Guild custom of an annual full-length evening's entertainment, and the response to it was encouraging.

Addresses were given to the Players' Guild by John Holden who discussed the future of the theatre and of the young would-be actor, and by Mavor Moore, President of the Guild, who outlined the mysteries of stage make-up.

The Guild was represented in the University Drama Festival by Christopher Morley's "Bedroom Suite", directed by Mavor Moore. It was placed second in the Cody Award Competition.

At the time of writing, two more plays are to be given by the Guild under the University Drama Committee. They will form part of the Committee's new monthly University Theatre Nights, intended to replace the Wednesday afternoon series.

The Undergraduate Magazine

IT has been said that "almost anything may happen to the Undergraduate in future years". It has come to pass. The Undergraduate of 1941 is destined to be the most streamlined publication on this campus.

The new policy of the magazine is one of catering to as many intelligent undergraduates as is humanly possible. Photography has been given a position of prominence, but of course this does not mean that the high standard of literary contributions has in any way been compromised.

The University College Literary and Athletic Society along with The Women's Undergraduate Association and The University College Alumni have generously supplied the wherewithal to foster such an undertaking.

There remain only two final considerations—plan to make the Undergraduate even better in the future and please patronise the advertisers to whom we are greatly indebted.

University College Men's Residence

SOCIALLY and academically, the spirit of "73" has pervaded almost every University College organization and event in 1940-41.

Within the Residence proper, the Dance Committee has attempted to provide bigger and better parties than ever before and within limits it has succeeded in doing that very thing.

As a political nest "73" has in no way lost ground. It almost seems at times as if the whole year were just one great campaign for some office or other. The House proudly boasts of seven or eight men in the University College Literary and Athletic Executive.

In the sphere of athletics, the House has likewise excelled by consistently providing a certain number of first-rate players for the various college teams. Ping-pong as a residence sport was enhanced this year by the purchase of a new table and as the saying goes, "it has been enjoyed by all."

The House welcomed unanimously its new tutor, Mr. J. E. L. Graham. He and his coffee pot have come to be well-known to everyone in the residence.

Dean Cochrane as usual treated the House to his traditional Dean's Christmas Party and from all reports "it was the best yet". Moreover, he continually impressed on tardy freshman and serious senior alike the necessity of upholding their 100 per cent passing average for at least another year.

Victoria College Union

THE executive of the Victoria College Union is elected by the undergraduates of the College, and acts as their official representatives. A central organization is thus provided, through which men and women may express united sentiment and accomplish official action. The "V.C.U." affiliates all existing societies under one administrative body and is responsible for their financial welfare. It subsidizes entirely the Debating Parliament, the Women's Literary Society, and Acta Victoriana, the official undergraduate publication.

This year the activities of the "V.C.U." have been many and varied. The interest of the undergraduates in the affairs of the College has been at a maximum throughout, and instead of the customary two open meetings, this year there have been five. By a majority vote, election campaigning has been introduced, the "V.C.U." constitution has been amended, and a constitution for the Women's Athletic Association has been drawn up. These are but a suggestion of the innumerable tasks which have confronted the executive this year.

The Men's Soph-Frosh "tussle" was revived after a year's absence, and the "Bob" lived up to tradition by being the "best ever produced".

A season of highly successful social events was climaxed by the annual Victoria College At-Home, an occasion which brings together undergraduates, graduates and faculty members for an evening of colourful enjoyment.

Annesley Student Government Association

THE Annesley Student Government Association is the result of a petition sent to the Senate of Victoria College in the year 1912. This petition expressed the feeling then prevalent among the students that it was highly advisable to assume individual and communal responsibility in the life and conduct of the Women's Residences. Such responsibility, it was thought, would make for the development of character and the promotion of loyalty to the best interests of the residences. The Association was founded upon an agreement between the authorities of Victoria College and the resident women students, which agreement entrusted to the latter the management of all non-academic matters pertaining to conduct while in residence. Annesley Hall was the first women's residence in Canada to adopt this system of self-government and with necessary modifications it has been functioning steadily and effectively since its introduction. Each woman student in the residences of Victoria College is automatically a member of A.S.G.A. and is subject to the legislation of its constitution. Representation on the executive from each of the four years is a factor in realizing the individual responsibility which each girl owes to the party she herself has helped to elect. It is the spirit of active co-operation between executive and members which is one of the reasons for the many practical successes attained since the inauguration of the system. The other reason is the sympathetic support given to the Association by Dean Jessie Macpherson and by the Dons, as a body and as individuals. With such assistance A.S.G.A. may hope to accomplish even more in the future and show itself a greater power in the life of Victoria College.

The Sixty-Eighth Bob

ONCE again the Bob Committee congratulated themselves upon being the best committee ever. Once again the Bob Director, in this case genial Frank Evans, pronounced himself the best director in sixty-eight years of Bob productions. This, of course, is the traditional conceit of Bob Committees. Every Bob Committee is a collection of geniuses, every Bob the best of all.

Once again, in accordance with tradition, the long suffering Vic profs were exposed to the incoming frosh with brutal frankness, thereby eradicating the frosh superstition that professors are intellectual giants and are entitled to some slight respect. The professors, poor old chaps, were knocked off their pedestals. The frosh realized that their gods had feet of clay. Thereby one of the functions of the Bob was realized.

Once again, with vigour and wit, the frosh were chastened severely and their humble status pointed out to them in no ambiguous terms.

Once again a riotous time was had by all, and after the skits, to the accompaniment of ribald songs, the assembled multitude went up to Alumni Hall and danced, the sophs stealing the freshmen's girls with typical sophmoric ruthlessness.

THE STAFF OF ACTA VICTORIANA

ACTA VICTORIANA

AN undergraduate body and any group within it can be elements in the nation's culture. Around this thought the policy of Acta Victoriana defined itself this year with a purpose to express something of the atmosphere of Victoria College, something of its own group and something of the modest grandeur that is Canada. And in doing so it has conformed to a long, fine tradition.

Further, Acta capitalized on its amateur status to encourage and embody experiment;—and discovered eventually how to make the ends of wisdom and valour meet.

Any glory due a publication refracts in two directions: upon those who make it and those who make it possible. For Acta these people have been a splendidly eccentric Editorial Staff and a generous student body,—and that man behind the scenes, that puller of strings and surprises, the Business Manager.

The Victoria College Music Club

SURMOUNTING many difficulties due to the war, lack of time for rehearsal and the like, which threatened the success of the club's production this year, the Victoria College Music Club presented the light opera "San Toy" with an enthusiasm and excellence that made it one of the best in years. Reviewers from Toronto papers were unstinting in their praise of the show and audiences at every performance were liberal in their applause. In his fourteenth year as musical director of the club's productions, Thomas J. Crawford, Mus.B., F.R.C.O., received an especially fine tribute from the critics for his excellent handling of the operetta.

With over a hundred members taking part in the club's activities this year, the cast of "San Toy" had a fine group of students from which to draw. Rehearsals for the show were held two nights weekly, from the middle of October till the show was staged the middle of January. Members of the cast were well rewarded for their hard work, however, by the enjoyment gained in putting on such a fine musical comedy.

"San Toy", whose chief author was Sidney Jones of "Geisha Girl" fame, was a departure from the usual fare of the Music Club—Gilbert and Sullivan. Nevertheless, few of the cast, and few of those who saw it, will soon forget the delightful tunes from the show, which include such favourites as "The Moon Song", "Rhoda", and "Twentieth Century Days".

The Victoria College Dramatic Society

THIS year the Victoria College Dramatic Society had one of its most successful seasons to date. After a hectic beginning occasioned by constant changings of the executive the club began to function splendidly. Two successful one-act plays were presented in Hart House Theatre at the regular Wednesday afternoon series and a third highlighted the Theatre Night in February. The plays in Alumni Hall, while not as numerous as last year, were of a better standard. Read-through groups and diction classes continued as previously. The major event of the year was the Society's production of "Family Portrait", which was exceptionally well-done and more than exceptionally well-received. The cast, together with the technical staff, consisted of more than half of the club's record membership of 133. In this effort, the Society was aided by W. S. Milne as the Director and by Mrs. Milne, who designed settings and costumes. Probably the peak of the year was reached by the capturing of the Cody Award by Vic for the first time in its history. The ancient script of "The Valiant" was the rusty weapon chosen for this assault, but, it was the expert treatment delivered to the play that was responsible for the garnering of the honours and much credit is due to Tom Paton, the Director. The climax of a sensational year came with the Black and White At-Home held in Wymilwood in February, a focal point being a punch-bowl of milk, aided and abetted by chocolate cake—a fitting conclusion to a financially and artistically successful season.

Trinity College Board of Stewards

UP until a few years ago, all matters concerning the male students of Trinity College were dealt with by an assembly of the whole student body, known as the College Meeting. But, as a result of the increase in both the amount and the complexity of the business with which the students were faced, it became apparent that some form of executive structure would be necessary for efficient administration. Accordingly, in the fall of 1935, the College Meeting created an executive body, known as the Board of Stewards.

The Board is composed of the Dean of Residence, the Head of College, the Trinity representative to the S.A.C., a representative from the Literary Institute, a representative from the Athletic Association, and a resident and a non-resident representative from each of the three senior years.

By its constitution, the Board must report to the College Meeting at least twice each term, thus affording the students an opportunity of discussing the problems with which the Board is faced.

In its brief history, the Board has proved itself to be one of the indispensable bodies in Trinity College.

The Trinity College Literary Institute

THE Trinity College Literary Institute is entering its eighty-ninth year as an academic forum of Trinity College. The chief purpose of the "Lit." is to encourage public speaking among the students and to encourage their abilities along this line.

It is a parliamentary debating Society. Meetings are held every Friday. During the past term an innovation of five Wednesday meetings was tested and found unsatisfactory. A vote taken after ten meetings, five Wednesday, five Friday, returned the meeting night to the original Friday.

The House is divided into Government and Opposition. The latter has the duty of finding every possible flaw in the former's discharge of its duties and it in turn has the duty of seeing that no such fault can be found. The Government is in charge of reading matter and periodicals in Common Rooms and of the newspapers which form a welcome barricade, behind which at breakfast, the Honourable and sleep-stained Members of College may retire.

The life of the Government depends on its ability to win debates (one is held every meeting) and to discharge efficiently its duties in regard to reading rooms and so forth. If two successive Debates are lost by the Government, the Opposition is automatically in power. If discontent over inefficiency reaches the proportions of a successful want of confidence vote, the Government is also ousted.

Finally, the "Lit." is in charge of the Trinity College Conversazione, one of the foremost of annual campus dances.

The Trinity University Review

THIS year, the fifty-second in the lifetime of The Review, marked the beginning of a highly significant new epoch in its existence. For over half a century devoted to the activities and interests of the male students of Trinity alone, it is now, by a motion of amalgamation passed last year by the College Meetings of Trinity and St. Hilda's, a co-educational publication. The measure was not carried without stalwart opposition from die-hard sentimentalists on both sides; but it seems now to be generally felt that the change was not unworthy of Trinity ideals both of the past and of the future. It is in one sense unfortunate that the St. Hilda's Chronicle, the oldest women's college magazine in Canada, should have been abolished after some thirty years of publication. But the members of St. Hilda's are also ipso facto women of Trinity; and this fact is marked, in a new and more fruitful manner, by the unity of this new joint enterprise.

As this is written, four issues of the amalgamated publication have been presented to the inspection of a greatly enlarged body of critics, graduate as well as undergraduate. To the hard-pressed editorial staff, painfully engaged in the grievous labour of extracting contributions from the distracted members of a university in a world at war, the support of the members of St. Hilda's has been a god-send.

The policy and ideals of The Review are still consistent with the tradition established in the long-gone days of the Rouge et Noir: faithfully to mirror that flux of ideas and events which is the life of the College; vividly to comment on contemporary affairs; and, in the hope that from their ranks will derive worthy additions to the literature of Canada, to give to the budding literati of Trinity every opportunity to express in more untrammelled forms than is possible in academic essays, their opinions, visions, and dreams. Long may it continue so to do.

ST. HILDA'S COLLEGE HOUSE COMMITTEE

First Row: Rosemary Annesley, Head of College; Mrs. Kirkwood, Dean; Louise Matthew, Head of Third Year.

St. Hilda's College House Committee

THE House Committee of St. Hilda's College consists of the Principal, Mrs. Kirkwood, the Head of College, and the Heads of the other three years. It meets to consider house rules and matters of decorum and discipline which may be further discussed at the college meetings, attended by all members of college. The three senior student members of the committee automatically form the executive of the college meeting. The heads of the years are chosen according to the academic standing with which they enter university, and barring unforeseen mishaps, keep the position for four years.

St .Hilda's is not just a residence, but a college in its own right, with its own institutions, such as the Literary Society, and the W.A., which sponsors social service work, Red Cross work, and an annual bazaar, proceeds of which are devoted to missionary work.

The House Committee also acts as the executive for the annual St. Hilda's dance, which this year was held as a benefit dance in aid of the St. Hilda's School in Erindale, which was recently brought out from England. The other big dance of the year is the Soph-Junior-Senior, which is given by the sophomores and non-graduating Juniors in honour of the graduating year.

The year system which prevails in St. Hilda's implies the precedence of the upper years and the possession by each year of its own functions—duties and privileges as well as plays, debates and dances. The two senior years are responsible for the standards of conduct and discipline, while the chief duty of the second year is to train the Freshies "in the way that they should go".

We have no real initiation, but in its place a solemn gowning ceremony at the beginning of the year when the First Year formally "dons the gown", and later, usually on October 31st, a mysterious ceremony known as "dubbing", calculated to strike terror into the hearts of the Freshies.

Among other St. Hilda's institutions are the receptions for the Trinity men, and the Trinity-St. Hilda's songsters, held this year for the first time, but destined, we hope, to become an established function.

St. Hilda's Literary Society

THIS year the "Lit." carried out with considerable success a programme of year-plays and inter-year debates, with the usual keen competition among the participants and interest on the part of the other members. The choice of plays was varied and in some cases ambitious; the debates drew forth spirited comment in the cross-floor discussions following them. We are grateful to our judges, graduates of the college, for their interest and helpful advice. These regular meetings were supplemented by two others—the first, our opening meeting, at which we had a guest speaker, and the second a visit from the members of the Wycliffe Literary Society, at which a lively debate was held, followed by less formal entertainment. The year's activities closed with the Literary Society Dinner, at which awards were made to the winning years for plays and debates.

Wycliffe College Literary Society

ALL affairs relating to the Student Body at Wycliffe, with the exception of athletics, come under the jurisdiction of the Literary Society. This Society functions under a completely parliamentary system of government. The business of the College is carried on by the party in power at the time, which party may be thrown out of office at any time by a successful vote of non-confidence carried by the Opposition.

This year the reins of power have been held twice during the session by each party. The Society has also been active in a social way, in holding a hike, a sleigh-ride, a Carol Service, the annual At-Home, and a debate with the St. Hilda's Lit. A new feature of the Society's programme has been the inauguration of Sunday Teas which coincide with the dates of Sunday Evening Concerts at Hart House.

The Permanent Executive of 1940-41 was headed by the President, Owen P. Prichard, B.A., and the Party Leaders were John R. Flagler, B.A., and V. D. Wigmore.

Knox College Association

THE Knox College Association is an official organization representing the students residing within Knox College, and a government which administers the affairs and directs the activities pertaining to residence life.

The House Committee, with the willing co-operation of all the members, has succeeded in maintaining the position of Knox as one of the best residences on the Campus. The Worship Committee promotes and conducts religious worship in the residence with evening worship and morning chapel services. During the year communion service is held in the College chapel by the members of the faculty for all men in residence. The Athletic Committee promotes all intramural and inter-house athletics and has at all times ably represented Knox in University athletics. The Social Committee conducts all the social activities of the College, providing an informal Fall party, the annual Christmas dinner, bowling nights, skating nights, and the formal Knox "At Home" in the spring term.

The monthly meetings of the Association, being parliamentary in form, provide opportunities for debate and development in extemporaneous speaking. Constructive criticism from the opposition benches not only enlivens the meetings, but makes for efficiency on the part of the Government.

As a government, the Association holds as ideal a democratic and genuine fellowship for the whole student body.

Knox College Residence

KNOX College Residence, while mainly for those men who are preparing for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, is also a university home for many students of other faculties. Almost every faculty of the University is represented in the Residence, as is almost every stage of college life, from that of the freshman to that of the post-graduate, and among her numbers Knox is proud to possess many men who have won high scholastic awards. The varied interests of Knox men contribute to the corporate life of the student body and go far to broaden the outlook of the individual.

Student government prevails in the Residence, and without any severe measure of discipline it aims to provide a congenial atmosphere in which lasting friendships and pleasant memories will be cultivated. In this work there are many opportunities for administrative experience.

Knox College is one of the most beautiful buildings of its kind and it provides the facilities required to satisfy all the needs, spiritual and physical, of those who enjoy its hospitality. The gymnasium is very conducive to intra-mural and inter-house athletics and Knox is unique among the University residences with its athletic facilities. Thus the men who leave it this year do so regretfully, but with them they will long carry treasured thoughts of old Knox.

Emmanuel College Students' Society

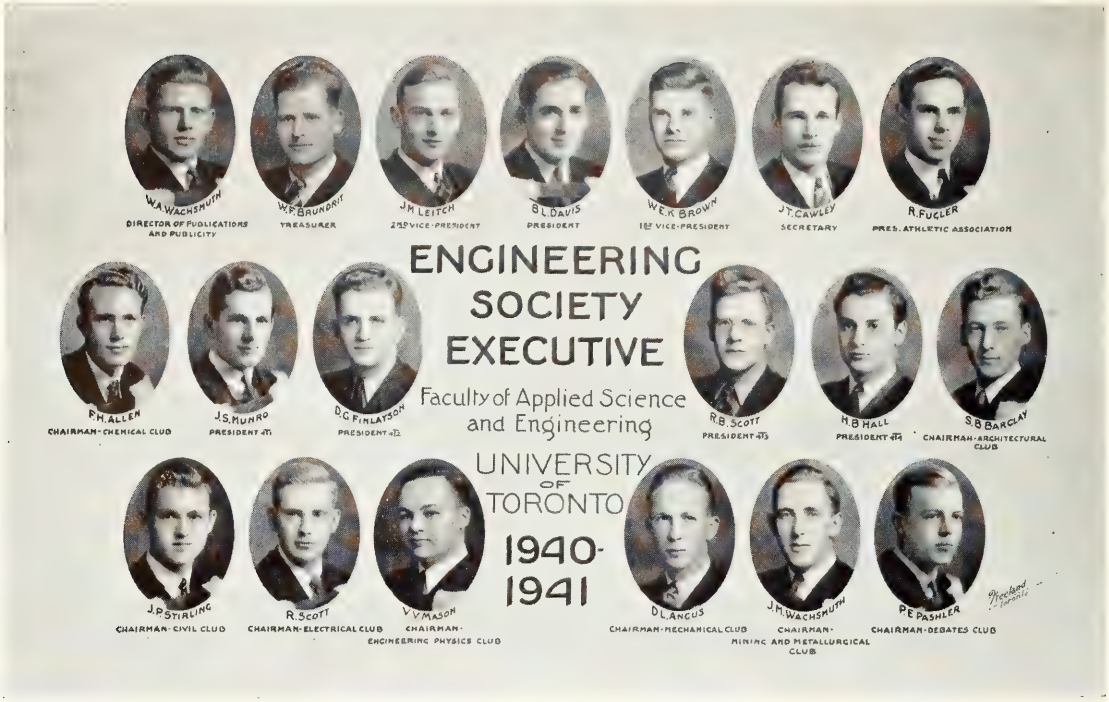
OF fundamental importance to any individual is his relationship with his God and his fellow men. The E.C.S.S. strives through its various organizations to provide opportunities for enriching and deepening such experiences.

The Worship Committee, through the media of morning chapel service and evening "house worship", gives occasion for corporate devotions. Private devotions have been enriched for many in response to the annual spiritual retreat.

The Theological Society meets regularly, seeking new light on questions that influence basic attitudes and activities of the minister. The Society takes its place in the Theological College Union for discussion of similar questions of common interest.

Education in, and field for practice of, responsibilities to our fellow men is given through the activities of the Missionary Committee. The Missionary Conference seeks to bring the world situation clearly to the fore. Interest this year was reflected in an increased budget. This same spirit was further shown in the ready response to such appeals as the International Students' Service.

During a time when the world is experiencing special stress, it is gratifying to note spontaneous gatherings of a few men for meditation and devotion; other groups for study of social problems and methods of attacking them; others to hear special speakers with a variety of interest—all reflecting a desire to improve their own relationship with their God and their fellow men, and an interest in making such available for others. If the E.C.S.S. has encouraged such spontaneity, it knows some success in the fulfilling of its function.



Engineering Society

IN the four years from 1937-1941, the world has seen the most shattering events in history. In these four years the cloistered atmosphere of the University have slipped away, as Varsity men, graduates and undergraduates, have had the full responsibilities of citizenship in a great democracy placed upon their not unwilling shoulders. It seems likely that the University, with its associations and memories, will hold a more sacred place in our recollection than it has for any other class.

For Schoolmen, School and the Engineering Society, are indivisible. From the moment we entered College, green ties draped proudly, to our last look at the Little Red Schoolhouse, the Engineering Society has played a great part in our University careers.

Socially, the Engineering Society is the hub of School life. The year parties, School Dinner, the "At-Home", School Nite, are all unforgettable affairs.

The Engineering Society meetings at which prominent engineers discuss Engineering and general topics, provide a valuable supplement to our academic courses.

Despite the difficulties due to military training, and the shorter term, the Engineering Society has carried on its activities with the same vigour as ever.

In closing, we of 4T1 pass on the duties of the Engineering Society to 4T2, confident that they will maintain its high traditions.

S.P.S. Fourth Year

AS we sit here and review the events of the past four years, we wonder if you 4T1 men recall some of the highlights as we do. I am sure you all remember our freshman year, and especially those first few weeks with that little bit of dynamite, Murray Scott, the Soph President, herding us around like sheep, or introducing us to the tap in the basement.

In our second year with Herb Coons at the helm, we gave the Frosh a reception long to be remembered. This type of initiation now seems to be a thing of the past, we are sorry to say.

Then came our third year, and we realized that in those first two years that we must have been doing some studying besides enjoying School life for here we were half way through our stay at School.

Entering our Fourth Year we found it hard to believe that we were now Seniors—the Graduating Class. It was now our turn to have a Graduation Ball, that inevitable explosion of the social whirl which we had been looking forward to for all these years. This year the Grad Ball was a reunion for those who have been called out of School due to the war, besides being the finale for those of us who are left.

And so, as we leave the portals of the Little Red Schoolhouse, we take off our hats in respect to School, just as we did when we entered four years ago. We have enjoyed our stay, we now have a profession to be proud of, one of great value to our country and ourselves, and so may we go out into the world and do our part to make it a better place in which to live.

School Dinner

THURSDAY evening, November 21st, 1940, again saw hordes of hungry Schoolmen converging on the Great Hall, as they began the second half-century of this oldest of campus traditions. Again undergraduates, graduates, professors, and honoured guests sat down to tables groaning with their load of tasty fowl, plus garnishings de luxe—all prepared to the nth degree of culinary efficiency.

The highlight of the evening for many of us was the presentation to Dean Mitchell, our champion of the last 22 years, of an engraved cigarette case and cigar box, following an address by the Chairman, Bruce Davis, which briefly sketched our debt to the Dean, and our regret in losing him.

Thunderous applause attested to every Schoolman's support of his words, and the Dean's reply, as he said his official farewell, was both touching and sincere.

The guest of honour and speaker of the evening, the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, gave us a most interesting insight into those qualities of the Englishman that have enabled him to come so far, and will bring him safely through his present troubles. He stressed our country's good fortune in being a part of the British Commonwealth of Nations and urged us to give the fullest support to Great Britain in the attainment of peace and the re-adjustment that will follow.

Reluctantly, but heartily, we gave the closing "Toike Oike", and filed out of the echoing hall—taking with us the memory of a School Dinner that next year's committee will find it difficult if not impossible to surpass.

School Nite

THE engineers' annual invasion into the field of entertainment made Friday, February 7th, 1941, a memorable date. This year, School Nite broke all records in every department, as scores of couples thronged the halls of Hart House in their samplings of every type of entertainment one could ask for.

Another of the famous Brisco Revues started the evening off with the proper bang. The acts included a glimpse of the Gay Nineties, a circus side-show, a celebrated quiz program, original songs by Bill Brisco and Tom Watson, and more—much more. Questions heard were, "How did they do it in the time they had?" and, "Where did that calliope come from?"

After the show, dancing was enjoyed to the strains of the Modernaires, Jimmy Namaro, Frank Bogart,—and Charlie Hannigan and his Mountaineers. This last was an innovation much enjoyed by Miners and Civils who learned their square dancing in a much different atmosphere at Survey Camp.

The genial patronage of Mrs. H. J. Cody, Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Mrs. J. W. Bain, Mrs. C. G. Williams, Mrs. G. B. Langford, Mrs. G. A. Guess, Mrs. W. J. Smither, Mrs. G. R. Lord, Mrs. W. J. T. Wright, Mrs. W. M. Treadgold, and Mrs. H. H. Madill, enhanced the occasion and made it a very enjoyable evening for the committee.

There are just two things left to say: the whole evening was superb,—and to the School Nite Committee, well done!

School At-Home

ON the night of January 17th, 1941, upwards of five hundred Schoolmen and their ladies fair headed Royal York-wards for that greatest of social functions—the School formal.

On entering the ballroom, attention was first drawn to the murals which covered three of the four walls. Designed and painted by our hard-working Architects, they presented a complete record of the work and relaxations of each and every department in the faculty, as well as a graphic illustration of life in the C.O.T.C.

Music, as supplied by Bob Shuttleworth and his fourteen-piece orchestra, was well varied to please those who like it slow and sweet or the solid jive. In fact, the music was so good that when three o'clock rolled around and dancing was to end, popular demand induced the band to play until 3.30—when we grudgingly agreed to go home.

Starting at 11.15 we were entertained for an hour by a floor show to end all floor shows. Just to mention some of the features, there were tumbling sailors, a comic adagio team, two Southern tap artists, singers — and even "horse races" in which members of the audience could show off their equestrian skill.

Patronesses of the evening were: Mrs. H. J. Cody, Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Mrs. R. W Angus, Mrs. G. A. Guess, Mrs. J. W. Bain, Mrs. C. R. Young, Mrs. A. R. Zimmer, Mrs. W. J. T. Wright, Mrs. C. G. Williams, Mrs. G. B. Langford, Mrs. R. R. McLaughlin, Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Madill.

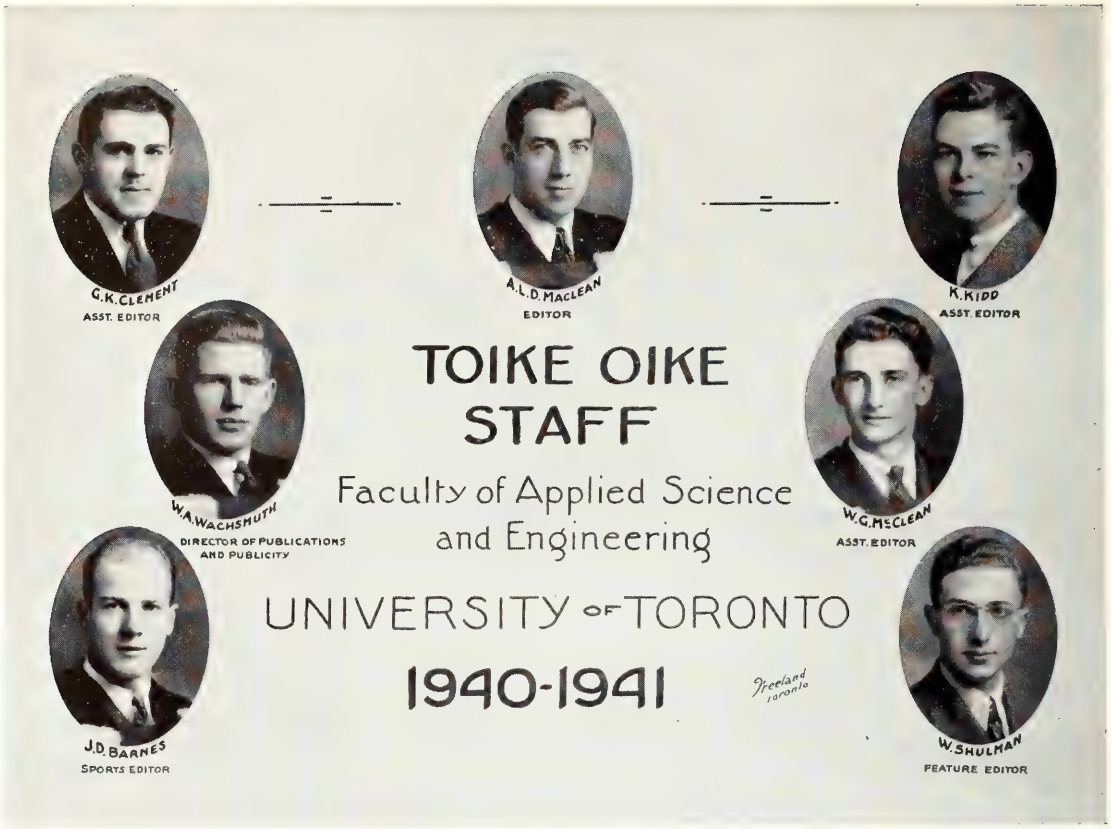
Architectural Club

LET us glance in retrospect at the past year. There we were last Fall all up at Gull Lake sketching with Mr. F. J. Brigden, the well-known artist, as our guest. Say, do you remember the midnight walks and the cow chasing Bud Morley over the fence? Who could forget. Who designed the collapsible cots? It wasn't "Corb"—that we're sure.

Then the Club returned to the "studio" and laid plans for the coming year which were to include talks on modern materials and visits to jobs.

It started to carry out its plans with a talk on modern architecture by Dr. E. Faludi. This was followed in rapid succession by a trip to a modern house under construction and another house of colonial tendencies. A skiing trip to Aurora which went under the guise of studying the Early Ontario Architecture of that district, ended disastrously when Prof. Arthur plunged feet first into a snowbank and shattered his knee. He is still hobbling around and can tell when it is going to rain. The Club sincerely hopes that he will soon recover. Then an interval of time elapsed with nothing extraordinary happening. The plans were beginning to flag. Finally a talk on plywoods was given by Mr. A. H. Copeland. This was probably the most practical and interesting speaker that this Club had had in five years.

In conclusion, we two who are graduating wish you all good luck, and cheerio.



Toike Oike

THE Toike Oike, the most important link between the Engineering Society Executive and the men of School, has successfully carried out its functions, stated as being "devoted to the undergraduates of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering". There were the usual eight editions this year, each announcing an important event in the life of Schoolmen.

The first issue contained rules and advice for the bewildered Frosh. Next came the Reception, the School Dinner and the Christmas Editions at more or less regular intervals.

The New Year was started off with a bang with the School At-Home edition, followed closely by the feature issue of the year, the School Nite Edition. A contest was held to obtain a suitable cover for this number, which serves as a programme for School Nite, and the entries were all excellent. The cover decided upon was the work of Charles Worsley, a second year Architecture student.

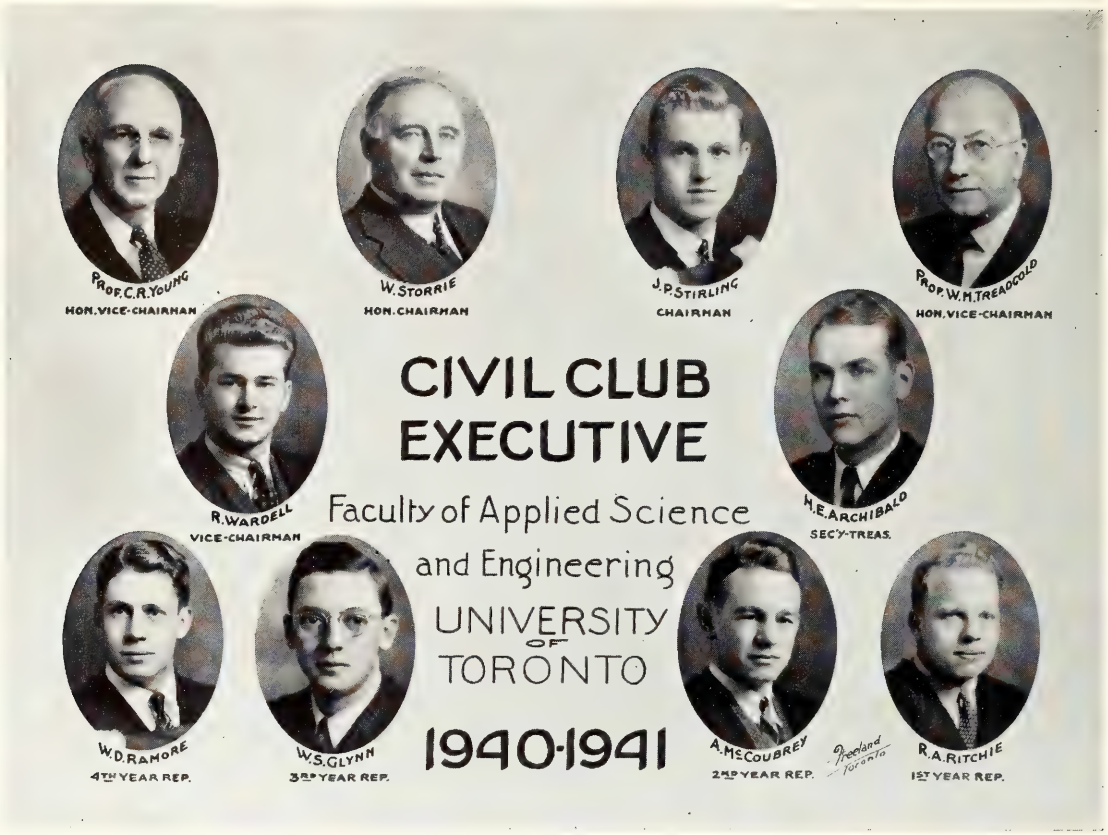
The term was successfully brought to a close with the Election edition in which the candidates for various offices advertised their abilities; and the Graduation edition, published with the thought that this was the end of a very full and enjoyable four years.

Transactions and Year Book

DURING the past year, as an artilleryman would say, we have been under constant harassing fire. The war has put extra strain on all of us, disrupted our time-tables, shortened our academic year, and next year will rearrange all our courses. Many have been prematurely graduated to serve in the Armed Forces or in some vital war industry. No sooner was the Editorial Staff selected than the Business Manager left to join the air force, leaving his department in new but capable hands. Then, early in February the Editor-in-Chief left for the army, after which the whole staff co-operated in typical "School" manner to produce a book up to the standard of former years.

The academic, military, sports and social highlights have again been recorded. Speeches, dinners, dances, and parties have all received their share of attention as well as technical aspects as presented in papers or before the Society's general meetings.

This year's edition is dedicated to Dean Mitchell, who after twenty-one years of service, is leaving with the class of 4T1. Those of us who are his fellow-graduates will remember him always as the man responsible for our School Spirit which will never die.



Civil Club

ONCE again the time has come to recount the year's activities of the Civil Club.

The season commenced with an initiation dinner in the Great Hall of Hart House, during which the executive and the members of the staff were introduced to the incoming men. At this first meeting, the members very appropriately listened to the broadcast of the speech by Dr. T. H. Hogg on "Engineers in the War Effort."

On the 29th of October, the Club made its annual field trip to the plants of the Cooksville Company and the Hamilton Bridge Company. In the evening, the members were entertained by the Hamilton Bridge Company at a dinner, followed by brief addresses. After this the Civils were turned loose on the town.

Two speakers at Club Smokers during the Fall term were Mr. R. Lemire of the Transmission Department of the Ontario Hydro, and Mr. Wm. Storrie, the Honorary Chairman of the Civil Club.

Mr. Lemire gave a colourful address on the construction of power lines in Northern Ontario. Mr. Storrie presented a most interesting and valuable talk on "Tendering on Public Works."

In the early days of January, the Civil, Mining and Metallurgical Clubs held a joint "Exam Dance" which was a success from every point of view.

At this time, the executive wish to acknowledge the whole-hearted support of all the students and especially the interest shown by our Honorary Chairman, Mr. Storrie, and the members of the staff.

Debating Club

THE Debates Club offers an opportunity to Schoolmen not to be found in any other organization in this Faculty; for at no other club is the discussion carried on exclusively by undergraduates.

This year a large number of Schoolmen took advantage of this opportunity by taking part in the debates and in the Impromptu Speaking Contest.

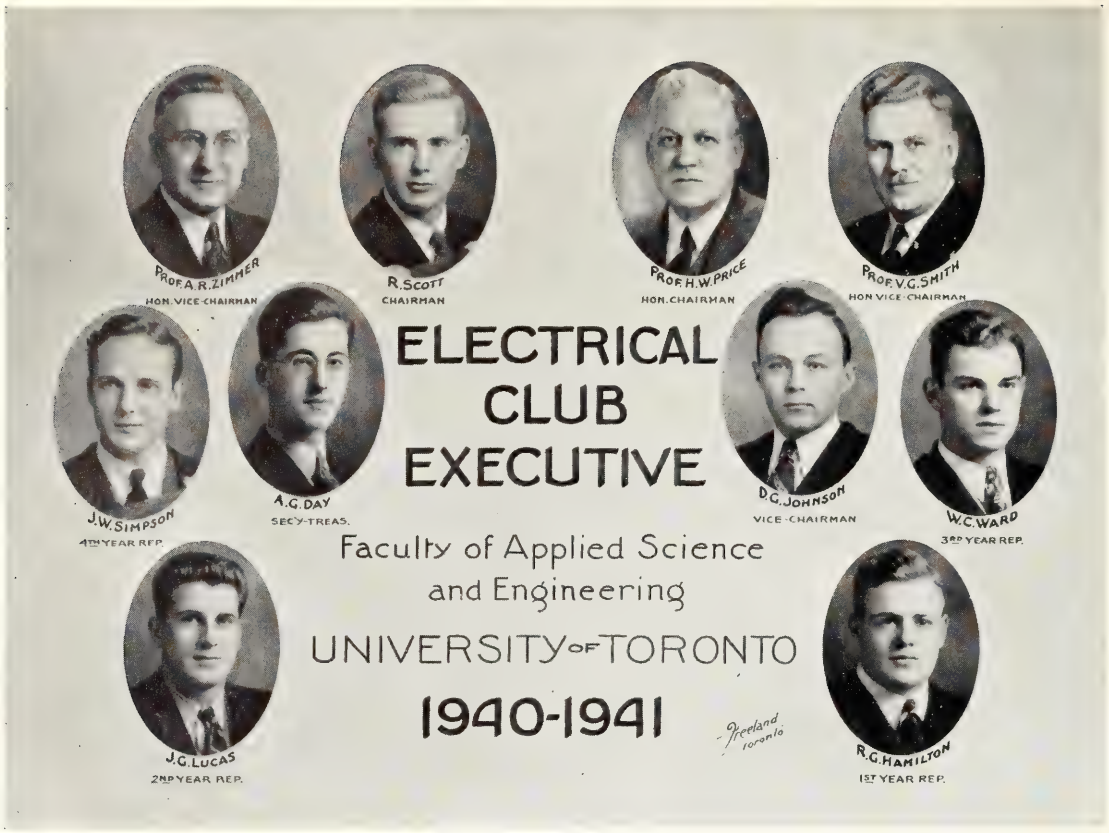
At the first meeting the interesting topic of United States' participation in the war was discussed by Bernard Etkin and Park Reilly, and in the comments which followed the whole subject was thoroughly aired.

The Impromptu Speaking Contest was a very popular feature, its popularity being enhanced by the cash prizes offered for the best speeches. The winner was Jack Ames of Fourth Year, who spoke on "Field Trips".

The Engineering Institute of Canada entrusted the Club with the task of selecting the men who were to take part in its Annual Student Night. Some very interesting papers were delivered at the election meetings.

The Annual Segsworth Trophy Debates attracted a good deal of attention with the first debate between Third and Fourth teams on "Resolved that the Graduating Class in Engineering is more useful in industrial than in military activities". Jack Simpson and Dud Barnes for Fourth year on the affirmative were overpowered by the arguments of the Third Year team, Park Reilly and Charlie Livingstone.

The Club's activities were curtailed somewhat this year by the demands of military training and the shortened second term, but despite this, a very successful year was enjoyed, and we feel sure that next year's executive will have still more success.



Electrical Club

THE members are to be congratulated on the way they have supported the meetings this year. Time has been at a premium for all of us, and yet in spite of this the meetings have gone forward as usual and we all have benefitted as a result.

Because of the difficulty due to the war of getting outside speakers, there has been a "home policy" this year of having our own members talk. These talks have been comprehensive as well as interesting, such as those given on Marine Engines, Theatre Lighting, Photomicrography, Die Casting, Transformer Windings.

The Dinner which closed our activities for the year was extremely worth while, and the food very good. The N. Slater Co. presented us with advertising gifts. Bob Fitzpatrick gave us some good music on his accordion. "Bud and Dill", a ventriloquist act, was splendid. Dr. Thomson, Jack Simpson, and Prof. Price gave short addresses of interest and Dr. Willinsky showed his wonderful movies of the Mediterranean, synthesized with his own sound effects.

A personal word of thanks from the Chairman to the members of the Executive is necessary. A successful year would not have been possible without their fine work.

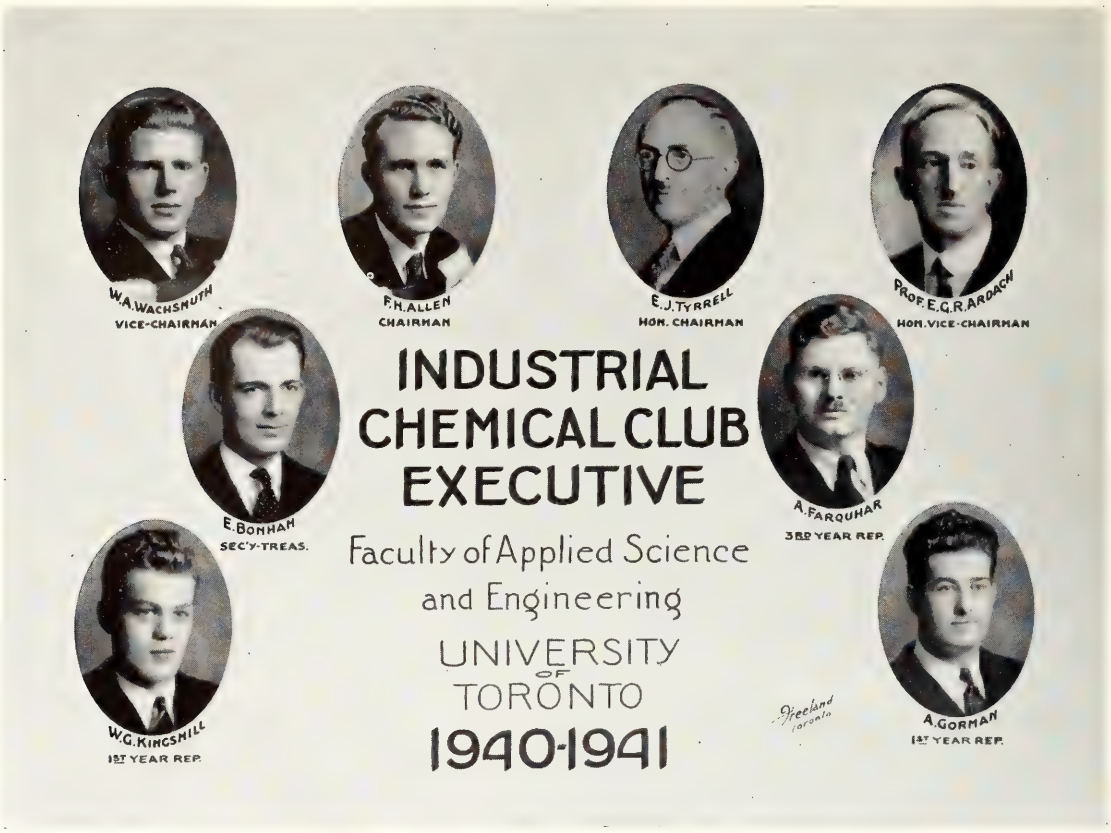
Engineering Physics Club

AS has become the custom during its four years of existence, the Engineering Physics Club started off the school year with a banquet, followed by "special entertainment" for the Freshmen. Just prior to Christmas the social event of the season took place in the form of a joint dance sponsored by the Electrical, Mechanical, and Engineering Physics Clubs.

This year the executive was again faced with the problem of obtaining speakers interesting to all options. This has driven the club to favour speakers on general subjects such as "The Present European Situation" and "The Human Nervous System" or technical subjects of universal interest, such as "The Problem of the Bomb Sight", "The History of Electrical Units", "Modern Developments in Alloys" and "Unusual Sources of Power".

One of the original aims of the club, namely, to familiarize men of industry with the Engineering Physicist and his worth, has apparently been well accomplished, if we judge by the positions offered to this year's graduating class. This, perhaps, is one of the reasons for its growing popularity as evinced by the record-breaking First Year enrollment of 31 men.

The past year has brought increasing difficulties with regard to meetings, due to the time taken by military training. It is likely that this condition will have to be coped with again next year, but perhaps by that time the recommendations for less time in labs and lectures, and more for individual "thought" will have come into effect and will obviate the present time shortage.



Industrial Chemical Club

WORLD WAR II struck a sinister note in the activities of the Club this year. The annual trip for the Third and Fourth Year men had to be foregone entirely, after several attempts, because wartime restrictions prohibit visitors to Chemical plants. A second and equally severe blow to the Club's usual program was the shortening of the Spring term for the Third and Fourth years, to liberate the men for essential war industries.

Our first meeting was held early in October when Mr. L. E. Westman of the Allied War Supply Board gave us a very interesting description of the Chemical industries across Canada and the vast expansions taking place to meet the new demands of the munitions industry.

The Club had an interesting relief from lecture room routine when Lieut. H. K. Mason, R.C.O.C., spoke at the November meeting. He described life in England during the Battle of Britain, and provided many interesting accounts of dive-bombing raids and the other inconveniences of existence over there.

In January, our Honorary Chairman, Mr. E. J. Tyrell of the Research Bureau of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., gave us a very instructive lecture on the chemical testing of merchandise.

The Club finished the year with a Faculty Night when the Fourth Year men tried their hand at depicting the staff in Chemical Engineering as the students see them. The meeting was one of the most interesting of the year and climaxed a successful season for the Club.

Mechanical Club

THE elections are now past, and although they were early this year because of the early ending of the Spring term, they mark the close of another year of Club activities.

Unfortunately, due to present conditions, several of the usual activities of the Club could not be held this year. The first, second and fourth years were unable to have their usual field trips because of government restrictions. The meetings, too, had to be limited because of the shortened terms for the two final years.

The first smoker was very successful—a talk by Professor R. W. Angus, our Honorary Vice-Chairman; some accordion music, and a gigantic cigar smoking contest (won by first year) all helped to make a very successful evening.

The second meeting was held in conjunction with the student branch of the A.S.M.E. and was held as a luncheon meeting in Hart House. The speaker on this occasion was Mr. A. D. Smith of the Foster-Wheeler Co., who gave a very interesting illustrated address on "Pulverized Fuel Boilers".

The Annual Dance was held at the Arcadian with the Electrical and Engineering Physics Clubs. The accuracy with which a budget may be laid out was well illustrated by this event which returned a profit of something under a half a dollar to the three Clubs. However, a rather less accurate budget might save the cost of dyeing the white hair of the committee members.

The executive wish to thank Professor Angus and Professor McIntosh for their assistance in all matters that were referred to them; and also Mr. H. C. Crane for acting as Honorary Chairman.

Mining and Metallurgical Club

ANOTHER short packed year has gone. The club has completed one more successful campaign in its effort to bring the Mining and Metallurgy undergraduates into physical and mental contact with prominent graduate engineers.

Around the middle of November the fourth year miners and metallurgists took a bus ride to Orillia, the home of three very hospitable mining and metallurgical companies. The tours through the plants were highly instructive, but the feature of the well-spent day was our association with a really fine group of business men.

Then on Tuesday, December 5th, we had our first dinner meeting at the Engineer's Club—courtesy of Professor C. G. Williams. Our Honorary Chairman, Mr. J. H. C. Waite, gave a very good talk on "Exploration Engineering". We certainly appreciated it, Mr. Waite.

The Arcadian was the scene of a joint Civil, Mining and Metallurgy Club dance on January 9th, 1941. The idea of an inter-club party is a good one, and should therefore be turned into an annual affair.

On January 28th we had our second dinner meeting, again at the Engineer's Club. Mr. J. G. Morrow, the Chief Metallurgist of the Steel Company of Canada talked to us about various problems facing the steel industry of Canada. His statements aroused a good deal of interest, for he was literally bombarded with questions after the meeting proper, and had to be torn away just in time to catch the Hamilton train.

The programme outlined above was made possible by the relentless interest of Professor C. G. Williams and Mr. N. F. Parkinson. Our Honorary Chairman, Mr. J. H. C. Waite; our Faculty Sponsor, Professor G. B. Langford, and our Councillor, Mr. C. W. Knight, did a fine job which is greatly appreciated. Also may we thank Van Smith, the Committee, and you fellow members for your enthusiasm, interest and co-operation throughout the year.

The Medical Society

THE Medical Society of the University of Toronto is the organization of the undergraduate student body in the Faculty of Medicine.

The Society was constituted to represent student opinion and administer student services. And to that end it has been devoted since its inception in 1895.

The business of the Society is in the hands of an elected executive composed of one representative from each year and one from each of the Medical Women's Undergraduate Association, the Medical Journal and the Medical Athletic Association.

Open meetings are held from time to time throughout the academic session, during which men, prominent in their particular fields, address the Society.

It has been necessary to temporarily postpone Daffydil, but this year marks the inauguration of the Annual Medical Banquet which has great promise for the future.

Medical Women's Undergraduate Association

IT is the aim of this society to bring together in its functions all the women in Medicine, so that we may meet each other and become acquainted with those who have gone before us and hear what they are doing in their profession.

Initiation for the seventeen newcomers took the form of an amusing pyjama party, and the sixth year girls gave a luncheon to the incoming year, endeavouring to become acquainted with them. Dr. Jessie Gray, at an open meeting, told of her work in England before the War. Undergraduates and visiting Alumnae enjoyed a hilarious Christmas Party, sending their Christmas booty to the University Settlement. Fifth year gave to the Graduating year an evening party where Graduates and Undergraduates met again.

Alumnae members entertained all years at tea,—the clinical years by the Staff of the Women's College Hospital and by the Honorary President, Dr. Marjorie McIntyre; the Junior years by Dr. Marion Kerr and Dr. Isabelle Ayr, and by Mrs. W. H. T. Baillie. Medical Women were at home to the Medical Staff of the University of Toronto and Alumnae at the Nabob Tea, which this year was held at Newman Hall and was a huge success.

A graduation service will be held in mid-March in Knox College Chapel.

Medical Women's Athletic Society

ALTHOUGH a small faculty, Meds have women who are sports-minded. This year, not a very outstanding one from the point of view of laurels, teams of tennis, basketball and hockey were entered in interfaculty sports. At a supper party the society presented "triangles" and Medical "M" 's to those who had merited them.

University of Toronto Medical Journal

AN addition to the Journal this year is the Book Review Section. In this, current publications with a bearing on Medicine are summarized and criticized. We hope that this will be well received by the subscribers.

The editorial staff wish to thank all those who have contributed articles to the Journal, the members of the faculty who have been so helpful to the authors by means of their interest and advice, and the members of the Advisory Staff for their valuable counsel.

True to its tradition, the Medical Journal, now in its eighteenth year of publication, has continued to make knowledge available in an easily assimilable form. Much thought has been given to the problem of satisfying the preclinical and clinical years as well as the graduates, and to presenting matter emphasizing the commoner clinical situations. We hope our efforts have been successful.

For some time past, we have been aware that a larger circulation of the Journal among graduates is desirable, both from the graduates and our point of view. The method for accomplishing this had failed us. We can make no guarantees, of course, but a plan is being formulated whereby each student so desiring will continue to receive the Journal after graduating.

Medical "At Home" and Banquet Committee

THE Medical At-Home of 1941, under the able management of G. A. Gould, was one of the highlights of the university social season. The nearly five hundred couples in attendance in the spacious concert-hall of the Royal York Hotel danced to the music of Canada's foremost band — Mart Kenney and his Western Gentlemen.

A special feature of the dance this year was a superb floor-show, chosen from prominent stage and night-club talent. The sale of metal skull pins of a unique design to replace corsages provided an appreciable contribution for war charities.

Patrons and patronesses included President and Mrs. H. J. Cody, Dean and Mrs. W. E. Gallie, Assistant Dean and Mrs. E. S. Ryerson, Professor and Mrs. W. A. Scott, Professor and Mrs. W. Boyd, Professor and Mrs. J. C. B. Grant, Professor and Mrs. R. F. Farquharson, Professor and Mrs. W. H. T. Baillie, Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Shenstone, Dr. and Mrs. F. I. Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gilley.

The Medical Banquet, which was held this year in the Great Hall of Hart House, replaced the annual Soph-Frosh Banquet of former years. It is intended to be maintained as an annual affair.

Students' Parliament of the Faculty of Dentistry

THE Students' Parliament is the official undergraduate organization in the Faculty of Dentistry. It was first formed in 1875 and has been serving the students' interest since that time.

The Constitution of the Parliament has been amended from time to time and was published and distributed to the Student Leader in 1936-1937. In the course of five years many more changes have been made tending toward a more efficient organization. Next year, the constitution will again be distributed to Parliament members.

The governing body of the Parliament is a Cabinet of thirteen members headed by a President who represents the Faculty on the Students' Administrative Council.

The Cabinet sponsors and supervises all social, athletic and literary activities among the undergraduates and works with the Faculty Executive in matters of student importance.

This year has been particularly successful and we extend our best wishes to next year's organization.

Dentantics Committee

DENTANTICS 1941, lifted its curtain on February 25th, to a packed house in Hart House Theatre. This year's show for the first time in a long while presented skits from every class, including the Dental Nurses. Featured on the programme was a male glee club of twenty members and a thirteen-piece band. Several original songs by the various members of its cast contributed to the success of the evening. Further music included a male quartette, a girls' trio, a two piano team and three boys singing close harmony. Rated best in the evening's performance was an original one-act play of a more serious nature, which, with the band and Glee Club formed the finale of the show. Members of the audience pronounced this year's review "best in many years".

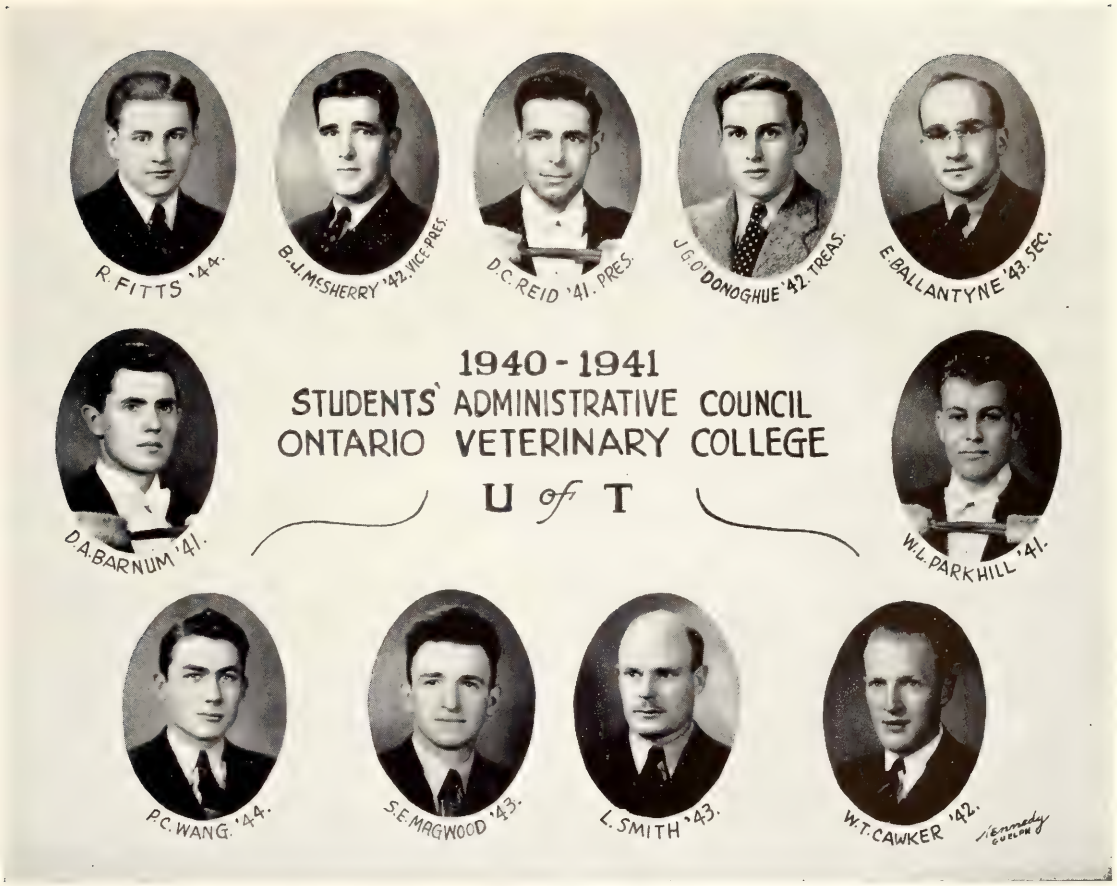
Hya Yaka

THIRTY-NINE years ago the Hya Yaka first appeared as the official publication of the then Royal College of Dental Surgeons. Now, it appears as the yearly official publication of the Faculty of Dentistry, University of Toronto.

At the present the Editor and Staff are feverishly working to have it out on time. It is hoped, that in spite of prevailing conditions, the Hya Yaka will be bigger and better than ever before.

In the magazine we try to give a broad cross section of our Year's activities. The undergraduate in the Faculty of Dentistry lives a full life and in the Hya Yaka we attempt to record all his academic, social and athletic endeavours. In addition to this, the book contains articles by both staff and students ranging from scientific treatises to student humour.

The Editor wishes to take this opportunity to direct many words of thanks and appreciation to all the staff and contributors. It is through their fine work that the annual publication of this book is possible.



Veterinary Students' Administrative Council

SELF-GOVERNMENT by the students of the Ontario Veterinary College is established in the form of the Students' Administrative Council. It is composed of eleven members, three seniors, three juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen elected annually.

The Students' Council promotes student activities, oversees student functions and acts as a means of communication between the faculty and the student body.

In handing over the reins of office to the council of 1941-42, the present council does so with a feeling of the most sincere gratitude to the faculty and the student body alike for the hearty co-operation with which its efforts were met with by these bodies.

The Undergraduate Association of Occupational Therapy

OCCUPATIONAL Therapy is a University Extension Course and therefore does not afford the benefits of affiliation with a college. The Undergraduate Association helps to compensate for this lack. It acts as a unifying agent and strives to make the recreational facilities of the University available.

This year's program included a welcoming luncheon to the first year students, an initiation party, an informal dance, a sleigh ride, monthly meetings, a bridge, the Formal Dance, and the Senior Dinner. The Association has made a special effort to further athletic activities and students may now compete in interfaculty meets.

PHYSIOTHERAPY UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION

Physiotherapy Undergraduate Association

THE Physiotherapy Undergraduate Association is the official organization of the students in Physiotherapy. The executive is elected from both first and second years and every girl in the course is a member of the association.

This organization was formed in the fall of 1939 and has been the means of uniting the members of the course into a co-operative group. Meetings are held once a month at 184 College Street. This year the executive have had speakers at all the meetings and in this way have made the meetings more interesting to prospective physiotherapists.

The executive hopes that the organization, now a year old, will continue to grow in strength and in numbers in the years to come.

The Ontario College of Education

THIS year, due to existing world conditions, the enrolment at O.C.E. was appreciably lower than in previous years, but this minor detail seemed rather to spur us on than dampen our enthusiasm.

The men have brought honours to the College through their successes in the field of athletics. With the Intramural Track Championship tucked away, they are showing definite signs of bringing home yet another winner. The Baseball Team has won its group, and the Hockey and Basketball Teams are well on the way to finishing the season at the top of their's.

The Music and Dramatic Clubs combined with the U.T.S. students to present a "Christmas Fantasy", an evening of carol singing and skits, popularly received by the students of O.C.E. and U.T.S., as well as the many parents who attended. The Literary Society, too, has enjoyed several interesting discussions on well-known authors, and are at present working on a debate to complete their year's activities.

To the Social Committee we are indebted for four highly-successful informal dances of which the third became an enjoyable "hard-times" party.

The various committees on the executive have succeeded this year in centring the interests of the student body in the College, with the result that O.C.E. has entered more teams in Intramural events, and stands now higher in the Intramural standing than ever before. We feel that O.C.E., through the enthusiasm of the student body and the excellent co-operation of the Dean and staff, has taken a definite step toward a better college spirit, and a keener interest in the activities within the College and the University.

THE FIRST UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO GYMNASIUM, 1866

CHAMPIONS ON PARADE

By DAVE MACINTOSH

PAIL in hand, Mr. Frank Somers, Steward of the University of Toronto, wended his way to the pig-pen, where he was accustomed to carry nourishment to its lone and solitary inhabitant each afternoon. The sty leaned against a long, wide, wooden, many-windowed shack which cast out throaty shouts of enthusiasm into the crisp autumn air. That unpretentious shack was the first Gymnasium of the University of Toronto.

Where was it located? Nobody can say for sure, but a few yards away stood Mr. Somers' cow-stable, described as "being in the potato field north of the kitchen" and which would have occupied today, a position approximately 100 feet south of the present Hoskin Avenue, and 300 feet east of St. George. Thrown together in 1866, it served Varsity students for over a decade. A far cry from today and the million dollar edifice which is Hart House.

Intercollegiate rugby was unheard of in those by-gone days. The greatest event of the year was "The Games". Many a student mopped a wet brow as he swung his scythe, clearing the front campus (the Barley Field then) of a goodly crop of fodder in preparation for "The Games". Cricket was the headliner on these old-time Saturday afternoon fetes, but foot racing, jumping and riding came in for their share of attention too. Their long skirts tucked discreetly beneath them, fair admirers sat upon the greensward, admiring privately their athletic hero, with massive whiskers, tight pants and all, whilst he performed for dear old Alma Mater. Today we would think of it as a nice garden party.

But times change and with the years, sport came more and more to hold the important position it does now. And with the change Varsity kept pace throughout. The boards of the "shack" cracked visibly. She had served faithfully, but could go on no longer, and so in 1879 what equipment existed, was moved to the ground floor and cellar of old Moss Hall, also the first home of The Varsity. Originally the Medical Building, erected in 1850 on the present site of the Biological Building, it had been re-christened Moss Hall after the vice-chancellor. Here were held the first School elections. Today's are tame in comparison. Then they used to last until four and five in the morning. A favourite trick to mete out to an undesired candidate was a bum's rush down a splintery board from a second-storey window. Athletes did not find the dim, dank confines of the cellar the best atmosphere in which to enjoy a bit of exercise, but it was over a decade before Varsity got its first big-time gym, large, well-equipped, as modern as the day. The Annual Track and Field Meet then held the spotlight as Varsity men competed each fall with invited guests from sister colleges.

In 1888 Moss Hall was demolished and for four years Varsity was without a permanent recreational centre. Finally, in 1892, largely through the enterprise of the students themselves, the University Gym and Students' Union was erected on the present site of Hart House. Complete with running track and bowling alleys it was a first class gym, and was the focal point for male attention until 1911. Here all the important dances of the year were held, the largest and best being the Rugby Dance. They still tell a good story on the Athletic Directorate concerning one Rugby Dance. With no athletic fee such as exists today an enterprising secretary of the Directorate profited on one occasion by selling tickets to whoever would buy them—and everybody wanted them. As a consequence, on the night of the dance about one hundred couples found themselves lined up outside the door with no hope of ever seeing the inside, let alone dancing. The Directorate was the recipient of more than a few caustic words, over the incident, but merely laughed the whole thing off. The Athletic Association was in funds for the rest of the year. This is just one incident demonstrating student enthusiasm in the Victorian era.

UNIVERSITY GYMN AND STUDENTS' UNION, 1892-1911

It was during these years that students who were destined to become outstanding Canadians, were molding the future of the Athletic Association. From 1892 to 1902 the leading undergraduates on the Athletic Directorate were, Velyien Henderson, D. Bruce Macdonald, T. A. Russel, J. J. Gibson, John Inkster, C. L. Wilson. In 1900 the constitution of the Athletic Association was re-drafted by T. A. Russell, then Secretary, and with his keen foresight it was so admirably drawn it has proved adequate up to the present day.

It was from such small beginnings that the birth of the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union took place during 1898. The rugby team in fitting style, led by Captain Thrift Burnside, Jack Hobbs, John J. Gibson, Eric Armour, and Alec McKenzie, marked the occasion by winning the first intercollegiate championship on the Lawn, as the Front Campus was termed in those days. Witnessed by a crowd of several hundred which included all the notables of the day, the supporters cheered enthusiastically from the tiny stand which had been personally erected for the event by the members of the Athletic Association Directorate.

Thrift Burnside, Captain and one of the most ardent members of the team, later made several suggestions concerning the rugby rules which eventually had a decided influence on the game of rugby football as played today. The Canadian Rugby Union scoffed at the radical changes planned by this immature student but abolishing massed line scrimmages and throw-ins—changing team strength from 15 to 12 men and using a snapout instead of heel out made Mulock Cup play much more interesting and enjoyable for all concerned. It was some years before the Union adopted the new-fangled ideas which had proven so popular in the Interfaculty series.

Shortly after 1900 the Devonshire Place property was acquired by the Athletic Association for an Athletic Field and the Front Lawn was left to the cricketers on Saturday afternoons in the fall.

Rugby had gradually been assuming the popularity that the track meets had held, and at the turn of the century really began to dominate the intercollegiate sport scene. The first games were played at Varsity but rugby's growing popularity demanded that the stage be shifted in 1908 to Rosedale Field to accommodate the crowds. The little wooden stand which still holds down its pious position in the south-west corner of the huge horseshoe on Bloor Street, had provided adequate seating capacity for the early games but could not hope to cope with the enthusiastic rooters once the game took hold.

Not that Varsity hadn't engaged in football warfare before the '90's. She had. Witness the account in the Detroit Free Press of November 1st, 1879, concerning a certain tangle between Varsity and the University of Michigan: "Football, of the old-fashioned kind, is exciting sport because all participants have an equal chance to become wearers of bruises, cuts, stiffened limbs and tattered clothing, and because the game, from the beginning, to the time it ends, never stops its booming, rattling, tearing enthusiasm." Though no doubt not in keeping with the best journalistic trends of the Free Press today, it certainly puts across the idea and gives vivid evidence of its early popularity. The drama of the gridiron reached its supreme height in those early years, when in 1905, Varsity, coached by Rev. Biddy Barr, beat Ottawa Roughriders to capture the Dominion title. It was then that the great Casey

Baldwin, and the equally illustrious Jack Lash, Bull Ritchie and Gord Southam, were in their hey-day. Exactly four years later, in 1909, Varsity again reached the top rung in the Canadian football world. Such stalwarts as Jack Newton, Hugh Gall, Smirle Lawson, and Charlie Gage played on that team. In the following year the fabulous backfield foursome of Gall, Maynard, Dixon and Foulds, possibly the greatest Varsity ever had, carried Toronto along the same route to the Dominion title. U. of T. repeated in 1911 and 1914, years that saw Pete Campbell, Frank Knight, Laddie Cassels and Hume Crawford at the peak of their sport careers.

Though it might seem incredible, the year 1911 meant even more than the winning of the Dominion Rugby Crown. This feat provided a fitting climax to the opening of Varsity Stadium, but the demolition of the University Gym and Student Union to make way for the laying of the corner-stone of Hart House also took place in 1911. For seven seasons, until 1919, when the new edifice was officially opened, a rambling wooden structure situated on Trinity Field, near the University Residences, served as a temporary gym. The best thing about it was the swimming pool, pauperish in comparison to the modern tub in Hart House, but nevertheless a pool. One of the early intercollegiate water polo finals was staged in its icy depths. In the other wing, Varsity's first basketball teams whipped themselves into shape between violent efforts of other indoor sports enthusiasts.

The old track and football field, its southern border still discernable by the rising ground behind Trinity College, was shifted north about 100 yards in 1911, and the present covered stand was constructed. It was not until 1924 that the Bowl boasted the concrete stands. Wooden bleachers had previously served the students for their Saturday afternoon jamborees, and many recall how Professor C. H. C. Wright was wont to dash across the field during a crucial moment in the game, madly waving his cane, to warn the student fans against rocking the stands as they kept time with the College yells. He had a horrible fear of the whole structure collapsing.

But to get back to the game itself. A member of the great 1914 half-line, Laddie Cassels, returned to Varsity in 1920 to take over the coaching reins and to pilot the Big Blue to another Dominion title. Joe Breen was captain of that team; Harry Hobbs, Jim Douglas, Gord Duncan were members, as was Warnie Snyder, then in his first year. He remained to play on six Varsity teams and became one of Canada's top-ranking players. In 1921 Varsity had to content itself with the intercollegiate title. Then came the era of Batstone and Leadley of Queen's and the Tricolour domination from 1922-25. Snyder was in his last year, 1926, when Varsity broke Queen's reign, while Jack Sinclair, Varsity's all-time great, was in his freshman year, and a member of the same team. Another student of Medicine, he played rugby in a blue and white uniform for seven years, was a member of the 1926 Champions and climaxed his career in a blaze of glory as quadruple threat half of Warren Stevens' squad that landed the intercollegiate championship in both 1932 and 1933.

Two years later Varsity hit the peak again with the 1935 team, the greatest that Warren Stevens ever handled. In that year, a generation after the Four Horsemen of 1910, another great backfield came to Varsity. It included Bobby Coulter, Joe Connelly, Hugh Marks, Cam Gray and Bob Isbister, as starry an array as one might find on any line-up. Undefeated throughout the regular schedule, a worried Varsity team prepared for an extra game with everything to lose and nothing to win. A new ruling had just been adopted by the Union whereby the first and second place teams met in a final show-down. Needless to say, a jubilant Moaner-coached Tricolour squad slogged off the field with a 7-6 win. Varsity was conceded the moral victory later when the Union handed down legislation to the effect that the second-place team must have beaten the twelve at the top of the ladder at least once during the season to create a play-off. This provided small consolation, but, more satisfying than a moral victory, a year later these same Varsity Blues came roaring back to whip that same Tricolour squad soundly and thoroughly to annex the intercollegiate crown. Remember these names—Ralph Ripley, Red Nally, Turney Williams, Ken Harris, Butch Alison, Frank Sirdevan, Captains Gus Greco and Al Williams? And so we come down to the present day, recalling several of last year's squad who deserve more than passing mention. Charlie Prince, "Beefy" MacMillan, Ken MacQuarrie, Doug Turner, Bill Schwenger and "Chuck" McLean were the outstanding ones. Jim Folwell and George Meen of Argos and Eddie Shuba, who played with Beaches last fall, would also have seen action on the intercollegiate gridiron front in normal years, but they, along with the rest of us, must wait.

All Varsity hockey games and practices were held in the old Mutual Street Arena until 1927, when the quarter million dollar Varsity Arena, which now provides ice space for all intercollegiate as well as interfaculty games, was built. In 1920, Varsity pucksters, who had captured the intercollegiate championship five times since its inception in 1903, instituted the regular procedure of doing so. Remember Beatty Ramsay, Stan Brown, Jack Langtry, Bill Carson, Ned Wright? This great team of 1920 was coached by Dr. Billy Dafoe, now on the Athletic Directorate. The Blue and White team that won the intercollegiate title in 1921 also won the Allan Cup, and went to the Dominion finals on two other occasions. That lasted for a decade, and the year 1928 marked an all-time hockey high when the Varsity Grads won the amateur championship of the world at the Olympic Games, St. Moritz, Switzerland. The year before as Varsity Seniors, they had captured the Allan Cup. Jack Porter was captain of that team, his more famous team-mates included Dave Trottier, Hugh Plaxton, Joe Sullivan, Ross Taylor, Lou Hudson and Stuffy Mueller. Conn Smythe was the coach, and Joe Carruthers, who still holds forth at the Arena, was trainer.

Then, four years later, a lean period set in, during which time Varsity swallowed defeat in hockey at the hands of McGill for an entire decade, with the exception of the year 1932. It was only last winter that Ace Bailey's Blues ended the Redmen's streak at seven straight and finished the season undefeated in intercollegiate play. They won twenty games, seventeen of them consecutive, and lost one, that to Toronto Goodyears, O.H.A. Champions, before 11,400 fans in a game held for the Finnish Relief Fund. A number of that team, Captain Jock Maynard, Cam MacLachlan, 1938 Captain, and Manager Ross Campbell, are now on Active Service with the Royal Navy, while those still at University performed with various top-notch outside teams during the past season. Remnants of that great team still eligible for intercollegiate competition include Jack Quigley of Calgary Stampeders, Bobby Copp and Don Dunbar of Marlboro Seniors, Wally Glynn, Thor Stephenson and Doug Marshall of Tip Tops. Add to this number players like George and Paul McNamara, Gene Sheedy, Wally Halder, Staff Smythe, Ken Hignell and Audy DesRoches, who played with other city teams, and you have one more championship.

And what of the vast array of other sports? Names come crowding back on the memory, names of Varsity's sons who stood for the best in sport. Memories of Blue and White colour bearers, who still rank high in the annals of Canadian Sport, names like Harold Campbell, Frank Halbus, Bill Brown and Lou Sebert, who ran the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds way back in 1909-10, when intercollegiate track was just a decade old, names like Tony Vince, Al Christie and Keith Carruthers, Moe Mitchell, Wally Graham, Johnny Fitzpatrick, Ralph Adams. More recently, Ab Conway and Dave Crichton, two of Canada's greatest middle-distance runners who set new marks for the mile jaunt in 1936 and 1937; Larry O'Connor, holder of three intercollegiate records and Canada's ace hurdler, Wally and Harold Brown, the famous Meaford twins, who won six of Varsity's seven firsts in last year's intercollegiate track meet. They didn't win the seventh for the simple reason that they were not entered. On the last British Empire team four Varsity men represented Canada — Larry O'Connor, Ab Conway, Wally and Harold Brown.

And let us not forget the Harriers. The men who plod over that long five-mile course without support from enthusiastic spectators to cheer them on. This is the game that marks a true competitor. Remember these great harriers from 1925 to 1938. Read the roll of honour: Wally Graham, Moe Mitchell, Bill Kibblewhite, Bill Hogg and Dave Crichton.

And so it goes. Pick any sport. Take tennis, for instance. Remember fellows like Walter Martin, Don Gunn, Gil Nunns, Ken Salmond, Brian Doherty and Art Ham? And Bill Pigott, who graduated in arts, and then went into engineering and played on Varsity tennis teams for seven years. Bill made a courageous last stand in his final year, 1938, when, after losing the interfaculty singles title to Bruce Hall, he stormed back to win his first and last intercollegiate title from the blond boy who had played on Canada's Davis Cup team the previous summer. After a famine of seven years, it was Bill Pigott and his mates who ended the success of the rampaging Redmen to institute a tradition that has lasted now for four straight years. Without the absence of intercollegiate sport this year, it might well have been five, with Bruce Hall, Gord Shorter, Red Mullett and Ian McCallum attending the University.

Swimming, started in 1909, has provided many opportunities for Varsity men to shine, and legion are the names on the roll of honour. From 1925 through 1929 it was Goss, Latchford, Lorenzen Uren and Sinclair.

The Bourne family of McGill copped the title for McGill for the next five years, but then came the McCatty Brothers to Varsity and since 1934 the Blue and White has monopolized the throne room, wining five out of six years. Ged Clawson, Canadian Olympic star, John Girvan, Maurice Murphy, Nels Earl and Maurice Clarkson have struggled successfully for Coach Winston McCatty in recent years. To assist in carrying on the good work we now have Johnny Northwood, Bill Moffat and Stu Robinson.

Our Water Polo squad last year broke the McGill death-grip on the Herschorn Trophy, when Captain Oliver Mabee fired the lone goal into the Redmen's net. Ollie is now on Active Service with the Royal Navy along with Nels Earl, Captain of the 1938 swimmers and water polo men.

Rowing provides a singular record of achievement. It was Professor Tommy Loudon of S.P.S. who was largely responsible for the winning of no less than eight Canadian championships in five years, five senior championships, two junior and one intermediate championship of America. He knows and loves the game better than any other man in Canada. He coxed the Canadian Eight at Stockholm in 1912 and in 1924 he was coach of his greatest Varsity crew, the Eight that represented Canada in the Olympic Games at Paris. Members of that crew included Ivan Campbell (cox), Laurie Wallace (stroke), A. T. Bell, Bill Langford, Bob Hunter, Warren Snyder, Jack Smith, Boyd Little, and Norm Taylor. Professor Loudon was mainly instrumental in starting intercollegiate rowing in 1925. McGill won the championship the first two years. Varsity then made a clean sweep of it for the next eight years until 1935 when competition was discontinued.

In Soccer, Varsity has set a unique record. Started in 1904, the intercollegiate title was won by Varsity every year—except war years—until 1924. McGill then took charge of the championship for five years until 1929. Since then it has been Varsity in nearly every instance with Western breaking in for a two-year stretch in 1936 and '37. For the past two years the squad has been undefeated.

The pugilists and fencers were wont to stage meets at the old Y.M.C.A. building on the corner of McGill and Yonge, as the Intercollegiate Assault-At-Arms dates from the year 1909.

Since then Varsity has harvested the Tom Gibson Cup sixteen seasons. Dr. Les Black, coach of the Champion Blue mittmen for the past four years, was probably the greatest glove-wielder that ever struck Varsity, but Jim Jackson, Don Carrick, and Goldie Gray weren't far behind in those middle years when the fight game reached its height. "Doc" Black's best year was 1924, when he battled his way to the Canadian 158-pound championship and then reached the Olympic finals. He had arrived in the midst of a six-year Varsity grip on the B. W. & F. crown and another such stretch is in view now with the same "Doc" at the coaching job. Just a decade after Les Black reached the pinnacle of his ring career, Jock Pigott and Tom Powell appeared on the boxing horizon. They were soon followed by Billie the Kid Ramore, present intercollegiate title-holder in the 155-pound division, and Stu Parker and Frank Paterson, recent champions at 135 and 145, respectively.

The wrestlers on many occasions have won the B. & W. title when the boxers fell down, so let's not forget men like Frank Dobson, Bill Schwenger, Neal Mustard, Jim Van Allen and Whitey Lathrop.

Students who follow the fortunes of the wrestlers like to remember the way Bill Schwenger, Captain of the 1940 team, came through when his university needed him. An Engineer, graduated in 1940, Bill had already won three intercollegiate titles and announced his retirement from competition before the start of his final year. However, early in February of his final year Coach George Daly asked Bill to come out of retirement and help out as the wrestling squad was having great difficulty getting men to turn out, and half of the boys who had turned out were on the injured list. Against his better judgment, as he was not in condition, Bill reported for practice and worked himself into fair condition in two weeks' time. He then travelled to Montreal, where he succeeded in winning a hard fought final bout that gave Varsity the boxing and wrestling title once more. One of our most valuable and colourful performers, Schwenger was also a regular member of the senior rugby team and holds the distinction of having qualified for his First Colour seven times during his four-year sojourn at Varsity.

It is only fitting in discussing wrestling that we mention Cliff Chilcott, who coached the muscle men for ten years. Now on Active Service, Cliff is the man who has placed wrestling on such a high level at this university. For the past two years George Daly, whom Chilcott describes as his best pupil, has been coaching and so the future of the wrestlers is in good hands.

Golf provides an interesting note. Way back the University had its own private golf course, situated, not outside the city, but right on the campus. The nine-hole course criss-crossed back and forth in the region of what today is the Stadium, Trinity Field, the site of the Royal Ontario Museum and the intervening ground. Though the distances were necessarily short, it was none the less a bona fide course. Victoria College, apparently waxing individualistic over this matter of divot-digging, set up her own little private three-hole route on what today is the Victoria athletic field and adjacent ground. The first tee was situated at Bloor and Avenue Road. Golf became an intercollegiate sport in 1924, and just take a look at the 1925 coach's dream team: Joe Sullivan, Don Carrick, Sandy Somerville, Fred Lyons. Since then Varsity has captured 10 out of 15 championships.

We can group the heroes of the Rugger field , and the highly capable performers in the gymnastics and fencing under one head. Their achievements are quite parallel and their records speak for themselves. Apparently they are the only teams that seem to have a monopoly on their respective group championship and each year when we come to the end of the season in March we discover that it will not be necessary to relinquish these trophies to a rival. The rugger team has just completed a string of seven successive titles, no doubt due to the tireless coaching efforts of one Jimmy Boles, and the sterling performances turned in by various Australian visitors such as Vincent, Christianson, Alford, Smith and our own Canadian bred players such as Pete Spohn, Eric Robertson, Lem Prowse and Kyle.

In fencing we find the enthusiasm and skill of Charlie Walters still at its heighth after having turned out champions since 1908. A member of Canada's Olympic fencing team in years gone by, Charles Walters has probably done more for fencing in Canada than any other man of recent years. Some of the outstanding men of recent years are, J. H. Lee, Al Garcia, Bob Wilson, Jim Tapsell. To show the regard in which he is held at this University, two years ago the Athletic Association presented the Charles Walters Trophies for team and individual championships in intercollegiate competition.

Gymnastics hold a unique position in university sports as the students take it for granted that Charlie Zwygard's boys are perennial champions. When we review their record we dis cover ho wthis view-point developed, as the Varsity gymnasts have held the title for the last eight years. On most of these occasions one of the members of the team has also collected the individual championship. A familiar sight at many university functions such as School Nite, U.C. Follies, Athletic Nights and other important functions, members of the squad have become real troupers. How many of you remember these names: Stew Macdonald, Lorne Patterson, Jack Toye, Doug Simpson, Willy Mark, Fran Buck and Charlie Kirk.

Basketball started at Varsity in 1909 with an Intercollegiate Championship. This was shortly after Dr. Naismith invented the game. A native of Almonte, Ontario, and a McGill grad, he started the game by placing two peach baskets at each end of the gym and used a soccer ball to play with. Those bruising, low-scoring games with ten men on a side, have long ago been replaced by the modern streamlined game with five men per team. It is now the fastest game played on two feet, has millions of devotees, and millions turn out each year to watch it played in North America.

Basketball is noted for its thrilling moments for spectator and player. Varsity representatives and supporters have been treated to many of these moments in the thirty-two years of Intercollegiate competition. On one occasion at Western, Varsity won a championship by two foul shots which were awarded just at the final gun, while again in the same city Varsity lost a game and a championship by dropping a seven point lead with one minute to go.

Varsity has won her share of honours in this sport as well. The high lights of 27 years are the great teams of 1928 and 1929, that only lost one Canadian game in that two-year span. Since 1934 Varsity has won twice, 1935 and 1937, and shared the championship on two other occasions, 1939 and 1940. Bill Bodrug, Bill Rogin, Walt McGregor, Johnny Powers, John Bedford, Jack Lavarnway and Bill Roberts have been our modern heroes. To go back to the 20's we find such names as Morrison "Moe" Mitchell, Intercollegiate track star Hec Crighton, Wilf Newman, Roy Currie, Marks and Connelly, the famous football stars, and many others who have contributed to the success of the Blue and White.

In the fall of 1936, J. E. McCutcheon, Gymnasium instructor, was placed in charge of a completely revised and carefully organized intramural system, which, it is worth repeating for the umpteenth time, is recognized as the best system of its kind on the continent. Through the Intramural Sports Committee, which consists of one good man and true from each of the fourteen faculties, "Mac", as Supervisor of Intramural activities, guides with miraculous lack of friction the doings of literally hundreds of different teams in all sports. Aerial Navigation gets so many points for winning a group championship in swimming. Why that many, or that few? It is not an offhand estimate. Winners points are estimated on a scientific basis. If Aerial Navigation wins the group championship, she deserves a certain number of points and is justly accorded that sum, no more and no less. At first glance the task seems monumental. It is. Player transfers to be discussed, sport schedules to be made up, records to be kept in order. Those are a few of the major tasks but there are a thousand and one details to watch over, records of thousands of participants in intramural sports to be kept up to date, to be checked and rechecked. It is a huge task that has been managed more than capably by "Mac" and the efficient staff in the Athletic office.

Governing the entire sport scene, and executive body for the widespread athletic plant of today, is the Athletic Directorate of the Athletic Association; President Dr. John McCollum at the helm and T. A. Reed, Financial Secretary. Under the wing of the Directorate, we find the Department of Athletics and Physical Education for Men by far the largest department in the University. Through it must pass every male student at some time or other during his sojourn at Varsity.

In 1932 the position of Director of Athletics was created and Warren Stevens came along to take his place in the set-up as we find it today.

In closing, it is only proper that we pass along a few bouquets to T. A. Reed, the gentleman who has been responsible more than anyone else for so capably guiding athletics at Varsity to such a proud and enviable position. Today the Dean of Varsity Athletics still takes as active and as keen an interest in the multitudinous affairs of the Athletic Association as when he first took up his duties in 1914. The Intramural High Point Trophy bears his name as an everlasting record of the niche he has carved in the Athletics Hall of Fame at this University.

And so it ends, but this work is never done. Today Canada desperately needs men; men who can lead, men who love the thrill of combat, men who can take it when the going is mighty rough. Sports make men, so let us to the task and continue to send out more and more sportsmen to add to the illustrious record of our athletic sons of bygone years.

The Development of Women's Athletics in the University of Toronto

THE actual beginnings of "Athletics for Ladies" in the University of Toronto are somewhat obscure but the first Torontonensis, published in 1898, speaks of the "Ladies' Tennis Club" which was formed in 1893 with a membership of twenty-seven. This Club represented the women of University College only and it staged a tournament in 1896 which appears to have been the first formal athletic competition indulged in by the women of this University. It is interesting to note that from 1896 to 1913 mixed doubles were one of the features of the University tennis tournament and champions were declared annually in this event. The Women's Fencing Club of U.C. was started in 1895 and members were trained by Mr. Williams, the University fencing master. In 1898 this Club listed over fifty members and its Vice-President was one Clara Benson, who, for the past twenty years, has been the much-respected President of the U. of T. Women's Athletic Association. This Club was for instruction purposes only and apparently did not hold competitions.

BASKETBALL UNIFORMS, 1910 STYLE (ST. HILDA'S)

In 1899 appears one of the most intriguing athletic items—a University Golf Club was formed, "having obtained permission to play over the University property". Seven holes are mentioned, starting from "the ravine running north past Wycliffe College and McMaster Hall, with three holes north of Victoria College". It is recorded with regret from time to time that changes had to be made in the links as new buildings were erected. As hazards, Trinity College, the Museum and Burwash Hall certainly offer possibilities, although the early account does mention "rough ground, hills and lines of trees". This was a real venture in University athletics as fully one-half of the membership of fifty were "lady undergraduates and members of the Faculties".

In 1898 the St. Hilda's A.A. was formed with a membership of thirty and in 1901 the University College W.A.A. was constituted to sponsor tennis, hockey, fencing and physical culture, which latter was a very popular form of exercise. Also in 1901 the first organized hockey competition took place between U.C. and Victoria. The Victoria W.A.A. was not formally recognized until 1905, but the College had already sponsored basketball and field and ice hockey for several years.

In 1905, too, the women's "Toronto University Athletic League" was formed, the first meeting being held on February 28th at the old St. Hilda's College, out on Queen Street. The constitution and minutes are a joy to behold, being written in a clear and rather ornamental hand with all headings in red ink. Margaret Proctor of Victoria was the first President and the late Francis Endacott of St. Hilda's (whose name has been perpetuated in the College through the trophy awarded annually to its most worthy athlete) was the first Secretary. Tennis, hockey, basketball and paperchasing were the sports to be sponsored and it is interesting to note that even then, sixteen years before the first intercollegiate competition, one of the purposes of the League states "that from the various teams . . . it will be possible to form a University team to play other universities."

One of the sports which flourished from 1901 to 1913 was paperchasing and it is regrettable for many reasons that it had to be abandoned due to the encroachment of city building on possible grounds. Each College had a "Mistress of the Chase" and chases were arranged each fall to finish at the various college residences in turn. The trail was laid by the hostesses as "hares" and everyone could take part in the chase as "hounds". Long hours of early morning training across country were put in and the scheduled Saturday afternoons were awaited eagerly. The good-fellowship engendered was unique and the delicious supper at the end was something to be anticipated. St. Hilda's famous oyster stew was probably the most popular item of all the menus offered.

Swimming first came into the picture in 1890 when University College rented the "Guild Nautatorium" and about sixty women enjoyed its benefits. The Torontonensis write-up that year holds a familiar note — a plea for "increased gym space" as the "small tower room in University College has become inadequate". (This room now houses the Fine Art Department.)

In 1910 the first "T's" for women were presented by the League, a plain blue "T" with a shield bearing a "V" for "Varsity" superimposed. In 1911 progress was noted when the use of the men's gym was obtained for basketball and in 1913 when the Faculty of Education was admitted to the League. For some years after this nothing very startling is recorded. A new design for "T's" was adopted in 1916, bearing the University coat-of-arms, and this is still used as the Junior Colour. On February 6th, 1918, a note for emancipation was struck—it was moved and carried that a letter be written the deans of women asking "if they would be agreeable to girls wearing bloomers for hockey and to state reasons in letter". The following December the minutes state that "it was decided to wear bloomers in hockey", so it is to be assumed that the reasons were adequate. (The 1913 picture herewith is reason enough.) A mystifying note is introduced in the minutes of this same year when it was moved that "the rest of the hockey be played at the Arena and that we use Vic. Dramatic tickets and charge 25c". Vic. won the hockey cup that year, but history does not record what the Dramatic Club had to do with it.

BASKETBALL UNIFORMS, 1926 STYLE (INTERCOLLEGIATE)

The next unusual item was the postponement of the basketball schedule in 1919 "owing to vaccination". This same year teams from Medicine and McMaster (of all places) were added to the interfaculty hockey schedule and six-man hockey was approved, the rover being dropped. On March 8th, 1920, for the first time the women were granted the use of the Hart House pool for the interfaculty meet and this has been an annual and happy custom ever since.

The years 1920-21 were two of the most important in this history. In 1920, the first serious suggestion of extramural competition was made and it was felt that a more experienced and permanent executive body was needed if intercollegiate competition was to be sponsored. On November 6th, 1920, the old Athletic League merged into the present University of Toronto Women's Athletic Association under a Directorate constituted very much as it is today. The reasons for this became apparent when, on December 3rd a challenge was received from Queen's and McGill to participate in a three-day basketball tournament at Kingston. The question of finance was the main stumbling-block and this was overcome by taking a 25c collection among the women of the University. This form of support went on for a number of years, was followed by the sale of favours at football games, and finally by the car parking scheme used at present. The design for the Senior Colour was adopted that year and these were awarded to the members of the Intercollegiate Champion Basketball Team and to three swimmers who had distinguished themselves in open competition. Noteworthy also was the inclusion of St. Michael's College for the first time as a member of the Association.

In 1920-21, intercollegiate hockey competition was added, a game between Toronto and McGill being played in the Toronto arena. A year or two later Queen's also put in a team but as the calibre of hockey was frequently not equal to the cost involved, intercollegiate competition has pretty well been abandoned for the past five years. In place of hockey, a five-university tennis tournament has been held annually since 1927, a four-university swimming meet since 1936 and a five-university badminton tournament since 1938. Intercollegiate ski meets have also been conducted by invitation of McGill.

Unquestionably the most important development of the past few years has been the greatly increased interest in various forms of recreational and non-competitive sport such as skiing, golfing, riding, figure- and free-skating, and even bowling for the women.

This year 1940-41 has of course been a rather curious one. With the abandonment of men's intercollegiate sport due to pressure of military training the women felt that the time and money used in maintaining women's intercollegiate teams might also be put to another use. The formation of the Women's Service Training Detachment of the Red Cross under the Women's Athletic Association was the direct result of this and military drill and lectures have this year taken the time and interest of many of those who would have represented Toronto on intercollegiate teams.

The intramural competitions have flourished and worthy champions been declared. Victoria won the tennis, with Virginia Rappell of First Year gaining the individual award. The basketball went to Senior Vic, with a team made up very largely of players of intercollegiate calibre. St. Hilda's and University University College fought through to the hockey finals and the Red and White finally won out in two exciting and evenly matched games. The decision to have the Physical Ed. students enter the intramural swimming meet through the colleges met with much approval, and the whole standard of competition was raised. U.C. and St. Hilda's battled neck and neck to the final relay which was won by the Red and White, giving that college the championship by one point. The individual award went to Winifred Baxter, Phys. Ed. IV, who swam for St. Hilda's. This meet was combined with an intercollegiate "correspondence" meet of the five universities, for which results are not available at the time of writing.

The badminton was also a hard-fought battle with U.C. coming out on top. The individual championship was won by Betty Allen. The largest number of bowlers in history registered this year, approximately seventy, and the high scorer was again Ruth Publow, now registered in First Year Occupational Therapy. The contribution of the Therapy groups this year has been noteworthy as they entered teams in basketball, hockey, swimming and bowling and also formed one entire platoon of the W.S.T.D. Various competitions were also held by the Ski Club under the leadership of Marion Gallie. An interesting activity was added this year when the women staged several exhibition contests in the Hart House gym and pool as a part of the Saturday Athletic Nights.

Intramural Activities

SEVERAL hundred Varsity athletes of intercollegiate calibre added their strength to the intramural teams of the various faculties to make this an outstanding year for the Department of Intramural Activities. The announcement early last fall that intercollegiate athletics would be discontinued for the duration was met with alarm in some quarters, but the ready absorption of our intercollegiate men into the comprehensive intramural programme took care of any problem which might have developed at Toronto.

Despite the inroads on time made by military training and other war activities a full programme of sports was carried on and a substantial increase was shown in practically all activities. The need for recreation which becomes more vital in time of stress, was amply taken care of by the programme of activities which is designed to embrace the athletic needs of the whole student body.

Several innovations were made throughout the year. Four down football had a successful trial and four man basketball was popular in the upper gym. Six event swimming meets were inaugurated on a league basis and proved so interesting that fifteen teams participated. Intramural teams in basketball, lacrosse, water polo and swimming staged league and exhibition games at the Saturday evening "University Nights" which were so extremely popular during the spring term and at which the Athletic Executives of the various faculties acted in turn as hosts for an evening.

The extensive programme was carried out under the direction of the Intramural Sports Committee and John E. McCutcheon, Supervisor of Intramural Activities. The Committee, composed of Athletic Presidents of all Faculties and Colleges, met weekly throughout the year. W. R. Wilson, Victoria, was Chairman of the Committee until Christmas, when he left University for Active Service with the R.C.A.F. Henry Aboud of Trinity was then moved to the position of Chairman and J. J. Ronayne, St. Michael's, was elected to the position of Vice-Chairman.

The T. A. Reed Trophy for the Intramural High Point Championship

Winner 1940-41: Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering

ONE of the underlying principles in the promotion of sports is the development of a spirit of co-operation and understanding in the individual so that he may be better fitted to become a useful citizen in the community. Only when principles of this sort are fulfilled can we truthfully say we are teaching "Physical Education".

The T. A. Reed Trophy, emblematic of the all year High Point Championship, has done a great deal to foster a better understanding between the various Colleges and Faculties of the University, and, as it embraces all sports on the intramural programme, has been instrumental in further welding all of our Colleges into a unit where the individuals are working only for the good of the whole.

The Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering repeated their victory of last year and in so doing established a new high in the total points awarded. They are worthy champions and are to be congratulated on the organization which has been built by their Executive and athletes.

The race for second and third place has been the keenest in years and at the time of going to press University College, Aerial Navigation and Dentistry are grouped in that order, separated by only seventy-one points.

All that the Trophy stands for is exemplified in the efforts made by University College and Aerial Navigation. The Royal College through Athletic Director Gerald Clawson, his splendid Board and their immediate predecessors, has gained a new lease of athletic life and spirit which will have a lasting effect on those fortunate enough to come under its influence. Myron "Mike" Tuchak, Athletic President of Aerial Navigation, and his small faculty deserve equal praise for the magnificent effort which they have made throughout the whole year.

To those other faculties who failed to gain their place in the upper brackets we would say that while "to the victor goes the spoils", the sense of satisfaction in a job well done is its own reward.

Trinity College Amateur Athletic Association

THE Trinity College Amateur Athletic Association is comprised of all male undergraduates enrolled in Trinity College and the undergraduates of other faculties living in Trinity House. The Association is governed by an executive elected annually by the members.

Last year the "Reform Party' was instrumental in bringing about several changes in the Constitution of the Association. Among these were a greater representation of non-resident students on the executive, and a new office of Manager of Athletics to look after Trinity teams participating in intramural sports.

The executive this year has undertaken to interview each freshman regarding his athletic ability. This information was tabulated and used throughout the year in picking men to represent Trinity in intramural sports.

At the beginning of the term the Association lost two valued members of the executive, Johnny Woods, who joined the navy and Jim Snyder, who is with the R.C.A.F. Since Christmas, Joe Harris, the president, has joined the teaching staff of Ridley College, and Eric Hutcheson is with the R.C.A.F.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE ATHLETIC DIRECTORATE

Athletic Directorate

ALTHOUGH at the date of this writing St. Michael's had won no inter-faculty championships during the school year 1940-41, the college was well represented in all team sports. This is evidenced by the fact that teams were entered in the following sports: Football, Lacrosse, Tennis, Water Polo, Swimming, Squash, Volleyball (2), Hockey (2), Baseball (2), and Basketball (5).

While it is always great to be a winner, and St. Michael's has had her share of victories in the past, the Double Blue emerged without a championship title this year. However, a large percentage of the student body took part in athletics and great advancement was made in the promotion of competitive sports.

The Athletic Directorate was under the guidance of Fr. J. Sheridan and Fr. A. O'Brien and was composed of Jack Ronayne, President; Bill Flaherty, III; Bill Roberts, II; Tony Ragusa, I; and Bill Gorman, Western.

To Fr. John McIntyre, who coached our football team, we voice the fond hope that he will be at the helm when autumn comes again.

The Directorate wishes to extend its gratitude to Mr. John Ruth, C.S.B., and Mr. Frank McCarty, C.S.B., without whose help athletic affairs at St. Michael's could not have proceeded so smoothly.

It was the aim of the Directorate to provide for every student, regardless of his ability, ample opportunity to take part in team sports. With this end in view, twenty teams, including the seventeen teams already mentioned, in addition to three teams entered in the City Basketball League, went out to do battle under the banner of the Double Blue.

The role of athletics in the curriculum of St. Michael's College is, and deservedly so, a secure one. Sports play an important part in the development of character, and, after all, that is the end in view.

Wycliffe College Athletic Association

THE main effort of the Athletic Association this year has been to create interest in all branches of sport among the students, not so much from a view of competitive success, but rather from the more important viewpoint of the total number of men engaged in competition. More than two-thirds of the men in residence were engaged in at least one branch of Intramural sport during the past year.

Although Wycliffe did not win the Harrier, the twenty-three men who entered and finished the course gained more points for the T. A. Reed Trophy than the winners themselves did.

In addition, there were two finalists in the Novice Wrestling, two Basketball teams, Soccer and Baseball teams, and a Water Polo team for the second time in history. The five men chosen from Wycliffe on the non-active Intercollegiate Track teams compose one-quarter of the men selected.

Emmanuel College Athletic Association

THE Emmanuel College Athletic Association has once again enjoyed a very successful year. Following up the fine start it made last year when it first became a separate, independent organization in the College, this Association has been responsible for enlisting an interest in athletics that is noteworthy.

Due to the comparatively small enrollment in Emmanuel College it is necessary that a high percentage of the men take part in athletic competition. The response is one of which we are justly proud. In spite of the fact that this is the only association on the campus which is limited entirely to theologs, it has entered teams in practically all branches of sport. Notable this year are the Volleyball and Water Polo Teams. In Volleyball the finals were reached; the Water Polo Team promises to be a strong contender for the championship and up to date has not been defeated.

The credit for the success of this Association goes not to any individuals but to the enthusiastic co-operation of the College as a whole.

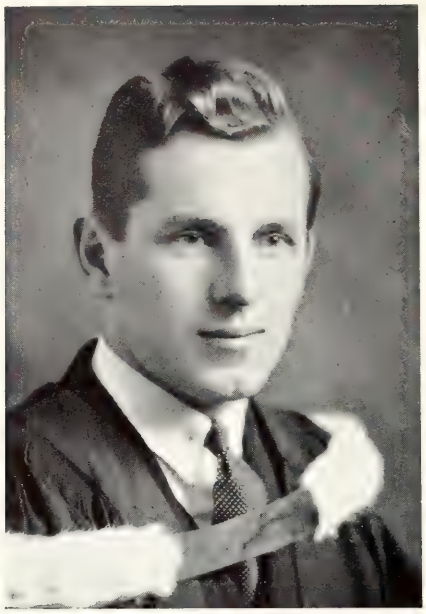
S.P.S. Athletic Association

CONGRATULATIONS, men of S.P.S. With the C.O.T.C. and the Training Centre Battalion taking up the majority of your extra hours, you have still found time to make 1940-41 the best year in the history of "School" athletics.

In the fall, the athletic machinery of this faculty got off to a flying start in the Intramural Sports schedule. Scarcely giving us time to get the summer dust off our slide-rules, the golf team hitch-hiked out to the Glen Eagles Country Club and chalked up School's first championship. History was made this year when the Junior and Senior Rugby teams swept through all opposition to finally share the Mulock Cup. Interfaculty Championships have also been won this year in Lacrosse, Swimming, Harrier, Track, and Novice Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing.

This faculty has potential champions in hockey and basketball with the baseball and water polo teams leading the parade in their respective groups. From all reports, we can look for the Squash team to repeat their championship drive of last year.

Thus, with more championship teams than you could shake a stick at, and quantity, combined with quality, it is little wonder that S.P.S., at this writing, is leading its closest competitor in the T. A. Reed Trophy competition by over 300 points.



The Bronze "S"

THIS year the graduating class has awarded its highest athletic honour to Stew Munro. For four years his team play and sportsmanship have featured many of School's games.

Coming here in 1937, he immediately began his career with the Junior Rugby Team. Not satisfied to be idle during the Spring Term, he joined the hockey and baseball ranks. When rugby practices began in the Fall, Stew was out there "bright and early". Hockey and baseball again claimed his spare moments during the Spring session. With the start of Third year Stew joined the Varsity Intermediate Rugby squad, and also played hockey and baseball for his faculty. During his final year he played on the championship Senior Rugby Team (joint champions with Junior School). Baseball and hockey took up much of his time and energy during the final hectic three months of his year.

To top this grand athletic record, Stew was awarded the Phene Memorial Trophy by his team-mates of the Senior School Rugby Team in recognition of his splendid work on the gridiron.

Besides these achievements, his executive ability has led him into the positions of Vice-President and President of his class respectively during the last two years, and he was elected to the Vice-President's position on the 4T1 Permanent Executive.

This all adds up to a very enviable record, and the Class of 4T1 wishes you every success. Good luck, Stew!

Medical Athletic Association

THE Medical Athletic Association is composed of the entire male student body in the Faculty of Medicine. A governing Executive which consists of a representative from each year is annually elected.

The Executive is comprised of an Honorary President, who is chosen from the Faculty, and a President, Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer which represent the Sixth, Fifth and Fourth years respectively. Besides the junior year representatives a reliable Quartermaster is chosen by the Executive to purchase and look after the athletic equipment.

With the temporary discontinuation of Intercollegiate athletics, competition in Interfaculty sports has been extremely vigorous in every field. The "Medsmen", as usual, entered a large number of teams such as Basketball, Volleyball, Baseball, Lacrosse, Squash, Junior and Senior Rugby, Soccer and Ski teams; all have represented the Faculty well. The Junior and Senior Water Polo teams are at present showing great promise as they strive toward championships.

On the whole, the Association is well pleased with the athletic progress made this year, fully realizing the tax on spare time, made by a full time-table and the new Training Centre Battalion, which take their toll of would-be competitors.

Dental Athletic Committee

THE Dental Athletic Committee is composed of the managers of all the different sports which the college enters in Interfaculty competition. The chairman of the committee is elected by the managers and represents the college on the Intramural Sports Committee.

The past year has found the college very high in the running for the Reed Trophy. The "A" Volleyball Team won the championship. Strong teams were also entered in Rugby, Lacrosse and Baseball.

This year's graduating class has been very active in Athletics and their loss will be strongly felt by the college.

To the incoming executive for 1941-1942, we extend our hope for a successful season.

Dental Athletics

ATHLETICS at the Faculty of Dentistry are controlled by the Athletic Committee. It is composed of members representing all the different branches of sport in which the Faculty has teams entered.

The President of Athletics is elected from this Committee and holds a seat on the Students' Cabinet and also represents the Faculty on its Intramural Sports Committee.

This year, the Dental Interfaculty Teams have been quite successful in the different sports and to the incoming executive may we extend our hopes for success in the 1941- 1942 session.

ATHLETIC activities this year suffered some restrictions. These were entirely self-imposed because of the small amount of time available for sports.

Some inter-year contests in bowling, basketball, and hockey were held and enthusiasm as always ran at a high level.

The spirit of competitive sport was kept alive by a basketball and hockey team. The basketball team played in a much smaller league, and emerged with top honours. The hockey team, as always, was a great credit to its colours.

WOMENS INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

University College Women's Athletics

THE sports season was started by the annual golf tournament, which was held at Mississauga Golf Club, and was sponsored by U.C. Marion Walker managed the tournament and also won the low gross.

The Interfaculty Tennis Tournament was played on St. Hilda's courts. Barbara Girdwood managed the U.C. team.

Since there were no intercollegiate sports this year, the interfaculty basketball matches were the important games. As usual, U.C. entered three teams in the league: The Seniors, coached by Andrina MacFarlane and managed by Eric Armstrong; the Juniors, coached by Helen Gurney and managed by Kay Coleman; and the Freshies, coached by Vivian O'Neil and managed by Lorraine Paton. The Juniors reached the finals, where they were defeated by Vic Seniors.

There was a very good entry in the badminton tournament. The finals in the singles were played between Shirley Geldert and Betty Allen. U.C. is doing well in the Interfaculty Tournaments which are being played at time of writing. Jean Wallace is managing the U.C. team. There is also a doubles tournament.

U.C. won the Women's Interfaculty Skiing Meet with Ann Trow, "Punch" Gallie and Barbara Bott playing first, second and third respectively. "Punch" Gallie was co-president of the University Ski Club, and Joan Carter the U.C. Representative.

U.C. won the very closely contested Interfaculty Swimming Meet. Betty Mortimer won the U.C. Meet. In the Intercollegiate Telegraphic Meet Charlotte Hahn, Dot Hobson, Betty Mortimer, Bobbie MacDonald and Joan Carter of U.C. swam in the different events. Marion Vanstone managed the U.C. Swimming Team. The enthusiastic Hockey Team coached by Tommy Jarvis and Wilkie Davey, and managed by Doris Ankerman, played in the finals of the Interfaculty Hockey against St. Hilda's.

St. Hilda's College Athletic Association

THE Athletic Association is run by a committee consisting of President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, together with heads of the various departments and a representative from the first year. This committee exists as the executive for the College Association, which comprises all students of St. Hilda's. The executive decides upon the agenda for the athletic meetings, at which all sports participated in are discussed.

The tennis champion is yet to be discovered in the Spring, but by the process of elimination Joan Griffith, Mary Skeeles, Connie Harrison, Elinor McLaughlin, Adine Seagram and Margaret Woods represented the college in the intramural tournament in which Mary Woods, our English freshie, reached the semi-finals.

Two basketball teams competed with the other colleges, and although the freshies put up a good fight and lost, the senior team advanced to the play-offs.

Golf and skiing are not our best accomplishments, but this year more girls entered the intramural meets than before and we are looking forward to bigger and better achievements in these fields. The ping-pong tournament is yet to be completed.

The swimming meet was run off in the O.C.E. pool with many entries, especially among the freshies. However, the senior year, starring Freddie Baxter, won top honours. The combination intramural and intercollegiate meet is to be held at Hart House with representatives from St. Hilda's.

This year badminton is played at St. Paul's Church, the doubles and singles championships still to be decided. Those who will represent us in the forthcoming intramural tournament are Tibs Annesley, Joan Griffith, Helen Harvie, Barbara Conway, Kitty Storey, Peggy Park.

Hockey, which for many years has been our most successful sport, again is showing promise. Joan Griffith, Tibs Annesley and Paddy Lampman are continuing their former good work, and with newcomers such as Kitty Storey and goalie Joey Wells, the team has not yet lost a game.

In addition to these college sports there are the inter-year basketball and hockey games, for which everybody turns out, and the play is conducted at least wholeheartedly, if not with technical precision.

The Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Athletic Association

THIS year our athletic association has been well supported by both courses. Our Basketball Team, coached by Jean Keefe, 3T9, reached the semi-final round in interfaculty competition. The whole team enjoyed those games and wants to thank its loyal supporters who turned out to cheer for O.T. and P. As we go to press, our hockey team is getting under way. Coach Jack May is hoping for some good games—so are we all. At St. Paul's Badminton Club, Betty Clarke is working up a team. Swimming and bowling teams are also in the offing. So here's success to them, and to the future of our association.

Producing The Varsity

1—The machinery which produces The Varsity every day is set in motion with the assigning of stories by the News Editor in the morning. 2—Questions asked, information garnered, the reporter writes the story. Seventy percent of the reporters are women; they write about twenty percent of the stories. 3—Most stories require considerable rewriting, done by News Editor, Managing Editor, and assistants, down at the Press at night. 4—Out of the scramble for typewriters, the finished stories emerge, are sent to linotype operator to be set up in lead. 5—The Assistant Night Editor has the dirty, tiring job of pulling proofs of each galley of type, for which he gets free lunch at midnight. 6—Worried, the Editor-in-Chief seeks solitude to pound out his 1200 words of editorials which, apart from listening to requests, complaints and even threats, take most of his time. The Women's Editor usually writes editorials two nights a week. 7—The crowd departs, but Night Editor and Assistant stay all night to write headlines, figure out makeup. 8—By five a.m. everything is ready to be put into the forms. Head by head, story by story, four pages are completed with much juggling and cutting. Forms are sent to presses, start rolling about eight a.m. 9—In the morning Masthead members, shown here mulling over dummy for 48-page Jubilee Issue, criticize the day's issue, point out mistakes to young Night Editors.

A GOOD JOB WELL DONE!

After the years you've spent in hard, painstaking work, winning your degree entitles you to congratulations for a good job well done! Here at EATON'S, we, too, have constantly endeavoured to do a worthwhile job as well as it could be done. In seventy-two years of business life, EATON'S has graduated from a small dry goods store to a nation-wide organization serving Canada from coast to coast. Wherever your careers take you throughout the Dominion, you can depend on EATON'S to provide you with reliable merchandise, honestly advertised and sold at prices which assure you of unsurpassed all-round value. That's the way we think our job should be done!

When Hamlet was at college..

The only souvenir college students of Hamlet's day took away with them was the odd sword scar, won in some duel of honour.

Students of a later day keep college memories fresh in more convenient fashion. They put twenty-six leaden soldiers to work and permanize their past.

Age Publications Limited enjoys helping University of Toronto students realize this objective handsomely, efficiently, inexpensively. With its staff of highly skilled craftsmen, its long experience in journal and book publications of all kinds, its well-equipped plant, its richly creative art, lay-out and copywriting departments, and its convenient location, it offers printing purchasers the acme of dollar-value.

The NORTHERN-HAMMOND ORGAN★

increases the* RANGE and BEAUTY *of any Orchestra

"I was quite truthfully amazed at the superlative quality of the instrument." —Eugene Ormandy

"To my ears it seems the finest organ ever built." —Percy Grainger

The Hammond Organ is an ideal instrument for educational institutions. It possesses an amazing range of tonal effects and volume.

A versatile instrument, it can be used for Assemblies, Chapel Services, to accompany Choirs or augment Orchestras.

Completely electrical, it cannot get out of tune—is unaffected by changes in temperature or humidity. Upkeep cost is reduced to a minimum.

And here are a few installations in Canadian Institutions:

Conservatory of Music, Toronto
Havergal Ladies College, Toronto
Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph
Queen's University, Kingston
Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B.
G. C. Lethbridge Studio, London
King's Hall College, Compton, P.Q.
Brentwood College, Victoria, B.C.

Priced from $1900 at Montreal

★ The Hammond Organ is called "NORTHERN-HAMMOND" in Canada and is manufactured by Northern Electric under license from the Hammond Instrument Company.

"Brains" for Boulder Dam

The steel-clad switchboards, "electrical brains" for the two new 82,500 kilowatt generators for Boulder Dam, are being built by Westinghouse. Two new water-wheel generators, also Westinghouse built, will supplement eight existing machines of identical rating, in addition to three smaller generators previously installed, and give Boulder Dam the world's largest concentration of electrical power.

Constant progress in every field of electrical development has won for Westinghouse the confidence and respect of all who buy or use electrical equipment in commerce, industry, transportation or the home.
